The home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bourdo on North avenue was the scene of a pleasant reception last evening, when more than 50 guests were present at the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary, marking 50 years of happy married life. Although Mr. and Mrs. Bourdo have lived in Burlington for 17 years, in their present home, they were married in Pittsfield, Mass., on September 27, 1865, and lived for many years in North Adams, Mass. Mrs. Bourdo was, before her marriage, Miss Melvina Quackenbush, of Pittsfield. They have no children, except an adopted son, Alfred Bourdo of East Hampton, Mass., who arrived in Burlington yesterday morning to be present at the happy occasion, and whose presence to each of his foster-parents was a ten-dollar gold piece.
The evening was spent with various forms of entertainment, there being a vocal solo by Mrs. M. W. Preston, and piano selections by the Misses Blodin, Miss Marion Holden and Mrs. F. L. Hanlon. Music was also furnished for dancing, which was indulged in by a large number of the younger people. WEDDED AT ST. JOSEPH'S.
Ceremony Followed by Breakfast with Reception in the Evening.
A pretty church wedding was solemnized at St. Joseph's church at eight o'clock yesterday morning when Monsignor Jerome M. Cloutier united Miss Grace Mary Guilmette, daughter of Mrs. Clara Guilmette of New State street, and St. Peter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip St. Peter, also of this city, in marriage before a large gathering of relatives and friends. The altar was prettily trimmed with flowers and palms, and vocal solos were rendered during the ceremony by Mrs. F. L. Pine and David Bolarge.
The maid of honor was Miss Stella Cardinal and the bridesmaids were the Misses Gladia Jerry, Laura King, Irene Croto and Gladys De Varennes. The little Misses Florence Brockney and Winona Aunchman acted as flower girls, and the ushers were Albert Brockney, Arthur Kennelly, Charles Guilmette and Edward Guilmette. The groom had as his best man Raymond Guilmette, brother of the bride.
The bride wore a gown of white crepe motor cut on train and trimmed with Chamilly lace and pearls. She also wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom, and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses and a pearl rosary. The maid of honor wore pink crepe de chene with a picture hat and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids were gowned in rainbow effects, wore carnation caps, and carried pink carnations. The flower girls wore frocks of white and carried pink carnations and asters. During the nuptial mass Mrs. Pine sang "Ave Maria" and "O Salutaris."
Following the ceremony at the church a breakfast was given for the wedding party and a number of guests and relatives at the bride's home. The color scheme at the house was white and yellow. In the evening the couple were tendered a largely attended reception at the Moose rooms on Main street where Cabana's orchestra furnished music for dancing until midnight. A buffet lunch was served during the evening.
The bride received many gifts of cut glass, money, silver and furniture. Her gifts to her maid of honor and bridesmaids were brooches, and the groom gave his best man and ushers scarf pins. Mr. and Mrs. St. Peter will for the present make their home with the bride's mother on Brew street. Mr. St. Peter is connected with the local branch of Green Brothers store.

France does not solicit our aid, makes no appeal or petition to our sympathies, but we do not forget how much we are indebted to France in the days of our struggle for independence. Washington was from Valley Forge. France by her supplies has saved us the yoke of fate and Lafayette, whose memorial statue occupies the place of honor on the campus of the University of Vermont, obtained a personal credit of £2,000 sterling to purchase shirts and shoes and other necessities for the colonial troops.
We are proud now if we can offer some slight recognition to France when she is fighting for her life.
The following quotations from private letters from France tell their own tale:
"We must appeal to private charity. In the beginning little money would have saved many lives of young men. It is between the ages of 15 and 25 most of them die. The mortality is fearful.
"To continue our work we must have money, bedding, washing and disinfecting apparatus and food."
"We have absolutely nothing here. Our men have no socks—they wear their dirty uniforms in bed. We have no clean shirts, no bed-jackets, no slippers. There are 350 wounded, sometimes 500. Most of the men are terribly injured. I help with the dressings and see some awful sights. Would be grateful for anything you might send. You have no idea how badly things are needed, practically everything."
The supplies will be sent through the French Wounded Emergency Fund, 53 Boylston street, Boston, as the quickest and easiest way to ensure proper packing and sterilization. This emergency fund receives and forwards every week to over 20 small hospitals in Normandy and Brittany. Later they will hope to extend the service through Bordeaux to the southern and western provinces, where the hospitals are especially in need of help.
A room has been offered in the parish house of St. Paul's church, where surgical supplies will be made every afternoon except Saturdays, from two to five o'clock, beginning Monday, September 27. Someone will be in charge to give the necessary instructions. The standard of work will be the highest. Cut out garments may be taken home to be made and returned.
An appeal is made to every woman in Burlington to give a little of her time or money to further this movement. In this way by a united effort the most gratifying results will be obtained.
Contributions are earnestly requested and may be sent to Miss Elsie Brown, Fern Hill, or Miss Evelyn Benedict, 146 Williams street.

RAILROAD YARD FIRE.
Blaze in Tool Shed Early This Morning Does Slight Damage.
An alarm from box 36 at Crane's mill called the fire department to the Central Vermont railroad yard shortly before one o'clock this morning. When the firemen arrived there was a brisk and persistent blaze in a tool shed which kept going, probably, on account of the building being soaked by oil from the locomotives which are filled there. The fire was extinguished before it got into an adjoining shed where a large quantity of oil was stored. But for the quick action of the department the damage, which was very slight, might have been much greater, as there were several Pullman cars on a track within four feet of the shed, one being so close that it was slightly scorched by the blaze before the firemen arrived.
