

TRACTION COMPANY DIGS OUT ONE LINE

Bizzard Which Began Thursday
Early Saturday Morning But
Snow Continues to Fall During Night Reaches Its Climax
the Day and Sunday

The belated blizzard which struck Burlington Thursday night and prevailed all day Friday spent its fury early Saturday morning, but snow continued to fall the greater part of Saturday and Sunday. People who had not their sleighs drawn away after the summer got them out again after using wheels through the drifts on Friday, and Monday, the last day of March and the tenth day of spring, had every appearance of midwinter in Burlington.

Trains ran about an hour late on Saturday and the rural carriers had not a little difficulty in making their trips. The Traction company made no effort to run their cars and as automobiles had a hard time making headway because of the snow and cold those who had no horse-drawn vehicles of their own or who were not fortunate enough to secure one of the limited number of hacks in the city were obliged to walk. One South Union street man who because of foot trouble was unable to walk, waited an hour at his home before he could secure a hack to take him to his place of business. Naturally, every kind of a turnout used the middle of the street and when the Traction company started out to open their line Sunday they found the rails buried under several inches of snow that had been packed down almost as hard as ice. The snow plow was powerless and a large gang of men, armed with pickaxes and shovels, were set to work. The snow plow followed them and in this way the Pine street line was opened during the day. Nothing was toward opening the South Union street line.

Officials of the Traction company state that in the 26 years they have been doing business they have never experienced such difficulties as Friday's storm furnished. Among other things, four of the cars have been off the track and the feed wires broke because of the load of ice which they carried.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS

List of unclaimed letters in the Burlington postoffice for the week ending March 29, 1919:

WOMEN'S LIST

Miss Margaret Brenell, Mrs. Mary Bunney, Mrs. Mary Blaisdell, Miss Nettie Bennett, Mrs. Mary Bernard, Miss Josephine Buttrick, Mrs. Laura Bullard, Miss Mary Cross, Miss Ada Cross, Dorothy Chase, Mrs. Rosanna Drown, Miss Helen Freeman, Mandy Gokey, Evelyn Harold, Dortha Ingalls, Miss Mollie Kingston, Miss Louise Landry, Miss Bessie Miller, Miss Julia Mende, Miss Alice O'Brien, Miss Georgiana Pottin, Stacie Reed, Mrs. Helen Root, Miss Mary Root, Mrs. J. C. Robison, Mrs. J. Scanton, Mrs. J. L. Spaulding, Miss Lydia Stewart, Dora Smith, Myrtle Wheeler.

MEN'S LIST

Robert Alexander, Frank Brand, Chas. Bureth, Mose, John Cliff, E. Cobb, E. A. Foster & Co., D. C. Fuller, Hollis Guyette, Will Goodrich, Albert M. Hall, (D. F.), P. T. Loneragan, Tom Murray, E. McKenney, Chas. Mason, Herbert Pratt, J. M. Ripley, A. S. Reynolds, F. C. Snow, W. Smith, Hollis Turner, C. V. Wry, Prof. C. B. Wright.

HOME ECONOMICS AGENT

Miss Hazel Cassidy of Hinesburg named for Position on Farm Bureau

Miss Hazel Cassidy, a graduate of the home economics department of the University of Vermont and a young lady of much experience in the line, has been appointed as home economics agent for the county under the direction of the Chittenden County Farm Bureau. The new appointee commenced work Tuesday morning. Miss Cassidy resides in Hinesburg but will remove to Burlington soon. She has the reputation of being a canning kitchen at Middlebury last summer, which was such a success. One of the first events which she will institute in her new position will be the establishment of similar canning kitchens at Hinesburg and at Richmond.

"For the Land's Sake Use Bowker's fertilizers. They enrich the earth and those who till it." (adv.) 19, wjt30.

LEGUMINOUS CROPS

Chittenden County's Farm Bureau to Push This Important Work

The Chittenden County Farm Bureau association is to push the work of growing leguminous forage crops this season. These crops are of great recognized value to farmers, especially those who are operating farms. The crops of alfalfa, clover, soybeans, etc., and a special committee in each town or community center will assist County Agent Roy W. Peaslee in the development of this important project. The use of lime and inoculating material for these crops is also being pushed. The following is the list of co-operators with the farm bureau in each community: A. B. Rice, Westford; W. V. Ring, Jericho Corner; Frank Talbot, Williston; Ernest Williams, Hinesburg; J. P. Ramsey, West Charlotte; H. J. Ellis, Huntington; F. A. Phillips, Bolton; M. E. Thompson, Colchester; N. W. Church, Essex Center; Walter LaBounty, East Charlotte; Harry Hall, Jericho Center; E. A. Rhodes, Richmond; B. L. Munger, West Bolton.

By their co-operation a larger number of farmers can be reached than by the county agent working alone. Anyone who wants his soil tested, who needs inoculating material or help with any of the leguminous crops should let his committee know at once. The committee agent will see to it that the committee calls on all who wish such help.

BONUS FOR SOLDIERS

Army Recruiting Officers Prepared to Help in Collection

The following instructions regarding the payment of the bonus of sixty dollars to men discharged from the United States army prior to the passing of the bill authorizing such payment have been received by the various army recruiting stations throughout the country:

All discharged officers and enlisted men who do not wish to forward their discharge certificate to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Washington, D. C., may furnish a certified copy of the discharge certificate to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

A letter addressed to the zone finance officer, Lamon building, Wash.

The T.S. PECK
INSURANCE AGENCY
152 COLLEGE ST.
EST. 1889 - INC. 1912
PHONE-513

The first law of nature is self-protection. Use this law in modern form by protecting yourself against the possibility of financial disaster by insuring your life with the T.S. Peck Insurance Agency.

ington, D. C., stating the soldier's service since April 6, 1917, the date of last discharge and the present address to which they desire their bonus check to be sent will be presented to the nearest recruiting officer of the army, who will certify on the margin of the back of the original discharge certificate of the fact that a copy of same has been forwarded to Washington for the purpose of obtaining the bonus. The original will then be returned to the owner.

Sergeant Steltz of the army recruiting station in Burlington will be prepared with duplicate discharge forms and form letters to the zone finance officer by the first of next week. These forms may be procured by calling or writing to the "Army Recruiting Station, Church and College streets, Burlington."

Sergeant Steltz will be glad to furnish any other information relative to obtaining the bonus or other information of interest to the returned soldiers or their friends and relatives.

PROMOTIONS FOR U. S. MEN

Word of recent promotions of Vermont men show that Harry G. Williams of the class of 1906, has been promoted from first lieutenant to captain in the medical corps. He is stationed at field hospital 35, A. E. F., also that Alfred A. Benton of the class of 1908 has been promoted from first lieutenant, medical corps to captain. He has seen a year's service abroad and is now in the base hospital at Camp Lee, Va.

VERMONT STATE SEAL

Some One in New York Has Queer Conception of What It Is

One of the features of the big parade in New York city March 25 in honor of the return from France of the 27th Division was a "court of honor" on the marble esplanade in front of the public library on Fifth avenue between 40th and 42d streets. There sat veterans of the Civil War and the Spanish-American War, from all the 48 States, and at the base of the ten pylons of burnished spears and shields had been deposited wreaths and what were designed to be the coats of arms or seals for each State in the Union. These wreaths and seals were said to have been sent from each State.

The Free Press has received from a New York news photo service a photograph of the thing which was supposed to be the Vermont State seal. No cut will be made by this paper from the picture, simply to illustrate the absurdity. In this connection the Rutland News makes this pertinent comment:

"The seal resembled Vermont's seal as closely as a hippopotamus resembles a Memorial library. Its background was an iceberg or possibly Mr. McKinley. In the right foreground was a structure of lemon-yellow of Spanish or Moorish type of architecture that looked like a cross between a monastery and a haybarn. In the foreground was a palm tree. The wreath was made up of greens that grew everywhere and a bulbous or cone-shaped flower that grew everywhere in Vermont and which the tenth person asked (the first nine hadn't the slightest idea what it was) said it was a red hot pocus.

VIOLATED DEER ACT

Charge Made Against Harold Varney of Pittsburg, N. H.

Harold Varney, who lives in Pittsburg, N. H., will be prosecuted in this district by United States Attorney Bullard for shipping three wild deer contrary to law. The information has been filed against him in the district court as he is suspected of taking the deer in Vermont. Varney is charged with shipping the deer to Boston and Connecticut points. It is presumed that the deer were taken illegally in Vermont as no man is allowed to take more than one during the season. The deer were shipped in a large box, the shipping of which was illegal, and Varney will be prosecuted under this act.

BURLINGTON BOY BECOMES AD- VERTISING MANAGER OF NEW YORK TECHNICAL PUBLI- CATION

Alfred B. Moore, eldest son of Mrs. Capt. J. H. Moore, eldest son of Mrs. Capt. J. H. Moore, has just been discharged from the army, has joined the staff of The Gas Age, New York, as advertising manager. Captain Moore is a graduate of the University of Vermont, class of 1914, and is a member of the Lambda Iota Fraternity. For three years previous to entering the service he was employed on the staff of the Iron Age, New York, in the advertising sales promotion department, and subsequently as assistant manager of The Hardware Age, New York.

At the age of once commissioned a first lieutenant in the ordnance department and assigned to duty at Sandy Hook proving grounds. When the new proving grounds were established at Aberdeen, Md., Lieut. Moore was transferred to that post to organize and take charge of the department for the purchase and storage of materials, the employment of labor, and the keeping of all cost records. He was commissioned a captain early in 1918, having completed a course of study in two army schools, the advanced school of application at Sandy Hook and the advanced school of engineering at Aberdeen.

Friends of Captain Moore in this city will be pleased to hear that he has been discharged from the army and that he is again actively engaged in business in New York city.

MEETS IN BURLINGTON FROM AUGUST 4 TO 10

Northern New England School of Religious Education to Hold Sessions This Year at University of Vermont and New Hampshire State College

Because of the probable fourth term this year at Dartmouth College, the Northern New England School of Religious Education, known before it was incorporated last year as the Twin-State school, will not be held at Hanover as in former years.

Two sessions will be held however, with faculty and program surpassing anything yet attempted and there is already indication of a record breaking enrollment.

The co-operating colleges will be the University of Vermont, where the first session will be held from August 4 to 10, inclusive, and the second at the New Hampshire State College, Durham, August 11 to 17.

Both of these educational institutions were most cordial in their invitation to the school, and the arrangements in each instance for quartering the students and for their entertainment out of school hours are most attractive.

Mrs. Nellie T. Hendrick of Nashua, N. H., dean and director of the school, has secured the faculty and under her direction the general program is being rapidly whipped into shape.

The churches of Burlington are taking keen interest in the session to be held in this city and have pledged at the very least 100 students. It is the policy of the school to devote the forenoon and evenings to study and the afternoons to excursions. Lake Champlain and the Green Mountains offering alluring attractions, while at Durham, in addition to the excursions to points of interest, there will be a religious convention in Smith park, and on the unusually fine athletic field.

The faculty will be representative of the colleges of the East and includes religious educational experts of national fame. Among them are Professor Charles Foster of New York, Professor H. W. Wood of Dartmouth, who will give Bible courses; the Rev. Milton S. Littlefield, D. D., of New York city, writer of graded lessons, will have charge of the young people's division work and will give special courses for pastors and superintendents of the Civil War and the Spanish-American War, from all the 48 States, and at the base of the ten pylons of burnished spears and shields had been deposited wreaths and what were designed to be the coats of arms or seals for each State in the Union. These wreaths and seals were said to have been sent from each State.

The Free Press has received from a New York news photo service a photograph of the thing which was supposed to be the Vermont State seal. No cut will be made by this paper from the picture, simply to illustrate the absurdity. In this connection the Rutland News makes this pertinent comment:

"The seal resembled Vermont's seal as closely as a hippopotamus resembles a Memorial library. Its background was an iceberg or possibly Mr. McKinley. In the right foreground was a structure of lemon-yellow of Spanish or Moorish type of architecture that looked like a cross between a monastery and a haybarn. In the foreground was a palm tree. The wreath was made up of greens that grew everywhere and a bulbous or cone-shaped flower that grew everywhere in Vermont and which the tenth person asked (the first nine hadn't the slightest idea what it was) said it was a red hot pocus.

"Of course, the seal and the wreath never saw Vermont. The incident is simply a little side-saddle, and further proof of the weakness, the hollowness, the trickiness, if not downright dishonesty of the Hearst-Hillman rule in New York."

THEY HIT THE SPOT

D. McMillen, Volunteer Fireman of Hinesburg, writes: "Foley Kidney Pills are like a stream of water played on a fire by firemen. They hit the spot, put out the fire and draw the pain." Foley Kidney Pills relieve rheumatic pain, backache, sore muscles and other symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble. -J. W. O'Sullivan, 20 Church St. (Adv.)

IN IRELAND

A young fellow wrote to a firm in the south of Ireland which was selling razors at five shillings each. This is the style of his letter:

"Please send me one of your razors, for which I enclose P. O. for five shillings."

"P. S.—I have forgotten to inclose the five shillings, but no doubt a firm of your standing will send one."

"They replied:

"We beg to acknowledge your esteemed order, and have pleasure in sending the razor, which we trust you will like."

"P. S.—We have forgotten to inclose the razor, but no doubt a fellow of your cheek would need one."—Shots.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, AND CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

Published Weekly Free Press, published at Burlington, Vermont, on April 1, 1919.

State of Vermont, County of Chittenden.

I, Before me, a notary public, in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared W. B. Bates, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the business manager of the Burlington Free Press, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, and circulation of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, entitled "An act to regulate the publication of newspapers and periodicals, and to provide for the registration of such publications."

That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager are:

Name of Managing Editor, J. L. Southwick, 100 State St., Burlington, Vt.

Name of Publisher, W. B. Bates, 100 State St., Burlington, Vt.

Name of Editor, W. B. Bates, 100 State St., Burlington, Vt.

Name of Business Manager, W. B. Bates, 100 State St., Burlington, Vt.

Name of Circulation Manager, W. B. Bates, 100 State St., Burlington, Vt.

Name of Advertising Manager, W. B. Bates, 100 State St., Burlington, Vt.

Name of Printing Manager, W. B. Bates, 100 State St., Burlington, Vt.

Name of Distribution Manager, W. B. Bates, 100 State St., Burlington, Vt.

was for several months in the hospital. His mother, who has been "bored" in good physical condition otherwise at that time. It was not until a few weeks ago that Mrs. Ordway learned that he was in Washington. She went down to see him but the shock of his death was too much for her and she could not recognize her. A telegram received Monday night saying that he was ill was the first intimation she had of any unfavorable developments. She left with another telegram, received in the afternoon from the war department, told of the man's death.

Drowne was 31 years of age and became a soldier in the service. They all of whom were in the service. They the Harold, who is now overseas, Henry F. of Buffalo, N. Y., and George, who is attending Kenyon College, at Gambier, Ohio.

TO GET LEAGUE PRICE

Borden's Plants in State Not to Discriminate Against Vermonters

The management of the Borden's Condensed Milk company of New York has agreed to pay the farmers who turn out large quantities of milk in Vermont, the same prices that the farmers of the New York Dairyman's League are being paid in New York and Vermont for their products.

This agreement took effect Tuesday and was brought about through the energetic efforts of President Gaylord Baldwin of Hinesburg and other officers of the Hinesburg branch of the New York Dairyman's League. The local plants refused during February and March to pay the League price but the condensaries of New York paid the League price. After a threat to have the milk supply of the concern cut off, the plants agreed to pay the League price and several conferences with the League officials and officials of the Borden's, the company agreed to the demands.

This condition must come from one of two sources. It is either the fault of the producer or farmer, or of the handler or jobber. The shippers lay all the blame on to the farmer. The analysis has not been made on the milk taken because the chemists are in France, but this will be done as soon as possible. The science has not yet reached such a fine point that not only can the number of bacteria be ascertained but to a large extent it can be learned where the dirt came from. For instance, there are certain bacteria which can only come from the cow and by learning what the bacteria are, it is possible to find out where the dirt came from. In addition to the prosecution for dirt, concern will be prosecuted for diluting milk.

COUNTY COURT APRIL 8

Will Re-convene at That Date at 2 O'clock in the Afternoon

Chittenden county court will reconvene on Tuesday, April 8, at two o'clock in the afternoon. Judge Sherman R. Moulton and Assistant Judges Clinton A. Barber and Charles H. Hildreth will be on the bench. At the opening of the court cases will be taken up and disposed of during the week.

The petit jurors drawn have been notified not to appear until the following morning, April 9, at nine o'clock in the morning. During that time the jury cases will be taken up. It is probable that at this time the case of the Rev. Orlando E. Allen of this city against Frederick E. Bick of Swanton will go on trial.

MASONIC ELECTION

Burlington Lodge No. 100 Elects C. H. Harrington, Worthy Master

Burlington Lodge No. 100, A. F. and A. M., held its annual communication at the Masonic Temple Tuesday and elected C. H. Harrington worthy master. There was a large attendance at the meeting, after which a banquet was served. The elected officers follow: W. M. C. H. Harrington; S. W. S. A. Rand; J. W. S. F. Jenks; treasurer, H. H. Ross; secretary, L. J. Paige; S. D. H. O. Hutchinson; J. D. Frank Cushman.

The appointed officers were named as follows: S. S. R. B. Lamson; J. S. W. H. Douglas; chaplain, the Rev. C. J. Staples; organist, W. M. Walker; Tyler, William Steel.

THE YOUNGEST MAJOR

Honor Apparently Belongs to F. W. Hackett, U. S. M. 1917

It is probable that to the University of Vermont belongs the honor of having among its graduates the youngest major in the United States army. Major Fred W. Hackett of the class of 1917 is not yet 22 years old and that fact occasioned the following letter to the editor of the New York Times in its issue of last Sunday:

"Early in December, several, perhaps all, of the newspapers contained accounts of the entry of the American forces into Coblenz. I quote from one of them:

"A rosy-cheeked, clean-shaven New York boy, a major of the regular army, of Vermont, believed to be the youngest of the fortresses of Coblenz this afternoon. * * * He was Major Fred W. Hackett of Champlain, N. Y., and his battalion, which has the honor of being the first to reach Germany's noted river, was a unit of the 33rd Infantry, Royal New York State." "In view of the fact that much has been said of the youth of some of our officers, and that it has been noted in your columns that a major of 25 years probably is the youngest in the service, it may be of interest to some of your readers to know that the youngest major in the United States army is not yet 22 years old. Having led his class throughout the war, he was graduated from the University of Vermont in 1917 into the regular army as a second lieutenant. He took the training at the officers' school at Plattsburg and was once commissioned a first lieutenant. Last summer he was promoted to a captain and in October or early November he received his commission as major. I wonder if he is the youngest major in the American army."

"WILLIAM H. H. HALL.
New York, March 27, 1919."

ICE SKY HIGH

Will Cost 80 Cents a Hundred Pounds
This Year, Cash in Advance

The price of ice delivered to houses in this city has been fixed at 80 cents per hundred pounds, which is the price charged for coupon books, no matter what the size. The ice delivered to drug stores and other large consumers, where the expense of delivery is less, will be 60 cents per hundred pounds. Last year when the ice was cut in broad lake, the price delivered to houses was 55 cents per hundred. The increase in price is explained by the great cost of getting ice into Burlington from Plattsburg, where it was put on freight cars and shipped into Burlington. That will not be enough ice in Burlington at any rate, unless consumers are very economical in its use, as the crop is only about one-half the amount consumed under normal conditions. At the price the company finds it necessary to charge, it is not likely that much will be wasted.

The management of the Standard Ice & Ice Co. announces that the ice business this year will be conducted on a strict cash basis.

STOLE FROM WIDOW

Charge on Which Burton MacLane Is Wanted in Baltimore

Thomas P. O'Donnell, lieutenant of Baltimore, Md., arrived in the city Monday and took with him return Burton MacLane, who was arrested at his boarding house on School street by the Burlington police department at the request of the Baltimore police on a charge of stealing $3.40 from a widow.

According to the statement of the police, MacLane appears to be a pretty smooth article, fell in with a widow, Mrs. H. J. Walker, who was possessed of a neat fortune. By means of a marriage claimed by the police to be a mock ceremony performed at a New York hotel MacLane secured possession of her money and lived with her for more than a week. The couple traveled over this part of the country extensively, and a little more than two months ago MacLane brought the subject of the purchase of a home in the woman who was his wife. She consented and turned over to him of $3,400 to him.

Business Manager.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this last day of April, 1919.

W. H. MURDOCK.
(My commission expires January 31, 1921.)

GOVERNMENT INSISTS ON PURE MILK SUPPLY

Present Prices Preclude Any Excess for the Polluted or Diluted Variety—Eight Cases
Pending Against Boston Dealers—Producers Are Warned

The United States government is stepping into the business of seeing to it that the public gets a pure supply of milk and at the present time conditions are being pretty carefully investigated about Vermont, with the result that at least eight cases are pending against Boston dealers, and some producers or farmers are likely to get into trouble over the business.

The prosecutions will be made under the pure food and drug act. The actions are all against concerns which have been selling large quantities of milk in Vermont. The prosecutions are at the instigation and recommendation of the agricultural department. All the prosecutions are for transporting in interstate commerce polluted milk, and milk said to be filthy and containing decomposed animal matter, all of which arises from the bacteria count in the milk. In some cases the bacteria count was said to be 3,000,000 per cubic centimeter when the number allowed is only 100,000.

This condition must come from one of two sources. It is either the fault of the producer or farmer, or of the handler or jobber. The shippers lay all the blame on to the farmer. The analysis has not been made on the milk taken because the chemists are in France, but this will be done as soon as possible. The science has not yet reached such a fine point that not only can the number of bacteria be ascertained but to a large extent it can be learned where the dirt came from. For instance, there are certain bacteria which can only come from the cow and by learning what the bacteria are, it is possible to find out where the dirt came from. In addition to the prosecution for dirt, concern will be prosecuted for diluting milk.

With the price of milk up where it is, the government officials are determined that people shall get what they pay for. The price is pretty good, and in the opinion of some of the reason that the jobbers in Boston have stopped taking milk from a certain section of the State is not that the market is glutted at this time, when milk is not over plentiful as a rule. It looks to some people as though the jobbers believe that they can take chances on the Vermont product, and the part of the State where the have cut off their business connections. It is not unlikely that some farmers will be prosecuted soon on the same charge as the shippers, for the government people will go to the bottom of it.

With the price of milk up where it is, the government officials are determined that people shall get what they pay for. The price is pretty good, and in the opinion of some of the reason that the jobbers in Boston have stopped taking milk from a certain section of the State is not that the market is glutted at this time, when milk is not over plentiful as a rule. It looks to some people as though the jobbers believe that they can take chances on the Vermont product, and the part of the State where the have cut off their business connections. It is not unlikely that some farmers will be prosecuted soon on the same charge as the shippers, for the government people will go to the bottom of it.

With the price of milk up where it is, the government officials are determined that people shall get what they pay for. The price is pretty good, and in the opinion of some of the reason that the jobbers in Boston have stopped taking milk from a certain section of the State is not that the market is glutted at this time, when milk is not over plentiful as a rule. It looks to some people as though the jobbers believe that they can take chances on the Vermont product, and the part of the State where the have cut off their business connections. It is not unlikely that some farmers will be prosecuted soon on the same charge as the shippers, for the government people will go to the bottom of it.

With the price of milk up where it is, the government officials are determined that people shall get what they pay for. The price is pretty good, and in the opinion of some of the reason that the jobbers in Boston have stopped taking milk from a certain section of the State is not that the market is glutted at this time, when milk is not over plentiful as a rule. It looks to some people as though the jobbers believe that they can take chances on the Vermont product, and the part of the State where the have cut off their business connections. It is not unlikely that some farmers will be prosecuted soon on the same charge as the shippers, for the government people will go to the bottom of it.

With the price of milk up where it is, the government officials are determined that people shall get what they pay for. The price is pretty good, and in the opinion of some of the reason that the jobbers in Boston have stopped taking milk from a certain section of the State is not that the market is glutted at this time, when milk is not over plentiful as a rule. It looks to some people as though the jobbers believe that they can take chances on the Vermont product, and the part of the State where the have cut off their business connections. It is not unlikely that some farmers will be prosecuted soon on the same charge as the shippers, for the government people will go to the bottom of it.

With the price of milk up where it is, the government officials are determined that people shall get what they pay for. The price is pretty good, and in the opinion of some of the reason that the jobbers in Boston have stopped taking milk from a certain section of the State is not that the market is glutted at this time, when milk is not over plentiful as a rule. It looks to some people as though the jobbers believe that they can take chances on the Vermont product, and the part of the State where the have cut off their business connections. It is not unlikely that some farmers will be prosecuted soon on the same charge as the shippers, for the government people will go to the bottom of it.

With the price of milk up where it is, the government officials are determined that people shall get what they pay for. The price is pretty good, and in the opinion of some of the reason that the jobbers in Boston have stopped taking milk from a certain section of the State is not that the market is glutted at this time, when milk is not over plentiful as a rule. It looks to some people as though the jobbers believe that they can take chances on the Vermont product, and the part of the State where the have cut off their business connections. It is not unlikely that some farmers will be prosecuted soon on the same charge as the shippers, for the government people will go to the bottom of it.

With the price of milk up where it is, the government officials are determined that people shall get