THE CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL

"My dear sir," responded the delinquent to the representative who called, "those collection letters from your firm are the best ever. I am sending copies out to the trade, and it's wonderful how many old accounts I have collected. I haven't paid my bill, because I felt sure there was another letter in the series.' I have had some hard customers to deal with, and I needed the last letter."—Harper's Magazine.

The home-hunters are watching—interestedly—the real estate and renting ads.

WARNED OFF

A little girl of seven, who hated being called in the morning, tried to think up some way to avoid it. The next morning her mother found this notice pinned on her coverlet: "Trespassers on my dreems will be prosekuted."—Boston Transcript.

EXPECT ARREST IN MURDER CASE

Officials Believed Ready to Lay Hands on Mrs. Broadwell's Assailant

Montpelier, May 14.—Sheriff F. H. Tracey this afternoon took Gabriel Bianchi before Attorney-General Archibald for further information relative to his whereabouts the night of the murder. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Gertrude Hunt was taken before the same officer. The much-heralded arrest that was to occur this evening had not taken place up to a late hour to-night. The matter of whether Mrs. Hunt was at the Parker House the night of the murder is established and stories about whether Long was there seem to disagree. More information relative to the use of the automobile is developing, it is claimed. A court reporter being used this afternoon it is thought that an inquest is being conducted, that the testimony which has been given in the matter will be the same when the case comes to trial. It looks now as though an arrest will occur in the next 48 hours.

The officials refused absolutely to comment on the progress of the investigation, but the continued summoning of witnesses, taken in conjunction with the peculiar undercurrent which goes with the investigation of a murder case, indicated that the inquiry might be coming to a swift denoement.

It is known now that an automobile figured in the case. It will be recalled that Mr. Broadwell, husband of the murdered woman, made the statement the day the body was found that he spent the greater part of Sunday morning, May 4, seeking his wife.

In the course of his search he went to a house on South Main street, where he had had occasion to go before in search of Mrs. Broadwell. Standing in the yard of the South Main street house was an automobile, the number of which Mr. Broadwell took down and later in the day presented to the officials when the finding of Mrs. Broadwell's body started the search for the murderer.

The car in question was a Saxon which a South Main street automobile dealer had let out on trial to a possible purchaser, the name of whom is known to the officials. It is said this man is the same person who has been identified as having purchased food at a store on South Main street Saturday evening, some of the food being meat corresponding to the partly digested food found in Mrs. Broadwell's stomach after examination by the State Laboratory of Hygiene at Burlington.

This car is known to have been in the southern end of the town, which is the location of the house that has been under examination and also is known to have been near Keith avenue, which is near the scene of the murder.

In the meantime, the three persons who have been under restraint, Mrs. Belle Parker and George Long of Barre, and Gabriel Bianchi of Montpelier, are still in the same position as Tuesday, while Mrs. Gertrude Hunt is held as a witness in the case.

POLICY HOLDERS GET PROFITS

Green Mountain Mutual Fire Insurance Company Has $200,000 Capital—H. J. M. Jones President

Montpelier, May 14.—The meeting of the subscribers of the guaranty fund of the Green Mountain Mutual Fire Insurance company, Inc., of Montpepier for the purpose of organizing the company was held this afternoon at the rooms of the Capital Savings Bank & Trust company and the following trustees were elected: E. H. Deavitt, Montpelier; C. E. Schoff, St. Albans; H. J. M. Jones, Montpelier; J. W. Fowler, Manchester; Martin A. Brown, Wilmington; G. L. Blanchard, Montpelier; L. A. Cobb, Island Pond; S. A. Daniels, Brattleboro; Max L. Powell, Burlington; H. I. Volholm, Montpelier; H. B. Noyes, St. Johnsbury; Harry Daniels, Montpelier; James T. Dewey, Queeche; William E. Harlow, Montpelier; William A. Ellis, Montpelier.

The trustees met after the meeting and elected the following officers: President, H. J. M. Jones; first vice-president, G. L. Blanchard; second vice-president, C. E. Schoff; secretary and managing underwriter, W. A. Ellis; treaurer, E. H. Deavitt.

A large number of prominent Vermonters were present, as a great deal of interest has been taken in this new company, it being the first Vermont fire insurance company to be charted and operated on the plan of dividing the profits with the policy holders. There is a keen rivalry among the agents of the State to see who will represent them in their respective towns. The trustees are all well known business men and connected with the various industries and banking interests of the State.

The company has an authorized capital or guaranty fund of $200,000 and it is the intention of the company to do business throughout the New England States and as there is a demand for this kind of insurance among the insuring public the prospects for successful corporation are very bright.

MOTORISTS LOSE LICENSES

Four Men Can No Longer Drive Cars—Law Being Strictly Enforced

Montpelier, May 14.—Secretary of State Harry Black has cancelled the licenses which four persons in different sections of the State so that they will be unable to operate their automobiles until their licenses are re-granted. There is a close checking up of the manner in which the automobile drivers are handling themselves this year.

Those who lost their licenses yesterday were: F. Barbagello of Rutland, Lloyd Sabin of St. Albans, Arthur Cota of Swanton, and Clayton Ellsworth of Ferrisburg. Cota and Sabin lost their licenses because they were in accidents, while the others lost their because of reasons which are not given.

Other complaints have been received by the office and are under investigation.

HENRY J. HEINZ DIES

Pittsburg, May 14.—Henry J. Heinz, president of the H. J. Heinz company, a pickling and preserving corporation of international prominence, died at his home here late to-day following a short illness. Mr. Heinz, born in this city in 1844, was well known as a philanthropist and a Sunday school worker. Two daughters, Miss Henrietta D. Heinz of Pittsburg and Mrs. John L. Given of New York, and three sons, Clarence N. Heinz of Lake Geneva, Wis., Howard and Clifford S. Heinz, of Pittsburg survive. Howard Heinz, former food administrator, of Pennsylvania is in Europe on a government mission.

HOLY CROSS BEATS VERMONT, 4 TO 2

Kibbee Has a Bad Seventh, Which, with Burns' Error, Gives Game to the Purple

Worcester, Mass., May 14.—Vermont lost its first game of the season here to-day against Holy Cross. Kibbee, the Vermont pitcher worked well, but received poor support. Not until the seventh frame did Holy Cross do any scoring and then two two-baggers, a walk and a bad error by Burns gave the Purple three runs. In the eighth two singles and a sacrifice added another tally for Holy Cross. Vermont scored in the second when, with one down, Palmer was safe on an error and tallied on Burns' long triple to right center. Burns, however, did not touch first base and was called out robbing himself of the hit. Tryon grounded out. In the fourth Vermont tallied with two out. Smith drove a liner at Gagnon, who made a pretty stop but threw wild to first and Smith went to second, scoring on Palmer's hit to center. Vermont's inability to hit Gill kept back the runs.

McCallum Silk Hosiery

Since we first introduced this make of silk hose in this vicinity, it hs become so generally and so favorably known that the name McCALLUM is sufficient to assure a degree of satisfaction that, is to say the least, unqualified.

We feel a distinct pride in this article of merchandise also in the fact that we have the exclusive agency for it in this vicinity.

An article that possesses many superior qualities which can scarcely be understood without examination. The shape first is an exceedingly important point; second, the finish. The strongly reinforced points and a degree of perfection that is not easily obtained—possibly in not any other make of silk stocking.

The new stocks that have just been received from the mill include black and white in the various qualities, also the fashionable colors that will be wanted this season to match the shoes or the costume.

A special display at the Hosiery Counter to-day will be one of this store's leading and most interesting exhibits.

THE BURLINGTON MARKETS

Five-Cent Drop in Price of Butter, for Which, Thanks

Wednesday, May 14, 1919.

A drop in butter is one of the pleasant features of the market. The retail price is quoted at 68 cents and the wholesale at 62½ cents.

Strawberres are steadily going down, and to-day are listed at 30 to 35 cents per basket.

Rhubard is 15 cents a pound.

Further increases are noted in the retail grain quotations to-day. Cornmeal is quoted at $4, cracked corn at the same figure. Provender No. 1 is $3.50.

No changes at all are found in the meat quotations to-day.

The following prices for the market of this week were quoted for the Free Press by P. D. Kelley, grocer; R. E. Howard, meat dealer; the Burlington Fruit company and the A. D. Pease Feed company.
