UNIVERSITY NOTES

Underclass Night Activities Won by Freshmen for First Time in Years

The annual events of underclass night occurred Monday night under the direction and jurisdiction of the Boulder society. The scene of the events was the campus of the university. The dummy rushes took place on the front campus. The first rush was similar to that held for many years past. The sophomores were given the dummy between seven and eight o'clock, and hid it. They could not bury it or place it more than three feet above the ground. The rush lasted seven minutes, and was won by the sophomores. The dummy was held by them throughout the rush concealed by one of their number dressed as a girl among a number of sophomores co-eds. The sophs were in the cage all during the rush, not knowing that it was going on. The second rush, known as the "tree rush," was an innovation. Five footballs were placed in the crotches of five different trees, with sophomores and freshmen an equal distance from the trees. At a given signal, both classes rushed for the trees to gain possession of the dummies. Victory in this rush went to the sophomore who held three of the five dummies and tied for a fourth. Each dummy counted five points for the class holding it at the end of the seven minutes.

Following the dummy rushes, the keg rush took place in the cage. In this, two teams of ten men each picked from the two classes attempted to force the keg from a place in the center into each others territory. The rush lasted five minutes and was won by the freshmen to whom fifteen points were credited. Ten added points were given them by the Boulder society as a penalty because one freshman was hindered by bystanders.

The boxing and wrestling followed. The boxing was for the best two out of three rounds. In the lightweight matches, Mahoney '22, and Dyke, '23, were the contestants. In the first round Dyke secured a fall by the use of the body scissors. Mahoney did not return to the bout because of an injury to his side. In the lightweight boxing, Penta, '23, outfought 'Hank' Bostwick, '22, and was given a straight decision.

The middleweight events were both won by the sophomores. Lougee, '22, defeated O'Brien, '23, in two straight falls. Burns, '22, had the better of Sugg, '23, in a hard fought boxing bout of three full rounds.

On the heavyweight matches, the result of the evening's events rested, and in the wrestling, Rand, '22, and Rowell, '23, fought a hard match. In the first round, Rand's shoulder was injured, but he put up a plucky fight and finished the match. While Rowell got a fall in the first round, in the second and third Rand had the freshman all but down with an inch or two spare when the whistle blew for the end of the round. The match went to the freshmen. In the heavyweight boing, Holway, '22, knocked out Smith, '22, who was unable to return to the second round although he finished out the first. Holway was an aggressive boxer, so much so that he struck Smith while the referee was warning him about clinching. The winning of the heavyweight events gave the victory to the freshmen by a score of 72½ to 53½.

In the period of general hostilities, which started at 4:30, the freshmen, 160 in number, remained concealed on Rock Point where they were immediately after drill period at 2 o'clock. The sophomores, who numbered 76, were unable to find but one lone freshman, Stuart Greene, at his room. He counted one point as a captive. The freshmen's score of 72½ was counted as follows: Tree rush 7½, keg rush 15 and penalty 10, leight weight being 10 light weight wrestling, 10, heavy weight wrestling 10, heavy wrestling boxing 10.

The sophomores' points were reckoned as 53½ as follows: Captives 1, first dummy rush 15, tree rushes 17½, middleweight events 20.

The Boulder society directed the events of the night, and Dr. Edmunds acted as referee in the wrestling and boxing matches. Numerous flashlight snapshots of the events in the cage were taken by W. R. Buck, '20, and J. H. MacLeod '20.

The annual initiation and banquet of the Delta Psi fraternity was held at the chapter house Saturday evening. Over 50 members were present, besides the following initiates: D. R. Campbell of Fairhaven, Mass., T. C. Cheever of Montpelier, L. J. Doolin of Isle La Motte, C. T. Hazen, Jr., of Kensington, Conn., R. E. Holway of Barnard, B. L. Mills of Montpelier, and W. W. Smith, Jr., of Bakersfield, all of the class of 1923. Speeches were made by Campbell, Doolin and Hazen. E. L. Ingalls, '96, presided and C. W. Brownell, '70, M. B. Ogle, '20, J. O. Baxendale, '07, Dean G. H. Perkins and Dr. S. F. Emerson responded to toasts.

Vermont Kappa of Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity held its annual initiation and banquet at the New Sherwood Hotel Saturday night. The guests of honor were Dean H. C. Tinkham, M. D., Professor Evan Thomas and Dr. H. F. Perkins, all of whom gave short talks which were well received. The address of welcome was given by Alfred M. Mamlet. The toastmaster was George W. Dren and the folowing responded to toasts: "T. E. P. Spirit," Max H. Miller; "Scholastic Attainments," Louis A. Perelman; "Reminiscences," Myer H. Weinstein. Following is the list of initiates: George Bergman, '22, Burlington; Joseph Heyman, '22, Passaic, N. J.; Hyman M. Glasston, '22, Burlington; Herman B. Ring, '23, medic, Passaic, N. J.; Abrahani Teitlebaum, '23, medic, New York city; and Julius L. Alpert, '22, Burlington.

Vermont was represented in the New England intercollegiate cross-country run which was held at Franklin Park, Boston, on Saturday by the following eight men: Granger, Pierce, Rowe, Buck, McGee, Shepard, Osborne and Berry. Eight colleges were entered, New Hampshire State being the winner. Vermont finished seventh with a score nearly in line with that of the colleges finishing fifth and sixth, and being 80 points ahead of Holy Cross, the last to finish. Vermont's score was not due to a lack of material but to a lack of experience in running as all of the men, with one exception, are new at the game. Of the colleges entered, Vermont was one of the few to finish all of her men entered.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity announces the pledging of B. A. Conley, '23, of New Britain, Conn.

auspices of the freshman and sophomore classes, will occur on Tuesday night, November 25 in the university gymnasium. Music will be furnished by the Van Ness augmented orchestra. There will be booths furnished by each fraternity and one from the non-fraternity men. Refreshments of punch and wafers only are to be furnished by each fraternity and served in their respective booths. The dance will be free to students, faculty and alumni of the university.

CARE OF YOUR TOOLS

When buying brooms, mops, sweepers and cleaners of all descriptions it is wise to buy the best and then take care of them—it will be cheaper in the long run. Think of them as instruments that save time, strength, wear and tear. For instance, long handles on brooms, brushes and dustpans save the back.

A cleaning cloth should be soft and loosely woven so that it will take up dirt easily and can be easily kept clean. A duster takes up dirt better if a few drops of water or oil have been sprinkled on it. But you must beware of too much moisture or oil because it leaves streaks. For wiping very dirty places use soft paper, cotton waste or rags which may be thrown away.

Keep all your cleaning things together in a convenient place. Put them away clean and be sure that you hang your brushes, mops and brooms when they are not in use. Keeping them off the floor adds an unbelievable length of time to their life of service.

Clean string mops by shaking over a damp newspaper or can or out in the open air if you are sure the dirt will not trouble you or your neighbors. Wash them occasionally in hot water with washing soda or soap and dry quickly. Sprinkle a few drops of oil on oiled mops—it keeps them in condition.

Clean carpet sweepers frequently. Empty the box on a piece of damp newspaper and use an old scissors and buttonhook, or a coarse comb to remove hairs and dirt from the brushes. Keep the bearings well oiled. All these little attentions take only a few minutes, but the returns from your tools make it time well spent.

With the Beginning of Winter

The Glove Question

becomes one of foremost importance. Weather conditions make it necessary to supply the needs of winter and not only this; it is an article of adornment which becomes one of the most popular of Christmas gift articles.

We wish at this time to direct attention to our splendid assemblage of gloves. Modes from such famous foreign designers as Reynier and Trefousse coupled with those of the finest American manufacture insure gloves of surpassing individuality and smartness. We feel that our collection is so extensive and complete that we are quite justified in designating this department as a glove store in itself.

Even though prices have advanced, they have not kept pace quite with many other articles of apparel and because of many years' experience and valuable connections we have been exceedingly fortunate in this respect. From France we have the dainty and delicate genuine kid gloves in a remarkably beautiful assortment including many real novelties which will have first showing here. Then from American manufacturers we have drawn most heavily for the luxurious Mocha, street and driving gloves. Unlined, silk lined, soft lamb's wool or camel's hair lined as well as fur lined and fur trimmed.

We would not undertake a full description of the many distinctly different groups that are now constituting this store's largest and most attractive collection of gloves. It is the personal visit and examination that will determine the superiority of his department. Our patrons will be pleased with the careful and attractive manner in which gloves will be packed for the Christmas gift. Neat little white boxes have been provided for this purpose and will be appropriately tied with ribbon when desired.

Has an inner case of best grade corrugated board, very strong but light in weight, covered with a strong canvas cover that will last for years. Top flaps of case overlap and are reversible. DEALERS HOLD OUT HOPE

Say That Thanksgiving Bird May Sell at 65 Cents a Pound

Wednesday, Nov. 19, 1919.

There may be some comfort in the prediction held out to-day by some dealers that the famous Thanksgiving bird may be 65 cents a pound, and certainly not over 70 cents. Market men hold out the hope that this price will not be exceeded.

The bird is scarce and to-day one dealer had none at all, expecting his supply in by Friday, he said.

Meat prices have not varied as all during the past week, dealers said to-day. Lamb is a pretty good buy and about the most economical for the family. Fores are 30 cents a pound, leg 40. Roast pork is 32 to 45 cents, pork chops 40 to 45 cents. Sirloin steak is 40 cents; round steak, 30; veal steak, 65. Porterhouse steak is 65 cents. Roast beef is 45 cents, pork sausage, 40; sliced ham, 70; bacon, 65.

In the fish and seafoods, Eastern white halibut is 35 cents; haddock, 24; cod, 25; flounders, 18; pollock, 20; clams are 15 cents a quart; oysters 70 and 80, and scallops 31 a quart.

Butter is firm. Dairymen are saying they predict a shortage because so much storage butter is being shipped abroad. A-No. 1 creamery butter is 70 cents per pound.

Fresh eggs are still priced at 90 cents, with the cold storage variety selling at 65 to 70 cents a dozen.

Potatoes are 45 cents a peck, eggplant, 40 to 50 cents; cauliflower, 40 to 75 cents; hothouse tomatoes, 40; green peppers, eight cents; Spanish onions, 15 cents; celery, 15 to 40; lettuce, 20 to 30 cents.

Carrots, are five cents; cabbage, five; beets, five; watercress, 15; radishes, 10.

In the fruits, dealers are expecting late this week some nice offerings for the Thanksgiving table. To-day, California oranges are 50 cents to 81; grapefruits, 15 to 20 cents; Malaga grapes are 35 cents a pound; pears, 60 cents a dozen; figs, 50 and 60 cents a pound; bananas, 40 and 50 cents a dozen, seckel pears, 20 cents a dozen; plums, 20 cents. Mixed nuts are 45 to 60 cents a pound; walnuts, 50 cents; almonds, 50 cents. Honey dew melons are 40 and 75 cents each; Beauty Boss pears, $1 a dozen, Casaba melons, $1 and $1.25 each.

The following prices for the market of this week were quoted for the Free Press by P. D. Kelley, grocer, F. E. Howard, meat dealer; the Burlington Fruit company, and the A. D. Pease Feed company.
