UNIVERSITY NOTES

F. S. Pease, Jr. Elected Editor-in-Chief of "The Cynic"
At a meeting of the Cynic board of editors and managers, the majority of the new board elected today. The present board will take charge after May 1. The present board will publish the Cynic until that time. The officers elected are as follows: Editor-in-chief, F. S. Pease, Jr.; 21; business manager, E. W. Converse, 21; exchange editor, H. E. Rockwell, 21; alumni editor, Waldo B. Buckham, 21; medical editor, P. C. Fisher, M. D.; assistant business managers, Clement E. Cook, 22; Roy S. Hunt, 22, and L. S. Ramsey, 22. The new editor will be elected in a few days after the meeting. The candidates are George W. Davenport, Jr., 22, C. S. Cummings, 22, Charles C. Joyce, 22, and G. F. Howe, 22. The assistant news editors will be appointed by the old and new editors-in-chief, and the two news editors of the old board.

A petition has been placed on the bulletin boards and has already been signed by many of the students asking that the final examinations be omitted. The grounds for the petition are: (1) The fact that the examinations as planned, the fact that they will come after numerous students will have gone to Camp Devens for the summer military training camp required of all C. M. men in the senior division, and that the examinations are scheduled to occur in that in which some of the hottest temperatures of the year are reached. The petition suggests, as an alternative, that several "tests" be given which will have an effect on the same as examinations, and that the removal of exams will prove an added incentive to study for the tests.

Board of Health is thoroughly interested in new plans and will lend its every aid; a working agreement has been made with the Red Cross health nurses which eliminates all causes for duplication and misunderstanding; and, lastly, our work for the past three years has given us definite ideas of what we should do and how we should do it. It is up to us to see to it that the most is made of this opportunity."
At this meeting F. A. Howland of Montpelier will propose the plans for the financial campaign, and H. W. Sloum, the executive secretary, will submit a plan for using the funds, if raised.

B. E. BRISTOL TREASURER

Will Handle Money Raised in Congregational World Movement Convans
The executive committee of the Vermont Congregational Conference and Vermont Methodist Missionary society met at the Hotel Vermont yesterday. The out-of-town members present were J. H. Hoadley of Rutland and H. G. Woodruff of Montpelier, and the Rev. C. C. Adams presided. Encouraging reports were read with regard to the progress of the Congregational World Movement convans in Vermont, a quota of $10,000 for 1920 being raised. The most important business of the meeting was the election of Benjamin E. Bristol of the Burlington Savings Bank as State treasurer of benevolence, to whom church treasurers may remit their contributions, both for the regular apportionment and world movement fund in lump sums for distribution among general missionary agencies. Mr. Bristol will have his office in connection with the State headquarters at 33 Brooks avenue.

THE BALANCE OF POWER

Women Will Hold It In Presidential Election, Says Ann Batchelder
"Should the suffrage amendment not be ratified in time for the presidential election," said Ann Batchelder, financial chairman of the Equal Suffrage association, in an interview yesterday with a reporter on the Vermont campus. "Seventeen million five hundred thousand women will still vote for president this year. The party that is responsible for delay in the ratification of the amendment will go down to defeat in the presidential election. There is no doubt about that. It is a matter of time when they are in both parties. Seventeen million five hundred thousand women are waiting for ratification. Their votes will tell the story and none other."

BOUND TO COME

Vermont Legislature Should Have Distinction of Settling National Suffrage
The following telegram, received by Mrs. Lillian Oldham at suffrage headquarters in the Vermont campus, is of peculiar interest in view of the fact that it is from the son of Frederick Billings of Woodstock, the generous benefactor of the city of Burlington and the University of Vermont, the donor of the Billings library, one of the finest in the country. The telegram is signed: "Mr. Billings, the sender of the telegram is president of the Woodstock railroad, also of the Connecticut River railroad, part of the Boston & Maine system. The telegram follows:
Mrs. Lillian Oldham, Woodstock, April 9, 1920.
Hotel Vermont, Burlington.
National suffrage bound to come. Our Legislature should have the distinction of putting it over the top.
(Signed) RICHARD BILLINGS.
