WINOOSKI

About two o'clock Thursday afternoon an alarm of fire was rung in by Thomas Fox from box 24 in front of station No. 1 on Main street for a fire in a house owned by David Walker on Maple street. The house, which is a two-tenement house, has been occupied by two families, Thomas Leger and family on the east side and L. P. Allard and family on the west side. The fire, which was caused by an overheated stovepipe, broke out on the second floor of the tenement occupied by Mr. Leger. He had been putting on some double windows, when, on coming into the house, remarked that he smelt smoke and investigating found the fire had broken out on the second floor in between the partition and the floor and made its way up through the partition to the attic. When discovered the blaze had broken through the floor. The fire when it reached the attic had spread across and was coming out at both ends of the house, between the slate roof and the partition, when the firemen arrived on the scene. Three streams of water, consisting of 1,500 feet of hose, were put on to the building within ten minutes after the alarm had been rung in. The fire, which was a stubborn one to fight on account of its being between the partitions, was soon under the control of the firemen, who had to chop their way through to reach the blaze. The fire pump used for fires was started as soon as the alarm was rung in, but after running for a short time a joint at the reservoir burst and the pump at the mill was soon put into use in its stead. At first sight of the fire yesterday it was thought the building was doomed, but the remarkable work of the firemen saved the building. The damage to the building will run into the thousands, as it is water soaked. The building was insured. Much praise was given to the fire department. B. J. Pianfetti, fire police of station No. 1, was badly cut on the hand and Fire Chief Lavalley had two of his fingers burnt while trying to open one of the windows.
