City Echoes.

—Miss Mamie Henderson, of Handsboro is the guest of Mrs. E. J. Bowers.
—Rev. W. G. Forsythe delivered an eloquent sermon at Handsboro last Sunday.
—Bay St. Louis is not booming, but she is enjoying a steady and phenomenal growth.
—Mr. Chas. Coward returned on Tuesday evening from his Carnival visit to New Orleans.
—Why send away for your goods? You can get what you want at the Blue Store at city prices.
—The purchasing of an elegant new job office and new job press evidences our prosperity.
—Mr. Emilie Kuntz, of New Orleans, was here this week in view of purchasing a summer home.
—Mr. Irven Whitney and relatives are here from Ohio and are making Bay St. Louis their home.
—The rayne bridge on Front street, near the Lanau place, is made substantial and new by the city.
—Miss Eliza Ames of Ocean Springs, is here on a visit to Mrs. Ames and Miss F. Monti on Front street.
—Mr. Frederick Banderet leaves this evening for Natchitoches, La., to inspect steam making brick plant.
—Hon. E. C. Garbled openly says he is the man contemplated for the mayorship of the Independent ticket.
—Miss Mary Hunter, of New Orleans, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. Leonard, at Elmwood, on Sunday.
—County Treasurer Jack Willis was down from Nicholson this week, attending the County Fathers meeting.
—Mr. Thos. L. Evans is a man of business. The sign painter has been kept busy around his store this week.
—Mr. Willie St. Pierre, of New Orleans, is here enjoying a weeks vacation, the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Schiller.
—Mr. Edward Saucier, of Harrison county, is here this week. He expects to make his home in our lovely midst.
—Mr. W. H. Yenni, of the shoe and millinery store, has had some conspicuous lettering done on the side of his popular store on Front and Washington sts.
—During the Lenten season there will be a sermon every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Way of the Cross service every Friday evening at 3 o'clock.
—Send or bring us local news. We want to make THE ECHO a paper for the people and must have the news of their town.
—The King's Daughters will appreciate all donations to their library. Their object is a worthy one and should be encouraged.
—You can get more good groceries for less money at the Blue Store than at any other store in town. Call and get prices and be convinced.
—Mr. Anatole Mendes, gent and popular in New Orleans and Bay St. Louis, is enjoying the beauties of our city since Thursday evening.
—The editor is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Tim Flanagan. It is dated in New Orleans and he says he is going to write a letter about the Bay boys in New Orleans.
—THE ECHO's sporting editor, Will-o'-the-Wisp, has received a very complimentary letter from the editor the N. Y. Sun. He pronounces her services splendid and reliable, and congratulates her upon the prediction that Fitz would win.

"DOCTOR" BELT GOES WRONG.

He Robs a Young Lady's Jewelry and Deprives a Bay St. Louis Merchant.

H. P. Belt, who spent a part of last summer here and well known about the Bay, is now a fugitive from justice, having robbed a young lady of Chicago, who he met in New Orleans recently, of a gold watch and chain and a pair of diamond earrings. After having committing the deed he reached here and made arrangements with Mr. Geo. Rodolph, captain of the sloop Algerine, to take him to Chandeleur island. Before starting on this voyage Belt called on one of the Bay's leading merchants and bought for $22.00 worth of provisions in payment for which he gave a check of $125 on the New Orleans Union National bank. Yesterday the check was returned to the merchant with the mention that it was counterfeit. Of him the New Orleans Item says: "Belt was once charged with stealing a horse in Minnesota, and was once cowbided by a young man in this city for making insulting remarks about his assailant's sister. He was either a married man or claimed to be, for on one occasion he ran away from Minnesota with a young lady and claimed to be married in Tennessee. He had no money at the time, so the minister who married them took a kiss from the bride as his fee."

A Celebration.

When the Bay's contractor and builder, Mr. F. Ramond, does a thing, like all of his work, he does it well and in a neat style. His method of doing things up in a good shape could not had better been demonstrated than on Sunday last, the day he had named to remember his friends and to celebrate the completion of the handsome residence he has had the contract for from Mrs. Sones.

About 2 o'clock the Eclipse Brass Band, always on hand to lead, serenaded Mr. Ramond and his guests. Delicious cakes and sparkling wines were served abundantly, and with all this "eat, drink and be merry," and plenty of good music everybody present spent an enjoyable time.

A Sad Accident.

On Saturday evening the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pepin met with a very sad accident. She procured a match in some unaccountable way, and, it is supposed, while playing with the matches her clothes ignited, and severely burnt her about the face and body.

Dr. VonGohren was summoned and after attending the injuries pronounced them free of immediate danger.

Not a Candidate.

It is circulated around that I am a candidate for Tax-collector and Assessor, as I have voted in the last primary I expect to vote for the nominees, and I am not in it in no shape or form for office.

W. F. DELCUEZ.

Our Visitors.

BAY ST. LOUIS HOTEL—J. V. Pilkington, M. Levi, Jack Stern, G. D. Lebronne, Jules Deluzin, New Orleans; J. Haddon, Illinois; W. S. Agnew, S. F. Shuck, Atlanta, Ga.; H. D. Tucher, Eureka; Mrs. B. Elridge and Husband, Mrs. J. R. Ballet and husband, Belvidere, Ill.; Mrs. A. J. Kingsby, B. F. Clemens, Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. W. B. Keese, Holly Grove Farm, Miss.

CRESCENT HOTEL—Chas. J. Schuelger, Kansas City; A. E. Lewis, J. A. Sutter, W. Pascagoula, Miss.; Geo. C. Sebastian, J. L. Finney, J. H. Aiken, G. A. Tugan, D. Negrotto, Jr., R. T. Jones, P. C. Morrill, Biloxi.

Logtown.

Hon. M. G. Williams, of Louisiana, is here on a business trip.

American Legion of Honor Council, of this place, wants a few more members.

Mr. Coney Weston was severely injured while at work in the mill this week. It is thought one of his legs is broken below the knee.

The marriage of Mr. J. Russ and Miss Vi Swetman, both of this place, will take place this evening at the Methodist church. The wedding supper will be given them at that splendid home of Judge Henry Carre. We wish them much happiness in their new relation.

Our old time friend, John E. Whitfield, died Tuesday at his home above Gainesville. Mr. Whitfield was an old resident of this county. He came to this State from Florida away back in the 40s. He was a member of Moses Cook Lodge No. 116, A. T. and A. M. and a good, quiet citizen. Our sympathies go out to his family and friends. Peace to his ashes.

BOGUE HOMA.

—The Blue Store does the business, they have the assortment, in fact they keep everything, and the rush of business is a sure indication that the people appreciate a first-class store.

For THE ECHO.]

Fitzsimmons the Champion.

"The bravest are the tenderest," And sometimes too, the slenderest And hardest to knock out, For he whose name rings thro' the land, Is brave, is generous, is grand, But strikes like Russian knout. His mighty blows are dread to feel, His sinews work like springs of steel And swift as lightning's flash; His iron fist flies thro' the air, And strikes the foe who may be there, With force like thunder's crash.

The while each brawny muscle shows The strength reserved for future blows Which follow fiercely on; Here Strength and Science blend to teach What might the human skill must reach To make a champion.

WILL-O'-THE-WISP.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

—Mr. J. V. Dillon is absent this week on a visit to Kemper county.

—Messrs. Fitzsimmons and Carroll will leave for New York to-day.

—Mr. F. J. Ladner and sisters were visitors to New Orleans Tuesday.

—Mrs. and Prof. H. (Pate) arrived here Tuesday on a visit to Mrs. Pate's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Bangard.

—Mr. Chas. Sanger will begin on Monday to drive an artesian well on the beach opposite the Crescent Hotel.

—We understand that a meeting was held at Cameron's hall last night for the purpose of forming an Independent ticket.

—Local politics are getting red hot and really interesting. The Independent ticket or the formation of one seems to have stirred up things considerably.

—Mr. Chas. Bosh and family have arrived from New Orleans and will reside here permanently. Mr. Bosh has opened a tonsorial shop at the Eagle Wing Exchange.

—Mr. R. Telhard can truly be termed a wise man. Just now he is investing in property, having six attractive cottages erected near his residence. Property in Bay St. Louis pays handsomely.

—The Board of Supervisors met in regular session on Monday and adjourned Wednesday. Messrs. G. W. Maynard, F. J. Ladner, Peter Carver and Ouis Bourgeois were appointed Grand Jurors.

—The Gulf Coast Ice & Manufacturing Company will resume operations April 1st. The electric lights will be welcome, Bay St. Louis is the only town on the coast that has an electric light plant.

—Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Lanau, of New Orleans, with the bright and beautiful Miss Madeline Vienne are at the handsome Lanau villa on the beach. Mr. Lanau, who has been ill, is here to recuperate.

—On Sunday evening last the horse of Mr. P. Capdepon, while tied to a tree near the old graveyard, became frightened of a passing train and ran away, breaking the shafts and harness of the gig to which he was hitched.

—Bay St. Louis has lost the presence of one of Mississippi's brightest daughters in the person of Miss Jessie Archer, who left for her home in Baldwin, yesterday morning after a week's visit. She was accompanied by Mrs. Avery.

—Mrs. Morris McGraw and daughters, of New Orleans, are here this week at their summer villa on the beach. The McGraw place has long been conceded as one of the most conspicuous of beautiful homes that adorn the front road.

—THE ECHO's typographical department is now fully establish, and during the former part of next week we will receive a handsome new job press with new and latest styles of type for a first-class job office. Send or call for estimates as we want your support in the Bay's latest enterprise.

—Send to the Blue Store for a paint card. Mr. Keller has just received a very large assortment of ready mixed paints. They are better than paints mixed by painters, because they are regular, cover a greater area and last longer. He has also a large supply of inside and outside white paint.

—The season of the L. & N.'s popular dollar excursions has already dawned upon us. The early inauguration of these delightful trip to the lovely sea coast from the metropolis means for us a long season of gayety and money. Everything around us indicates a prosperous season, and our people may well rejoice at such state of affairs. Thanks to the wide-awake Louisville & Nashville road.

—Robert Fitzsimmons, the middle-weight champion of the world, arrived on Saturday night and was met at the depot by the Eclipse Brass Band and an enthusiastic crowd. When he alighted from the train he was presented with a bouquet and a card upon which was inscribed, "The bravest are the tenderest." Messrs. Fitzsimmons, Carroll and Mrs. Carroll, Mr. Robertson and others, with representatives of the press, were driven to the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Kronwinkler where an elegant champagne supper was tendered the party.

On Friday last about seventy men, woman and children arrived at Biloxi. They came from Baltimore and will be employed in the canning factories at Biloxi.

A Quadruple Christening.

The little but fast growing town of Handsboro was the scene of much celebration and rejoicing on Sunday last. The day was a gala one and will long be remembered by the throng of visitors from New Orleans and along the coast. On that day two children were received into the folds of the church and two boats christened and launched. The children were, one infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martinolich, and the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Anderson, of New Orleans.

The ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Father Alphonse Ketels, of this place. The sponsors for the little one were the popular Capt. Jack Gerdes and Miss F. Pabolin and Capt. Gerdes with Miss J. Birkenstock. After the ceremonies an excellent dinner was partaken of, and afterward everybody proceeded to the shipyards of Mr. Martinolich, the two beautiful boats were on the ways ready to glide into the water.

The first was named "Malvina M. Anderson," Miss L. Gaspar, sponsor; the second, the "Gertie," little Miss Gertie Gerdes as sponsor. The yacht Gertie, twelve tons, is the property of Mr. C. Dindauer, of New Orleans. She is a beauty and is well built.

The Malvina Anderson is intended for the charcoal trade, and is owned by Capt. S. Anderson.

The editor of THE ECHO returns thanks for the handsome invitation received to be present.

TO THE PUBLIC.

As I seem to be the person aimed at by Mr. Alfred S. Coward in his letter in THE SEA COAST ECHO, of March 5th, I believe a brief reply from me will straighten matters and enable the public to judge for itself.

Mr. Coward starts in by saying that he has reliable information that on the evening prior to the election some evil-minded party circulated a report that Mr. Coward, (himself, A. S. Coward,) and a lot of rich men had formed a chartered-body for the purpose of preventing the poor men from catching fish, by passing a law to that effect, and finally calls the party who circulated such rumor a "liar," and adds that he will prosecute the same if he will find out who they are. I am responsible to Mr. Coward for any and all utterances that I made, and I say the lie must go right back to Mr. Coward's home where it shall receive the welcome and the shelter it has always had at his hands, and since Mr. Coward has made this controversy a public one, I propose to begin at the commencement and finish at the end. Here are the facts connected with the case:

The night before the primary election referred to by Mr. Coward, I made the following statement to several citizens that were at my residence, and right there and then the Fishermen's Protective Association was formed, the object of which is known. I said that I had just reason to doubt Mr. Coward's movements by his past actions which are the following: Mr. Coward himself said he had just presented a report to the Grand Jury, charging Messrs. Dunbar with violation of the fishing law. The Grand Jury took no notice of his report, and this angered him still more. He was very angry when he spoke to me on the subject, and insinuated that he intended to see to it hereafter. It will be remembered also that Mr. Coward was once an employee of the Dunbar factory but was sometime ago replaced by an other gentleman, then it was made apparent that he had a grudge against Messrs. Dunbar and for that reason tried to have them indicted for pretended violation of the fish law. Therefore seeing his name connected with this association, myself and a score with me, judging from his past career, came to the conclusion that the time had arrived for us to protect ourselves, and this was the language that I used at that meeting, and any other inference in regard to what I or my associates said, let them or him be the liar. In conclusion, I say that the meeting was not a political one, simply an organization of our association, and Mr. Aug. Keller's name has not been mentioned by me or by my associates.

VICTOR F. LANDRIEU.

Card of Thanks.

The officers and members of the I. H. H. & L. Fire Company No. 1 hereby return thanks to the ladies of Bay St. Louis and gentlemen of Bay St. Louis for their kind donation of $35.00, net proceeds of the entertainment given by them for our benefit on January 28th. And to the citizens of Bay St. Louis who liberally subscribed $50.00 for the purchase of fire hose. Also to Mr. Aug. Keller, Messrs. Spotorno & Co., Mr. Jos. Combel and Mr. F. J. Ladner for kind donation of fire buckets, employed at the fire on the 19th of September, 1891.

WM. RUHR,

President.
