YELLOWSTONE YEARNINGS.

The "games" were well patronized all last night.

The prisoners in the city jail should not be forgotten to-day.

The park presents a very desolate appearance these days.

Hank Bloom, a Billings policeman, is in the city on official business.

Wertheimer & Co. had a "fiddling" party at their store last evening.

School Commissioners Cox and Gordon made a visit to the school yesterday.

Mr. Jordan, of Leighton & Jordan, is confined to his room with a severe attack of rheumatism.

The different city bars where wet goods is served up to the thirsty will do a rushing business in fancy drinks to-day.

Dr. J. J. Wood now has his office at W. E. Savage & Co.'s drug store. His slate has a sharpened pencil attached.

During the absence of manager Deane in the east the Inter-Ocean will be in charge of Dr. Linn and W. B. Andrews.

Mr. W. E. Savage, of Savage & Co., druggists, has returned from the east, whither he went to make purchases of holiday goods.

Col. C. G. Cox was recently appointed school commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James Grinnitt.

A few privates from the post remained in the city very late last evening and enjoyed a walk without the light of the moon.

Dr. Girard was as fresh and smiling among us yesterday as though there had not been amateur theatricals at the post the night before.

Its a wonder the Western Union Telegraph Co. receive any patronage at their present location on the sand flats two miles from town.

One of our well-known business men has kindly offered free of rent a suitable location for the new commercial office of the Western Union.

S. T. Johnson the Terry fur and hide dealer, was in the city yesterday purchasing all the good things in that line he could find in the city.

A pleasant little tea party was given by Mrs. M. G. Maples to a few of her friends last evening. Mr. Maples and lady are pleasant people to sup with or visit.

What Miles City needs is a plenty of furnished rooms, which could be rented to prompt-paying tenants, provided owners would put the price at reasonable figures.

"Frenchy," Nado's rushing clerk, has on exhibition several specimens of human bones picked up on the battleground of the Minnesota massacre by himself in the year 1862.

Miles & Streveil, the extensive dealers in hardware, have caught on to another new method of advertising. The cut of old "Jumbo" will explain that they are not behind the times for goods in their line.

The quality of turkeys on sale in the Miles City markets are not of the best quality. Many of them look as if they were raised in Kansas, on sand and scenery, with an occasional grasshopper thrown in by way of variation.

F. A. Routhier, the contractor, is authority for the statement that the woodwork on the new court house will be completed by the 10th of next month. This will be the end of a long and satisfactory job for Custer county.

A small boy amused himself near the Tongue river bridge last night by tying an empty oil can to a dog's tail. The handsome operator of the military telegraph office kindly relieved the poor brute and administered a clubbing to the youth.

Several young men, residents of this city, left yesterday for Glendive to attend the ball given there last evening. It is reported to have been a brilliant affair for that seasonally very quiet and easy-going young city of roundhouse and workshop fame.

"Porter Jim," formerly at the Inter-Ocean, received his discharge from the regular army yesterday. He contemplates investing his back pay that has accumulated the past five years in a stock of sheep, believing, like many others, "there's nothing like mutton."

The new glee club is a valuable addition to the present flourishing musical organizations of the city. Their impromptu concert on Sunday evening last was a musical treat, while their serenade to the "Owls" in session was appreciated and enjoyed.

Beef tea and hot Scotch is the favorite drink at the Sideboard. 36tf

Charley Streveil says the telephone from the hardware store to his residence works like a charm, and he no longer oversteps himself, as his clerk has blood in his eye about 5 o'clock in the morning, and keeps muttering oaths through that telephone to his bedside until further orders.

A First-Class Place.

The new Oyster Ocean under the First National bank is a grand success. A. Booth's bulk oysters 75 cents per quart. 31tf

Capt. E. Butler, U. S. A., Fort Keogh, was in the city yesterday, and was greeted by his legion of friends. The captain informs the JOURNAL that the officers' dramatic club contemplate a series of the entertainments, same as given on Tuesday evening. The next one will doubtless be given early in December.

Do not pass the Keg saloon without dropping in for a nice drink of good liquor or a fine cigar. 1-tf

The military telegraph office supply of cottonwood fuel gave out some days ago, and the operator now uses government chairs, empty collar boxes and portions of an iron bedstead to fire up and prevent ink from freezing while he pens sweet little nonsensical things to the prettiest girl in a Massachusetts town.

Oyster Ocean

Is the name of the new first-class oyster house recently opened under the First National bank. A. Booth's bulk oysters 75 cents per quart. 31tf

A. B. Wolf and George Cutler, two prosperous Tongue river ranchmen, were in the city yesterday buying supplies for a grand supper and dance to be given at Mr. Cutler's residence this evening. The ranchers up Tongue river are lightning on the dance, and all the reporter's wish was that he could be present, to take in this enjoyable affair of the season.

Stoves! Stoves!

All kinds of heating and cooking stoves, at Burleigh's. 7tf

Engineer Wash Snyder, who runs a passenger train on this division, had on board the engine yesterday several of Miles City's popular girls, who were destined for Glendive to attend a grand ball to be given at the Merrill house. No doubt they will soon make application for a position on the road as engineers. Montana always was a noted country for "rustlers."

A car load of all kinds of heating and cooking stoves have just been received at Burleigh's mammoth store. Now is the time to call while the stock is complete. 7tf

Sewing Machines.

Now on hand twenty-five of the new light running Domestic sewing machines. Special terms and prices for the next fifteen days. 13tf

MILES & STREVEIL.

Luther Dear, Burleigh's popular clerk, was taking in the town yesterday with a subscription paper to raise money for flooding Tongue river and putting up torches. This shows enterprise, and we hope a sufficient sum was subscribed, for it will add to the pleasure of those who desire to enjoy an evening on the ice. Our next door clerk, Billy Courtney, flashed up a five dollar bill on short notice.

The Little Delmonico is the only restaurant in the city that serves up a fine turkey, duck and chicken dinner to-day. You had better try it. 1t

Oysters, celery and chicken at Flaherty's this morning. 1t

The management of the Grand Central have issued about one hundred invitations to their dinner to-day. The selection of good things enumerated on the bill of fare will rival in variety that offered by some of the noted hotels of the east. Judge Cotter will be on hand to welcome all and Mr. Chew's heart will doubtless be made glad on this day of Thanksgiving.

Don't forget the dinner at the Little Delmonico to-day from 12 to 3 p. m. 1t

Thanksgiving.

The different hotels of the city will each present to their patrons to-day a feast in the shape of a Thanksgiving dinner. Elaborate bills of fare have been prepared, and the regular boarders and invited guests are assured a magnificent banquet. The inner man will be well cared for with an abundance of the very best things procurable in the city markets.

Don't forget to call at Flaherty's to-day for your good things in the line of chickens, oysters, celery and fruits. 1t

Flanagan's Show.

Tom Flanagan, the Miles City Haverly, left yesterday for Billings to open up the variety he recently purchased. His intention is soon to place on exhibition to the citizens of that town the braying donkey that has been so amusing to the people of this city. Flanagan has an eye to business, and will treat the Billingsites to a first-class show. During his absence his place here will be in charge of John Chinick.

Fresh Oysters.

When in want of oysters cooked in every style go to the Oyster Ocean, the best place in town to get fresh oysters. A. Booth's bulk oysters 75 cents per quart. 31tf

The postoffice will be closed to-day, Thanksgiving being a legal holiday. Postmaster Borchardt has however kindly consented to have the office opened for one hour upon arrival of the mails from the east. Kind acts of this nature are not soon forgotten by the public.

The Episcopal Chapel.

The temporary chapel for the use of the Episcopal mission in this city, will be opened for service on Sunday. It is a frame structure of two rooms. The first room, to be used as a chapel, 40x20, is furnished with pews of artistic design. A large stove with a drum of sufficient heating capacity to warm the room, stands near the door. There are two six-light chandeliers for illuminating purposes, and a carpet is provided for the aisles, chancel and choir. Leading out of the chapel, is the school room, 20x14, furnished with seats and desks for twenty-four pupils. This room is intended for Sunday school and other parish purposes, and also for the parish day school, to be conducted by Mrs. Horsfall, the school mistress appointed by Bishop Brewer. The course of study will range from the rudiments to all the higher branches and the languages. We commend this to the notice of our citizens. Only a limited number of pupils can be received. Information concerning the school terms, etc., can be had by applying to Mr. Horsfall, Main street.

Dissolution Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the co-partnership heretofore existing between Fred W. Hill and Charles B. Garrett and, under the firm name of Hill & Garrett, doing a business as fruit dealers, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts due the firm must be paid before Dec. 1st, 1882, and all the obligations of the firm will be paid and collected by Fred W. Hill. FRED W. HILL, 31-tf CHAS. B. GARRETT, Dated Miles City, Nov. 18, 1882.

Persons desiring a copy of the first directory of Miles City can procure the same by application at the JOURNAL counting room. Price, per single copy, $3.00

Go to the Little Delmonico restaurant for your Thanksgiving dinner to-day. 1t

Marks of Early Days.

On December 1st, the stage line from this city to Junction City will be discontinued, and thus another mark of early days passes away. The contract for the carrying of the mail was let early in 1877, to Clark, a well known stage man of Bozeman, it first being a weekly route between Bozeman and Fort Keogh, but owing to the increase of travel on the Yellowstone, Gilmer, Salisbury & Co. bought out the original contractor, and increased the route to a daily line from Bozeman to Miles City. Among the first mail carriers on the line was Harry Eastwood, who was drowned in the Yellowstone last August. He was carrying the mail at the time the Nes Peres made the raid through the Yellowstone valley, and was obliged to leave the coach at one time at Canyon creek and take refuge in the timber on the river. Now we have a railroad that penetrates nearly the whole length of the Yellowstone valley. No more the commercial traveler, business man and others, sit on top of the jerky coach and are entertained by the jolly driver and the bottle of tarantular juice.
