PLOTTERS SLAIN.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Kidnap the Prince of Montenegro.

Thirty of the Conspirators Killed and Ninety Wounded by the Guards.

BUDA PEST, Jan. 13.—Despite official denials the Post Hirap insists upon the truth of the reports concerning the plot to kidnap the prince of Montenegro. The plot was concocted in Cattaro, the capital of Montenegro, says the Hirap, and was of clerical origin. It was discovered just before its maturity, and a desperate effort was made by the conspirators to carry it into execution. About 200 men started for the palace to seize the prince, who was already guarded, and all the military in the city were called out. The soldiers met the conspirators at a short distance from the city, and began firing at once. The conspirators, who were well armed, returned the fire, and tried to charge through the troops, but were repulsed. After 30 minutes had been killed, and 90 had been wounded, the attempt to seize the prince was abandoned. Some 30 of the conspirators were arrested. The prince fled.

Subsequently, says the Hirap, 25 priests were arrested for having led in the plot, and 100 conspirators were executed.

Further Denials.

BUDA PEST, Jan. 12.—Chancellor von Caprivi last night made an important announcement to the committee of the Reichstag concerning the army bill, giving the reasons why it should be adopted without modification. He assured there is no animosity between Germany and Russia, and that probably no understanding existed between Russia and France regarding military management. There was a possibility of an action on the tip of the sword, in which Germany, as the strongest member, would have to bear the brunt of operation. Experience had shown that when war threatened it was best for Germany to take the offensive, as it meant more war, quick victories, lasting results. To succeed in this kind of warfare the advantages have superior numbers. At present, in fact, the alliance had fewer numbers than might be their opponents. The government, therefore, would not be able to take the responsibility of the future defense of the country unless armaments are increased.

In the course of his speech Von Caprivi made extended reference to the internal condition of France. That country, said he, is in state ferment. Though there is no state of war in the country at the present moment of such prominence as to be likely to seize power, the probability of a dictatorship is not to be excluded from German calculations. Speaking of the renewal of the triple alliance upon the expiration of the present treaty, the chancellor said renewal, though hoped for, is not absolutely certain.

Cops Talk Strike.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Chicago policemen, not desiring to be behind the times, have formed a protective organization, a sort of a wheel within a wheel. They propose to protect the citizens, but they will also protect themselves, that is, if they can; if not they will strike. Every club-wielder approached on the subject seems determined and thoroughly in earnest on the subject, and it is not at all unlikely if the demand is not acceded to by the council that the 2,100 patrolmen will throw down their stars, belts and clubs and walk out on a strike.

The subject of an increase in salary is said to have been under discussion for some time among the patrolmen. New York City, where officers in the ranks are paid $1,200 a year, is pointed out as evidence that Chicago policemen are underpaid. The uniformed officers of this city are regarded as efficient as those of Gotham. Moreover, it is claimed, many arduous duties will be heaped upon the already heavily-burdened shoulders of the police during this year owing to the presence of the crowds attending the Fair.

Slaughter in China.

New York, Jan. 13.—A local paper has the following from San Francisco: A Canton correspondent sends this account of a terrible disaster in a country town about fifteen miles from Canton, which occurred early last month, resulting in the loss of nearly 2,000 lives. A band of about 250 men, on the village of Kien-fu. These first killed a number of several thousand people on the premises of the temple. The latter had just received large offerings from the people who were celebrating a holiday with a dramatic entertainment under a high shed temporarily erected in front of the temple. The many soldiers applied the torch to the shed, and the people in a panic rushed into the temple for refuge. The main entrance to the temple caught fire from the fire of the burning shed, and over 1,000 men, women and children were either burned, smothered, or trapped under foot. Most of the fatalities resulted from suffocation, as a strong wind drove the smoke into the temple.

At the time of writing the toll of missing numbered 1,500, and it may be that some of these were burned beyond recognition. The disaster is the worst that has occurred in South China for several years.

Violators of the Law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The president is still giving close attention to the subject of freight brought over the Canadian Pacific railway. Two new points were discovered today, viz: That the original law specified the Canadian railway was to be applied to freight which were products of countries foreign countries only, and that by the Canadian law the United States consular officer, guilty of fraud in the United States revenue, had not been punished as long as they remained in Canada. A large bulk of the freight, carried by the Canadian Pacific railway, which come into this country under consular seal, are products of other foreign countries, notably Japan and China. Did this class of freight not enjoy the privilege of the consular seal system, they would enter this country at American ports and be transported by American railroads. These two points are considered important as giving the president power, if he chooses to exercise it, of suspending the operation of the consular seal system without any action by congress.

Putting on Gold.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The directors of the mint received a cablegram from Paris stating that the bank of France is discharging gold heavily for the reason that the local note issue has been reduced, and also because of recent large withdrawal of notes by banks and others for the purpose of increasing reserves. It is believed at the treasury department that the large disbursement of gold by the bank of France, which is directly contrary to the policy it has pursued the past ten years, will have the effect of seriously reducing the export of gold from the United States. The bank of France, it stated, has $300,000,000 in gold in its vaults, the accumulation of years.

Incumbent Has Barkhouse.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 13.—Gov. Buchanan will refuse to sign the joint resolution introduced in the legislature to inaugurate Gov-Elect Turner at his home in Winchester. The governor-elect has been in a low state of health for several months, and will not be able to come to the capital to be inaugurated as the constitution requires. Governor Buchanan will hold over until the new governor is legally installed. This may not occur for many weeks.

The Mormon Test Oath.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Jan. 12.—The committee on privileges and elections of the house today reported favorably the bill for repeal of the Mormon test oath act. The purpose of the bill is to remove the retroactive feature of the law which prohibits any one from voting who has since 1888 belonged to a church which teaches polygamy or who practiced the same.

It Can't Be Helped.

No Chances.

"I've had on her several times and she's looked up and down and as if to be somewhat more affectionate in the circumstances was a great help."

"You mustn't do that!" she said somewhat nervously.

"Do what?" was the innocent query.

"Put your arm around my waist."

"Why not?"

"My big brother might come in suddenly and see you."

"Well, what of that? He couldn't kill me."

"No, I suppose not, but he would try to borrow some money from you, and I have lost two boxes already by his doing that."—Texas Riffings.

Took the Hint.

"If you were a Frenchman you would know how to make love," she said cruelly to her faithful lover.

"But you would not understand me then—you cannot speak the French language," he replied.

"No, but I could listen fluently," she replied, and at last he understood her and revised his love-making.—Detroit Free Press.
