TO THE WORKINGMAN.

A good part out of the support that Anaconda is receiving from the laboring men of the state is based upon the assertion—not openly made in the newspapers where it could be refuted, but quietly passed from mouth to mouth by the oily walking delegates of the Anaconda ring—that the location of the capital at Anaconda will immediately result in contracting for $1,000,000 worth of state buildings thus giving a large number of men uninterrupted labor for a number of years. As we have stated, this ridiculous assertion has not been publicly made because the originators of it knew that it could not stand a minute in the light of open day, but we venture to say that their is not a laboring man in eastern Montana who has not had this specious argument made to him, as a inducement for him to vote for Anaconda. Quite recently it cropped out at a so-called confidential meeting held at Waverly, one of the suburbs of Butte, at which a lot of laboring men were gotten together for a quiet discussion of the capital question and its relation to the laboring man's interests, and as the talk was going round a Daly man took the floor and made the following pointed statement:

"There is not one building in the city of Anaconda which can be rented for a government office. The legislative buildings, United States land office, the supreme court of Montana, departments of the United States, circuit and district court rooms, and all other necessary buildings as may be required by a state capital, these buildings will all have to be erected. Consider the vast amount of money that will be spent in the erection and furnishing of these buildings. It is no product that it will cost $1,000,000 or more to complete these buildings we are safe in saying that the major part of this vast sum will find its way into the pockets of Butte and Anaconda."

In order to make the prospect as enticing as he could, the speaker included the U. S. land office and the U. S. circuit court, which do not have to be located at the capital, but aside from this, the whole thing is a "jack o' lantern" held temptingly in front of the workingman to delude them into voting for Anaconda. The implied promise of the Anaconda gang is a fraud. Its redemption or fulfillment is impossible under the law. The state is now in debt beyond the limit allowed by the constitution which is fixed at $100,000—one tenth of the amount which the Anaconda boomers propose to disburse on the first jump—and the only constitutional method of enlarging this limit is by submitting a distinct proposition for an increased limit of indebtedness to the people at a general election. No matter where the capital goes there is no possibility, under the constitution and the law, of erecting state buildings before another general election has passed, which will be two years from now. Wherever the capital goes, for the next two years rooms will have to be rented for the accommodation of state affairs and the legislature, and on the confusion of the gentleman who is quoted above, Anaconda hasn't got a building that can be rented for this purpose, and we may truthfully add, that is fitted for the purpose named. As Helena has for years past comfortably and appropriately accommodated all branches of the state government, there can be no reason why a voter should choose Anaconda on this ground. Let it be distinctly understood by every workingman that before one dollar is expended in the construction of state buildings, he will have a chance to vote on the proposition, and that it will not be for two years anyhow, and whenever an Anaconda boomer whispers in your ear that a victory for Anaconda means the immediate turning loose of a million dollars among the laboring men of the state, refer him to Sec. 2 of Art XIII of the constitution of Montana, and ask him where the money is coming from.

Another claim that Mr. Daly is supposed to have upon the workingmen of the state, is based upon the wholly unfounded statement that he is the friend of labor. The popular idea of a "friend of labor" is a man who being an employer, pays as large if not larger wages than others in the same line. Fortunately for a proper consideration of the subject in hand, we are not compelled to rest the case on argument unsupported by evidence. The testimony is at hand, furnished by the Railway Review of Butte, a paper devoted to the interest of the laboring men of the state, and supported wholly by them. The review gives the following table of wages paid to the different classes of smelter-men in Butte and Anaconda:

	In Anaconda	In Butte
Skimmers	$5.50	$1.50
Firemen	3.00	3.50
Carmen	2.50	3.00
Common laborers	2.50	3.00
Millmen	2.75	3.00

From the above it will be seen that Daly pinches his employees from twenty-five cents to a dollar a day each; quite a neat little sum per diem on three or four thousand employees; but that isn't all of it. In Butte—twenty-eight miles distant—the men not only get higher wages but they can take their money and go where they please to supply their needs. In Anaconda there is no place to trade but in Daly's stores, and the "double cinch" on the poor workingmen is complete. And still there are those who will maintain that Daly is "the friend of the workingman."

"HERE WE ARE AGAIN."

With commendable regularity like unto the movements of the heavenly bodies our esteemed journalistic friend and contemporary the Courier returned to this locality this morning, and for a period of thirty days will blaze upon us with meteoric brightness. Where it has been for two years, let no man enquire; perhaps lending material aid in the bolstering up of a paralytic democracy in Mars or maybe, under an assumed name, assisting a democratic congress in its crusade against silver and wool; but wherever it has been, under whatever flag it has sailed and whatever it has done, it is sufficient for the people of Custer county to know that the Courier is once more in its old moorings on its customary biennial visit with the standard of democracy at the mast-head. We are aware that in the foregoing the metaphor has been somewhat abused, but in view of the varied phases it has been assumed by democracy in the past two years, we claim the widest range for proper treatment of the subject.

The Courier makes its bow with the statement "I am a democrat." In these days there are democrats and democrats—democrats of the Wilson variety, democrats of the Gorman variety and democrats of the Cleveland variety, which latter are neither fish, flesh, fowl nor good red herring. It is much easier to be a democrat in New York state for instance, where all local industries have been protected in good republican style, than in Montana with silver and wool, the twin cornerstones of our prosperity, riven and upturned by a democratic congress. Things are propitious certainly for a democratic victory in Custer county when the Courier can come before the people and say to them in exultant tones. Look what we have done for wool! We will not, however, anticipate the policy that a democratic paper may pursue this year. With the example set by its high chiefs and great men, from the president down, it has the right to be thoroughly and entertainingly erratic.
