Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and is made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., testimonials free. Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

A Reform School Candidate.

John Williams a youthful horse thief of Park county who was booked and almost shipped to the reform school, succeeded in making his escape from the county jail on Tuesday last. He was accompanied by another young tough named Jacob Fleishman who though not more than 19 years old has already served a year in the "pen" for forgery and was under arrest on a charge of rape. The fugitives put out for the lower Yellowstone afoot and in twenty-four hours reached Grey Cliffe, some forty five miles from Livingston foot sore and hungry. They begged permission to warm up and rest beside the station agents stove which was granted, and as he had been previously advised of the escape, he had no difficulty in locating them. While the boys were toasting their shins the agent wired to Livingston that the birds were there and the next train brought the officers who found them still warming up and disinclined to prosecute their adventure further. Back to Livingston and comfortable quarters they went quite willingly and were recommitted to jail. It is doubtful now if we will have the pleasure of Mr. Williams society at the reform school as he now stands charged with the serious offense of jail breaking which added to his former peccadillo of horse-stealing, probably removes him from the list of incorrigibles and constitutes him a proper subject for the "pen;" then in all probability he has falsely stated his age in order to secure admission to the school instead of going to the "pen."

Last evening shortly after dusk a soldier whose identity is unknown was walking leisurely down the street in front of the land office, with his hands in his pockets and his head upturned, viewing the moon. He proceeded until just in front of the land office when he disappeared from view, having stepped into the open coal hole. His disappearance was followed by a shovel full of coal thrown by the man who was unloading the wagon. Nothing serious resulted from the fall aside from a few bruises.

Brilliant Comic Opera.

"Amorita," an opera which met with a phenomenal run at the New York Casino comes to the opera house. This opera is filled with brilliant music and catchy solos, is prolific in comedy lines and abounds in spectacular effects. The staging and costuming of the opera have been upon a most magnificent scale. The company is an unusually strong one and their coming will undoubtedly prove the event of the season. Our exchanges all speak in glowing terms of the company and the opera. The following from the Milwaukee Journal of November 9th, being a fair sample:

The Calhoun Opera company, now playing light operetta at the Academy, changed its bill last evening and put on Czibulka's Amorita. This pretty representative of the Vienna school of operetta is well known here by the frequent performance of its striking catchy melodies at the theaters and elsewhere. It has the usual absurdities and the usual low comedy element which make it a pleasant amusement and recreation for a tired man after a hard days work. The company gave it with a good deal of go and spirit. Miss Millard and Miss Farrington were recalled several times, the serenade of students with its mandolin accompaniment was also encored, and there were other bits which commanded the same mark of appreciation, a tably the dancing of the two little slaves of the Moorish ambassador. The piece will continue through the middle of the week.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Young Vagabond.

On Saturday afternoon when the fire broke out, Mrs. Wilcox who was the tenant together with Mrs. Chapois were visiting Mrs. Trask, as a matter of safety Mrs. Wilcox left her watch on the stand fearing that in running she might drop it. Mrs. Chapois for a like reason left her pocket book in the same place, they returned after the excitement of the fire was over to find that both the pocket book and watch had disappeared. For a time all hands were at loss to know what had become of the missing articles, but it is now firmly believed that some of the young vandals of the city, seizing the opportunity of an empty house entered and got away with the goods.

At Ketchum who has of late years at tained quite a reputation as a wolf hunter, is down from the Crow agency for the purpose of securing hounds, with which to hunt this winter. Ketchum says dogs will get more wolves than any of the other methods used in trying to exterminate the animal, and besides there is the exciting pleasure of the chase. The invoice of hides as the result of Ketchum's last raid is 74 grey wolves and 54 coyotes.

Schoolboy (wearing)—What's the use of learning all this stuff?
Teacher—It is chiefly to cultivate the memory.
Schoolboy—Don't you think it would be more sensible to buy a phonograph?
—Good News.

In England there are 114 widows to every 54 widowers. In Italy their respective numbers (per 1,000 women and 1,000 men) are 186 and 60. In France 139 and 78; in Germany 130.5 and 50; in Australia 121 and 44.

The Essence of a Watch.

Rossini's watch, which has recently been sold at Bologna to a rich Englishman whose name is not mentioned, has a history. In 1824 Charles X presented the composer with a repeating watch, studded with diamonds, and playing two of Rossini's melodies. Nobody in Bologna could clean the watch, so it was sent in the care of the tutor Fabiano to Paris, where it was destroyed in a fire. Pleyel, the watchmaker, thereupon made a second watch, the exact counterpart of the first, except that the diamonds were false, and Rossini, who never discovered this phony fraud, wore the trinket all his life. On his death it passed to a relative, whose son has just sold it. It is said to contain an excellent portrait in enamel of Rossini as he was in 1824.

A Dog's Palace.

Baron Farnchetti, the father of the composer, has had a dog kennel erected in his palace at Venice, made throughout of marble. The ceiling is decorated with a splendid mosaic, entitled "The Chase of Diana." The eating and drinking vessels of the dogs are said to be of embossed silver. Of course the kennel is lighted by electricity.—Familienblatt.

Not Her Will.

Agnes—What are you writing, Minnie? Your will?
Minnie—No. I'm writing my won't. George proposed last night, and I told him I'd answer today.—London Sketch.

At this Season

Something is needed to keep up the appetite, assist digestion and give good, healthful sleep. For these purposes Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted. As a blood purifier it has no equal, and it is chiefly by its power to make pure blood that it has won such fame as a cure for scrofula, salt rheum, boils and other similar diseases.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are eminent and gentle. 25c.
