DEMANDS RESIGNATION OF SECRETARY OF ENGLISH CABINET

LONDON, Mar. 18.—The methods of the government in dealing with militant sufragees were discussed in heated fashion today in the house of commons. One of the unionist members, Harold Smith, declared that the passive submission of the authorities, "hunger strikes," and subterfuges had brought ridicule on the administration of the law. "The country faces mob rule," he urged, "and emergency measures are necessary. The home secretary has reduced the administration of the law to a farce." Mr. Smith turned on the home secretary and dramatically demanded that he resign from the cabinet.

LACK OF SUN AND AIR CAUSES MORBIDNESS SAYS PROF.

PARIS, Mar. 18.—"A certain morbidity among girls and women, which rests so heavily on life, is due to lack of sun, air and exercise," asserted Professor Manjon of Nice, the chief speaker at today's session of the physical education congress. "Sun bathing, air bathing and frequent physical exercise in loose garments are indispensable to good health and good temper in women," declared the lecturer. In a later part of his address he urged that the high school girls be taught the elements of knowledge fitting them for motherhood.

WITNESS GLAD TO GET OUT OF TOWN

CHICAGO, Mar. 19.—James Tak, one of the government witnesses in the case charging A. C. Frost and four others with Alaska coal land frauds, said he was "durn glad to get out of this burg," today when Judge Landis excused him. Tak, a Klondike miner, expressed his desire to get back to California with such profound sincerity that a titter went round the room. Charles S. Hubbell, a former government employe who surveyed the lands involved in the case testified the lands showed no trace of mineral other than coal.

How Could He Know.

Jim Murphy had been accused of selling liquor illicitly and the prosecuting attorney was endeavoring to make Pat, a job teamster, admit that he had delivered liquor to the defendant. He stated that he had once delivered freight to Murphy and that part of that freight was a barrel, but when ask what the barrel contained he replied he did not know.

"Don't know! Wasn't the barrel marked?" asked the attorney.

"Yes Sor."

"Then how dare you tell the court that you don't know what was in it?"

"Because, Sor, the barrel was marked 'Jim Murphy' on one end and 'Bourbon Whiskey' on the other. How the devil did I know which was in it?"

On the Witness Stand.

Thomas Barry, a Boston lawyer, was recently examining an Irish witness in a municipal court in a suit having to do with an accident on the street car. Here is a fragment of the information elicited by the lawyer's advice that the witness give an account of the disaster in his own words.

"Well, the man fell in th' street as the car passed; th' th' car stopped, an' we all ran out. The crowd gathered around th' man and shouted: 'He's kilt, he's kilt!' Thin of jumped in, pulled a dozen of the spalpeens out uv th' way and yells at 'em: 'Yez thick-heads, yez! If the man's kilt why in Hivvin's name don't yez stand to one side and let him have a br-reath of air-'"

Defective Education.

A well known citizen of Baltimore was recently spending a few days with his wife at Atlantic City. When he seated himself in the dining room on the evening of his arrival he discovered he could not read the menu, as he had left his glasses in his room. His wife was in the same predicament, so calling a waiter he said:

"Read that to me and I will give you a half a dollar." Quick as a flash the waiter replied: "Scuse me, boss, but I ain't had much ejection maself."

Not a Good Swimmer.

Two men in the west were to be hanged for horse stealing. The place selected was the middle of a trestle bridge spanning a river. The rope was not securely tied about the neck of the first man to be dropped, and the knot slipped; he fell in the river and immediately swam for the shore. As they were adjusting the rope for the second culprit, an Irishman, he remarked:

"Will yez be sure and tie that good and tight, 'cause I can't swim."

Marshall's Busy Corner

Good Morning MRS. JOHNSON

Ko koi se pos Tmos no dobro

How are you today? O, I don't feel very well. Why, what is it? Now I have some news, read it:

Our best friend of the poor people's store is going away. What for? For his health. His partner (Murphy) found a claim of rich ore and they have to leave town, so they don't want to ship the goods out to make the Railroad company rich, so they are going to have a sale for the benefit of the people. O, Mrs. O'Brien, hurry up and I will help you wash the dishes. Come, I will show you the place. It is strictly cash, but if you haven't the money I will let you have it. O, come Mrs. Johnson, show me where it is. O, Mrs. O'Brien, you know the place but you only rely on the credit basis because you don't know the value of a cash system. This means Murphy, the Irish Jew. You show him a piece of money that looks like a ten-cent piece and he will grab it like a hungry dog does a bone and will give you goods to the value of $5.00. That is the way he started here so he made a small fortune and I believe he can retire from business now. He believes in big sales and small profits. See what good you have done me, Mrs. Johnson. I have bought everything I need at half the price I would have to pay on credit. Look what I bought:

- ONE $2.00 SWEATER FOR..... 50 cents
- FOUR PAIRS OF SOCKS FOR..... 25 cents
- FOUR PAIRS LADIES' HOSE..... 25 cents
- FIVE PAIRS CANVASS GLOVES..... 25 cents
- ONE PAIR OF OVERALLS..... 65 cents
- ONE PAIR LADIES' SHOES..... $1.20 to $3.50
- ONE SUIT OF CLOTHES..... $4.25
- ONE EASTER HAT..... $3.50
- ONE GENT'S EASTER HAT..... 95 cents
- CHILDREN'S SHOES..... 75 cents to $2.50
