Gone to Tonopah.

Thursday our esteemed fellow-townsmen, Attorney Geo. A. Bartlett, left for Tonopah, where he has opened a branch law office. Mr. Bartlett is leading attorney in several important lawsuits over mining property in that place. For the past month Mr. Bartlett has been preparing for this trip. He purchased the finest pair of mules ever raised in Nevada, also a hickory neckyoke with leather straps on either end and in the middle, and a pair of up-to-date brake-blocks, leather bound, and started off looking very happy—via E. & P. R. R.—Eureka Sentinel.

The present snowfall is the heaviest that has occurred on the Comstock since the winter of 1890. The fall was almost continuous for seventy hours, depositing an average of fully three feet. The local train was blocked near the round-house for several hours to-day and the coach attached to it was brought back to the depot by the express train, which arrived forty-five minutes behind card time drawn by two locomotives, the forward one equipped with a snow-plow.—Report.

The brigands who kidnaped Miss Stone certainly appreciate the value of advertising, for they claim that was their motive. It is equally certain they got what they were after; and now that Miss Stone has been released her fortune is made, for when she starts on her lecturing tour, which is sure to follow, people will fall over themselves to get a "geek" at her—all the result of advertising.

Organization has been effected in Reno with the object of holding a street carnival there in July. Committees have been appointed to proceed with the arrangements.
