GASOLINE RAILWAY CARS SAVE RAILROAD'S MONEY

Railroad officials have become much interested in late in the gasoline-propelled type of railway car. A number of short-line railroads have been operating passenger cars of this type successfully for several years, but it is only recently that the gasoline rail coach has come to attract wide attention on the part of railroad men, not only operators of short line railways, but officials of the country's largest transportation systems. The rail car makes its greatest appeal as the result of its simplicity and operating economy.

The latest and most improved type of gasoline rail car was recently shown after a trial run. The car, which is owned by the Union Transportation Company of New Egypt, N. J., was the feature exhibit at the convention of the American Shortline Railroad Association held recently in Washington, D. C. It is the second gasoline rail car to be placed in service by the New Jersey road.

The car was driven under its own power over the Pennsylvania railroad from Philadelphia to Washington and with various railway officials as passengers, made daily runs during the convention over the tracks of the Washington & Old Dominion Railroad from Washington to Great Falls and Bluemont, Va.

The car has a seating capacity of 41 and a baggage compartment directly in the rear of the driver who controls the car from the right-hand side. The body which is of semi-steel construction is mounted on a new rail car chassis, built by The White Company, truck manufacturers, Cleveland, Ohio. There is a four-wheel pivotal truck in front and two wheels in the rear. It is governed to a speed of 33 miles per hour.

NYE COUNTY MARBLE FOR WINGFIELD HOTEL

A great impetus to the marble industry at Carrara, Nye County, will come from the adoption of the product of the quarries there for the inner finish of the Wingfield hotel at Winnemucca. This is the first public building where the Nevada product has received recognition and there is every reason to believe that the new addition to the Hotel Golden will also include Carrara, Nye County, marble, in the specifications. Architect De Longchamps is the leader in his profession in the State and he is fully alert to the value of developing domestic resources. When the State memorial building was projected he wanted to incorporate Nevada marble and would have done so had it not been for conditions that precluded the Carrara Company from assuming the contract. In designing the Humboldt hotel that occupies the site of the former Eldorado hotel at Winnemucca, the architect stipulates: "All marble construction and all marble bases to be American Carrara marble, white with bone finish; all marble in lavatories to be American Carrara marble, white," says the Tonopah Times.

New "Landed Gentry" in England

The advent of a new "landed gentry" in England since the war is made plain by "Burke's," an annual work of reference on that subject which has reappeared after a break of seven years. Over 100 names of old landowners have disappeared since the last edition, and their places have been taken by double that number of newcomers. In the preface, the editor remarks: "Much as the landholding of old families from the land, or the diminution of their holdings, is to be regretted, the rise of a new class of landed gentry, possessed of means enabling them to develop estates which have become impoverished through the misfortunes of their previous owners, cannot be without benefit to the country."

WESTERN PACIFIC TO HAUL BIG GRAVEL TONNAGE

KELLY BONANZA STILL SHIPPING

Freak Randsburg Property, One of West's Sensations Producing Steadily

The Kelly mine, one of the most spectacular bonanza mines developed in the west in recent years, is proving to be a steady producer. From discovery, in the latter part of 1919, up to November 1, 1921, according to records published by the California State mining bureau, the Kelly property had produced over $2,500,000 from 25,000 tons of ore shipped and had paid dividends amounting to over $1,000,000. This was exclusive of the Grady lease, which during the same period had shipped ore valued at over $1,000,000 from a block of ground only 120 feet square and 400 feet in depth.

Reliable information states that up to March 26 of this year ground held by the company had produced about $4,250,000 and had paid dividends of $1.19 per share. The story of the development of the Kelly mine, which is situated in the Randsburg district, one of the oldest gold districts in California, is of extreme interest.

In April of 1919 a leaser working in the Randsburg district believed an outcrop of rock looked as though it might contain silver. Prospectors hunting for gold ore frequently had sampled this outcrop, but owing to the fact that it did not "pan" gold colors they had passed it by as being worthless.

The surface rock did contain good silver values and work was started on what is now familiarly known as the Kelly mine, owned by the California Rand Silver, Inc. The first shipment of high grade silver ore was made from the property in June, 1919, and the first dividend was declared in December of the same year.

Development has indicated that silver ore exists in near-by territory, and as a result there is now in progress much earnest and intelligently directed exploration work for the purpose of locating further bodies of silver ore. From being a gold mining district Randsburg has suddenly won a place in the ranks of the important silver mining districts of America.
