EASTERN ORDERS TO DEWATER TYBO MINE

Tonopah Times: N. F. Kerr, superintendent of the Louisiana Con. mine and smelter at Tybo, has received instructions from New York to arrange for dewatering the mine which has been accumulating water for the past two years since the company went on the rocks. The property has been in the hands of S. R. Moore, receiver, under whose directions the property was sold last fall in accordance with orders of the U. S. Court. The receivership was completed when Mr. Moore submitted his final report to the court in January. The holdings of the Louisiana Company were bought in for the stockholders by a committee consisting of Julius Stebert and Herman Rawltzer, two representative capitalists of New York, who always expressed great faith in the company making good under proper management. The order to dewater the mine was accompanied by notice that it was deemed desirable to sample the group and, from this, it is inferred that the re-organized company is preparing to resume on a large scale.

TONOPAH FIRE LOSS PLACED AT $75,000

Three business blocks on lower Main street were completely destroyed by flames at Tonopah Wednesday after the biggest fire that has occurred at Tonopah since July 8, 1912, when four business blocks in the center of town were destroyed. At that time both newspaper offices and brokerage buildings were demolished.

The total insurance on the ruined property is said to be $25,000. Revisions of the estimate of the fire loss lowers it to between $75,000 and $100,000. One of the heavy losers is J. Grant Crumley, owner of the Globe garage, valued at $10,000. Fifteen of the finest cars in Tonopah were removed before the flames touched the building.

Dynamite and the arrival of a special train from Goldfield are responsible for saving the Southern Pacific depot.

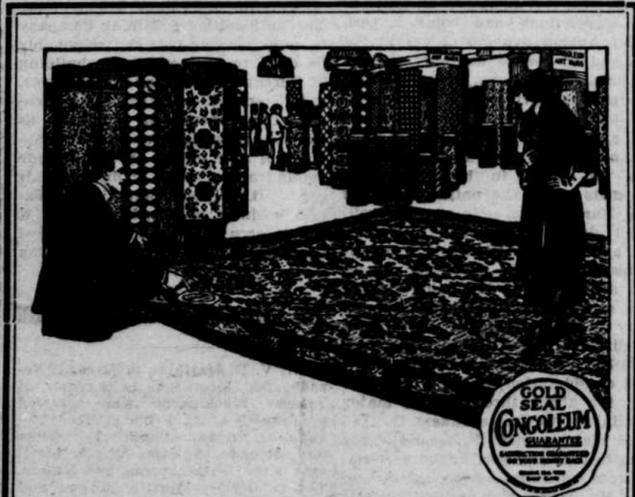

WHITE PINE RANCHER BELIEVES IN MOONSHINE

Roy Mathias, manager of the Cleveland ranch of the Adams-McGill company, was an Ely visitor during the week and states that he is now a moonshiner for fair, which is accounted for by the fact that during the past week the wind blew so hard in Spring Valley that his haying crews found much difficulty in harvesting. As the wind always "lays" at night Roy decided to do the work by moonlight, hence during the early part of the week crews commenced work at 1 o'clock in the morning and continued until the wind came up after the rising of the sun. The scheme was found to work satisfactorily in accomplishing results in the field, but the men would not endorse it as a regular proposition.—Ely Record.

COPPER BELT WOULD REDUCE TRAIN SERVICE

Frank B. Warren, acting secretary of the Nevada Public Service Commission, announces that the Nevada Copper Belt Railroad Company has applied for permission to reduce its daily train service between Mason and Hudson to tri-weekly. Lack of traffic and the necessity of reducing expenses are given as reasons for making the request.

The events of the night before generally stand out most forcibly the day following.

To The Republican Voters of Nevada:

As a candidate for the nomination for Congressman I solicit your votes at the primary, September 5, 1922. I can not make an expensive primary campaign, nor do I believe it is the proper thing to do, I simply wish to put my candidacy squarely before you, solely upon the basis of my fitness for the office and strength as a candidate to win for the party. If you believe that my personal ability, character, and experience, my wide acquaintanceship with the State of Nevada, and its needs, are such as to fit me to represent you in Congress, and you further believe that my political strength is such as to promise victory over the Democratic candidate, I trust that you will vote accordingly. If nominated I will make the most vigorous campaign and I am confident that I can win in November, and, if elected, I will endeavor to make you one of the best Congressmen Nevada ever had.
 Faithfully yours,
A. GRANT MILLER
