Advice to the Gardener

[Written for the United States School Garden Army.]

The day has passed when a shrub can be planted anywhere in the front yard. There is a particular place for the shrub or it is out of place. L. H. Bailey says: "Where to plant is really more important than what to plant."

Aside from the ever-present necessity of neat and clean grounds, the attractiveness of the front yard is dependent upon three principles: (1) "Tying" the house down to the ground with occasional shrubs and vines so placed that they will not crowd each other but will break the severe lines between the house and the lawn. (2) Choosing and arranging these shrubs with one, two or three kinds as a basis. (3) Leaving the centers in lawns free of unnecessary walks, drives, piles of stones, or pieces of statuary.

A home could be attractively planted with either of two groups of plants—those that are not native and therefore must be purchased or grown from cuttings and those that are native and easily available. The native plants are to be preferred, since they not only decorate the home, but attract the birds by providing shelter and food throughout the winter months.

A suggestive list of the plants is given herewith:

Shrubs—Abelia, athaea, barberry, deutzia, forsythia, hydrangea, Japanese quince, dwarf, euonymus, lilac, privet, roses, spiraea, snowball, syringa, weigelia.

Vines—Boston ivy, clematis, English ivy, wistaria, climbing roses, climbing euonymus.

Transplanting—Many shrubs are stunted by careless planting. The hole in which the shrub is to be placed should be deep enough so that good loam may be filled in for the new roots to feed upon and the shrub placed at the same depth it was before. It should also be wide enough for the roots to be well spread out. The shrub should be placed erect and the soil thoroughly packed around the roots. To balance the loss of roots, half of the branches should be removed at time of planting.

Pruning—The shrubs and vines used to beautify the home should require very little care or attention other than the removal of old, dead, broken, or rubbing branches.

Shrubs in the back yard to be used as screens or to supply flowers should be pruned as follows: Spring flowering shrubs, such as forsythia, should be pruned immediately after blooming. Summer and fall flowering shrubs, such as roses, should be severely pruned in the early spring before the buds open.

NOTICE

State of Nevada, Engineer's Office, Carson City.

In the Matter of the Determination of the Relative Rights to the Waters of Carson River and its Tributaries, in the Counties of Churchill, Douglas, Lyon, and Ormsby, in the State of Nevada.

To All Users and Claimants of, in or to the Waters of the Said Carson River and its Tributaries:

You are hereby notified that, pursuant to section 14 of chapter 253 of the Session Laws of 1915, being section 88a of "An Act to Provide a Water Law for the State of Nevada, etc." I will consider any and all maps, plats, surveys, and evidence on file in the office of the state engineer relating to any proof of appropriation involved in the proceedings for the determination of the relative rights in and to the waters of Carson river, and its tributaries, in the counties of Churchill, Douglas, Lyon, and Ormsby, State of Nevada; and that I will submit my findings to the Court under the provisions of the above-mentioned act as amended.

You are further notified that you may, within sixty days after date of this notice, or until June 10, 1920, file with the state engineer any additional or supplementary maps, plats, surveys, or evidence, or objections to the admissibility of any evidence hitherto presented and on file in my office, in relation to your claim of water right or adverse to the claim or claims of the water right of any other party or parties in interest, in order so to perfect your claim in accordance with the provisions of the above-mentioned act; and I will consider the whole thereof in rendering my order of determination, and the same shall become a part of the record which shall be submitted to the court as provided by law.

Dated at Carson City, Nevada, this 10th day of April, A. D., 1920.

J. G. SCRUGHAM,
State Engineer.

April 17-4w.

It Pays to Read Advertisements

You've often heard the saying, "It pays to advertise." That is true. And it also pays to read advertisements --- pays you. If you read advertisements consistently for any length of time you will agree that this statement is also true.

IT PAYS YOU IN MONEY SAVED. There are many real bargains offered from time to time in the advertisements that appear in the Appeal. Watch for them.

IT PAYS YOU IN SATISFACTION. When a merchant asks you to come to his store he obligates himself to sell you quality goods "as advertised." And you have a right to expect satisfaction from what you buy and you get it.

It pays you in the time saved. When you know exactly what you want to buy and where to go to buy it, you don't have to "look around" and waste time finding it.

Do you want to save money and time? Wouldn't you like to be sure of getting satisfactory service and quality goods every time you go to a store? Then read the advertisements and patronize the stores which can serve you best.
