¶ The departure of the cook or the maid does not prostrate the [illegible] who knows the efficiency of the want ad.
¶ And want ad-reading servants are of the desirable class.
¶ Seldom does a "girl wanted" ad run its full time until a "Stop—girl supplied" order is received.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children, of all ages and for grown-ups.

¶ A crowd is what you need, Mr. Farmer, at that sale. The more bidders the higher the prices your stuff will bring.
¶ Publish the entire list of articles to be offered for sale, and see what happens.

NOTICE!
TO THE PUBLIC:

Public notice is hereby given to all that the law requires that all gates leading to and from the public highway shall be kept closed at all times.

CHEERING IN THE COMMONS

Various Kinds of Applause That Are to be Heard in the British Lower House.

The giving of applause in the British house of commons has attained the dignity of a science. A cheer from a single member is not infrequent, but has little significance unless it comes from an important personage. It is cheering in chorus that constitutes the British demonstration.

The tone of the cheering varies according to the temper of those who cheer. First, there is the hearty, full-voiced cheer of genuine approval, resounding, awakening the echoes and full of encouragement.

Next comes the low, subdued cheer, gradually spreading along all the benches, indicating the deep-seated agreement that does not seek vociferous or libarious expression. This is employed either on solemn occasions or in moments of pathos or in acknowledgment of some confession on the part of an opponent.

Ironical cheering is often heard in the commons. The tone of sarcasm is always unmistakable. Often it is the greeting accorded to an argument or a statement by an opponent, for the denial of which there may not be an opportunity. It is hostile but frequently good-natured enough.

As an intensification of this there is the sarcastic cheer, far sharper and more incisive. Mingled with laughter, it is, from the British standpoint, as disconcerting to the speaker as anything may well be.
