WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well-fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bismuth magnesia in a little hot water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bismuth magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach, but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bismuth magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bismuth magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right." adv.

Wrinkles Disappear As If By Magic

"In the removal of wrinkles, I have discarded cosmetics entirely," writes Mme. Corsan, the celebrated Parisian beauty expert. "The results they produce are deceptive and never permanent. Massaging is only partially successful and it's too slow a method. 'I've never seen anything work so wonders as a simple harmless solution any woman can prepare, and use at home without the least trouble. A half pint of witch hazel and an ounce of gold powdered sassafras are all you'll need. Mix the two and apply this refreshing solution to your face daily. The effect is marvelous—instantaneous. The skin becomes firmer, tighter—every wrinkle and sag is affected. You feel so refreshed after using the wash, you look refreshed, too; soon you will look ten years younger." Society World, adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sanson, 648 A REBELLION Food Demand

The human body will stand a lot of abuse before it will actually rebel and demand proper food in place of the starchy, greasy stuffs on which it has been made sick.

Then is the time to try Grape-Nuts, the most scientific and perfect food in the world.

A lady of Washington writes: "Three years ago I was very ill with catarrh of the stomach and was given up to die by one doctor. I laid in bed four months and my stomach was so weak that I could not keep down medicine or hardly any kind of food and was so weak and emaciated after four months of this starvation that my daughter could easily lift me from bed and put me in my chair."

"But weak as my stomach was, it accepted, relished and digested Grape-Nuts without any difficulty the first time that wonderful food was tried."

"I am now strong and in better health than for a great many years and am gradually growing still stronger. I rely on Grape-Nuts for much of the nourishment that I get. The results have certainly been wonderful in my case and prove that no stomach is so weak it will not digest Grape-Nuts."

"My baby got fat from feeding on Grape-Nuts. I was afraid I would have to stop giving the food to him, but I guess it is a healthy fat for his health is just perfect." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

LOVE, HAIR AND MARRIAGE

From the beginning of romantic history down to the present day, every story of love has spoken of the maid's hair as one of her chief charms. Fair locks amply pay for the care and time used in keeping them beautiful and are all that is necessary for developing and retaining hair beauty. In washing the hair it is not advisable to use a makeshift but always use
