true patriotism, not unmixed, perhaps, with the modern ideas of our Young America Both gentlemen were received with hearty applause and hore away to their homes the good wishes of their old teachers and fellow students.

The musical selections, under the able direc-ion of the Rev. R. Hollaind S.J., were executed with admirable skill, and afforded the highest gratification to lovers of harmony. Amongst the pieces, figured the "Pre aux Clercs" of Hernd the "Freischutz" of Weber. To which we my add the "Larghetto" of Beethoven full of pp pathos, and the "Symphony for children" by Haydn, whose strains, gaily enhanced by the lively sounds of toy instruments were reived with unstinted applause. The distriof many a fond parent, who shed tears of gladess over the successes of their laureate chil-We cannot refrain from mentioning the ollowing young gentlemen, Masters John Henderson, F. The whole was crowned by a well executed piece from the College brass-band, under the direction of Mr. P. Leche, when the people departed bomewards with a pleasant souvenir of their day at Spring Hill College.

JESUIT'S COLLEGE.

The twenty ninth Annual Commencement and distribution of premiums took place at this college Thursday evening, July 26th. The programme consisted of a beautiful classic or instrumenta! and vocal music.

The play of Ion is in five acts. It was magificently mounted as regards scenic effects, stage appointments and costumes. The cast -and than this nothing further need be said to those who know the high standing of the institution and the recognized abilities of its scholars. We will mention particularly the three young men to whom had been en-trusted the principal characters; Masters M. Finney, E. Toledano, and M. Hoey, and com-mend them highly for action, bearing, delivery and stage knowledge. These same young men also figured very prominently in the farce, which was most excollently randered.

The scholars often distinguished by being

From the Register, of August 1st, we con dense:

The annual commencement of this well-known and well-anatained school was very largely attended yesterday morning. Not only were cars filled, but there were a great many private carriages as well as public conveyances on the grounds. The hail was closely filled, and it was a great compliment to the subclara that the audience were so patient in this uncomfortable hot weather. The reverend clergy were out in full force. We noticed Right Rev. Bishop Quinlan, Very Rev. Father O'Callaghan, V. G., Fathers Browne, Keeler, Ryay, Armstrong, Morley, McCafferty, Roduit, Insand, Serra, Antonio, Kirwin, Gardiner, and others. We also noticed some of our most prominent citizens present as apectators.

we saw noticed some or our more promined citizens present as speciators.

The exercises opened by a spirited four-hand overfure on two pianos, "Euryanthe," It was given, as was indeed all the music, with a finish and a perfection that reveals a most patient and thorough training. We insert the programme:

and M. Mauser.

The first honers in the Senior Circle for lady-like deportment, are awarded to Misses L. Grivemberg S. Edwards F. and L. Herpin, A. Dawes, A. Olivier, M. Manser, L. McDoffie, E. Mettins, C. Conningham, N. Kaster, R. Boltz and B. Dunie.

The second honors are awarded to Misses M. Moreno, J. Edwards, A. Mertins, C. Philipe, L. Pepper, R. Antomarche, A. Dopre, A. Grivemberg, F. and J. Real, A. and F. Reitz, M. Teney, M. Troy and L. Thompson.

At the close of the academic year the highest honors of the school, consisting of a crown and gold medal, are awarded to Misses Luara Buckley, of Mobile, Mathilde Olivier, of New Orleans, Estelle Campbell, of New Orleans, and Stolla Macy, of Mobile, for excellency of deportment and success in the graduating class.

The "Call of the Fairies" was a vocal chorus that elleited hearty applace. We also note the "Free Phonde Basse" as one of the best the "Cat's Duet," for it made more music than anything else.

The gold cross presented by Father Browne for general excellency, ladylike deportment and exact fidelity to the rules of the Academy, was contested by five of a qual merit. To decide, they drew lote, and Muse Laura McDuffie, won the cross. The valedictory was touching indeed. The fair graduates were so overpowered, that it was hardly possible to read it. After the finale, the Right Rev. Bishop delivered a few words by way of a parting address. He was very felicitous in his remarks, and won the admiration of all who heard him,

LETTER FROM MOBILE

MOBILE, July 31, 1877

Editor Morning Star :

On Thursday evening closed the schools at tached to St. Joseph's Church. The examina-tions were rigidly conducted and perfect satisfaction given. On the last evening the follow-ing programme was carried out, to the great delight of a large and enthusiastic audience: delight of a large and enthusiastic articles:

ADIRU.

Great efforts are being made to complete as rapidly as possible the works of the second as well as of the first line of German fortresses. The new forts on the left bank of the Rhine at Cologne, which as originally intended were not to be finished before the end of next year, are already approaching completion, and will be ready to be occupied by their garrison during the course of the present summer. The girdle of detatched works round the fortress is to be completed by forts on the right bank of the river. Plans and designs for these have been drawn up, and contracts for their execution entered into; but the work is to extend over four years. When completed Cologne will be one of the strongest of German fortresses.

Ordinary Notices of Marriages and Deaths will, hereofter be inserted for fifty cents. Obituaries will be charged at the rate of ten cents a line.

Gone to rest to home and heaven,
Beautoous flow'ret, pure and fair
Gone to live in realms eternal,
Crown of bliss forc'er to wear!

Just as morning first awakened Rosy raya scross the east

To her grand Celestial fast! Culled our beauteous little flow ref Her they called their treasure mild, ook her home to live forever As sweet Mary's new-made child.

Took her home to land of beauty.

Home of happiness and grace.

Where, with love that knows no onding.

All had formed her jeweled place.

Happy darling! loved companions

Kneel around thy snewy bier,

W bile sweet prayers, like incesse risign Ming'e with each bitter tear.

Prayers and praises "to their Mother To the Queen of Light and Love, Swift, they've weven, and the angels Form the beauteous crown above.
