CORRESPONDENCE

Evansville

Ernest Kleinsmith and Miss Gladys Meacham were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs Geo Meacham Thursday last.

Walter Honeysett of Footville and Mrs Ella M Hastings of Beloit were married at the home of the bride Dec 25. The ceremony was performed by Rev Bullock of Footville.

Arthur H Scholtz of Oregon, formerly principal of the Evansville school is thinking of becoming a candidate for assemblyman from the third district of Dane county at the next election.

Ray V Fessenden arrived from Kansas City, Mo, last week for a visit with his people. While in Kansas City he has become a champion billiard player and since his return has been entertaining his friends with exhibitions of his skill.

Henry D Morgan has answered the final summons. This came as a shock to the man's many friends on Tuesday morning, for although it was known that he had been in poor health for several weeks, no one suspected that the end would come so quickly. Mr Morgan was born in Cooksville, Wis, April 27, 1849, and was the oldest of four children. After completing the course in the local school he came to Evansville and studied in the seminary, going then to finish his studies in Milton college. As a boy he was a great reader, being especially interested in historical and political subjects, thus laying a solid foundation for what became his life work. In the late 60's he became a member of The Review force and it was here that he learned his trade as printer of I A Hoxie, founder of the paper. Mr Morgan was united in marriage to Miss Mary Leedle, also of Cooksville. To this union there was born one son, B W Morgan, now residing in Racine. Besides the wife and son, there mourn his loss one brother, R V Morgan of Madison, and two sisters, Ella Morgan of Cooksville and Mrs Clouden Stebbins of Stoughton.

Milton Junction

Mrs A E Webster and son of Chicago are guests this week at the home of her father, Geo W Coon.

Miss Ethel Bliven has finished her season's work for Mrs F M Roberts, and has returned to her home near Albion.

While removing a closed can of hot oatmeal from the stove Monday Menzo Beach got badly burned about the face. The cover of the can blew off and the boiling oatmeal struck Mr Beach in the face.

Ed Bingham shot a fine specimen of the bald eagle, at Koshkonong last week. The bird is a rare one in this section and was good sized, measuring eight feet from tip to tip. Mr Bingham shot the bird while in the act of carrying off some of his chickens.

On Monday afternoon, Dec 27, at 4 o'clock, at the home of Mr and Mrs M M Hetts near Clear Lake, their daughter, Miss Rosamond, was united in marriage to Herbert P Gallier of Delta, Colo, by Rev Andrew Porter in the presence of a small company of relatives and friends.

Glenn Fuller, who has been engaged in carpenter work in North Dakota, arrived home Friday. He was obliged to stop work owing to inability to get material on account of the switchmen's strike in St Paul. While merchandise in "way freight" shipments is delivered, material in car lots is tied up completely.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

The above offer is cash in advance. Send in your subscriptions to the Reporter.

Camel a Delicate Beast.

Contrary to the widespread but erroneous opinion, the camel is a very delicate animal. A camel that has worked fifteen days in succession needs a month's pasturage to recuperate. It is liable to a host of ailments and accidents. When a caravan crosses a sebkha, or dry salt lake, it is rare that some of the animals do not break a leg. If the fracture is in the upper part of the limb there is nothing for it but to slaughter the animal and retail its flesh as butcher's meat.

If the lower part of the limb has been injured the bone is set and held in position by means of splints made of palm branches, which are bound with small cords. If no complications ensue at the end of a month the fracture is reduced. When it is a case of simple dislocation the injured part is cauterized with a redhot iron, then coated with clay and bandaged with a strip of cloth. Fifteen days afterward the animal is generally cured.—Vulgarisation Scientifique.

Scriptural Carving.

A Scriptural method of carving fowls when in secular company was claimed by a witty clergyman who, having been asked to carve one day, said, "Inasmuch as you demand it, I will carve the fowl according to Biblical principles." "Yes," exclaimed the hostess, "act according to the Scriptures." The theologian therefore began the carving. The baron was tendered the head of the fowl, the baroness the neck, the two daughters a wing apiece and the two sons a first joint, the carver retaining the remainder.

"According to what interpretation do you make such a division?" inquired the host of his guest as he regarded the clergyman's heaping plate and the scant portions doled out to the family.

"From an interpretation of my own," replied the clerical wit. "As the master of your house the head belongs to you by right; the baroness, being most near to you, should receive the neck, which is nearest the head; in the wings the young girls will recognize a symbol of their noble thoughts, that fly from one desire to another; as to the young barons, the drumsticks they have received will remind them that they are responsible for supporting your house, as the legs of the capon support the bird itself."—London Standard.

A Compliment to the Minister.

In Albert Dawson's work, "Joseph Parker—His Life and Ministry," there are some anecdotes of the famous minister of the City temple. We are told that what Dr. Parker regarded as, in its own peculiar way, the best compliment he ever received came from an omnibus conductor. The vehicle was crossing Holborn viaduct, and when it came to the City temple a passenger alighted.

"That's the man, and that's the place," said the conductor, indicating Dr. Parker's church. "I went there once, and I enjoyed myself so much that I'm going again the first night off I have. We laughed, and we cried, and we had a rare time. You see," the conductor continued, "he doesn't make religion so — serious."

A New Excuse.

One of the men in a large pottery took two or three days' holiday now and again, and when he came back, on being asked what was wrong, he said he had been away burying his grandmother.

He did this two or three times, and then he thought he had better change his excuse, so, on being asked the next time, he replied:

"Well, my brother, the sailor, is at home just now, and he is so used to the sound of the waves that I had to lash handfuls of water on the window all night before he could sleep, and then I had to sleep during the day."—London Mail.

There Are Few People

Who would not gladly take the step from dirty, smoky, ill-smelling and troublesome oil lamps, to the clean, convenient Electric Light. Here-to-fore people of moderate means have considered Electricity beyond their reach.

For a short time only we have decided to make an offer so liberal that it cannot fail to appeal to every lover of home comfort and convenience. An offer that will enable those of the slenderest means to enjoy the light science and industry have brought up to a standard of perfection that makes it the peer of all of it's competitors.

We offer to wire your house complete as follows: 7 rooms, 3-2lt Fixtures complete, and 4 drop cords or side wall brackets, all ready to turn on the lights paid $5.00 down and $2.00 a month for 10 months, or $24.50 cash

During this offer we give an electric flat iron free to every one having their house wired on this proposition.
