REID WILL BEGIN WORK ON MORELAND THIS WEEK

Veteran Wrecking Master Arrives in Houghton Preparatory to Resuming Operations on the Wrecked Steamer.

Captain James Reid, the veteran wrecking master, arrived in Houghton this morning and states that he will at once begin preparations for resuming work on the steamer Moreland which went ashore last fall at Eagle River. The wrecking tug James Reid, belonging to the Reid Wrecking company, will arrive this evening from Sarnia by the latter part of the week at the latest. The Reid will not remain here, but will sail for the lower lakes, leaving the wrecking equipment here to be used by the tug Manistique, which will be the only tug on the job this summer, the Sarnia City having proceeded down the lakes after making an examination of the condition of the wreck early last week. The Manistique is at present at Ashland releasing the steamer Spokane, which went aground near that city last week. Captain Reid has an interest in the Spokane and expects to have her off in a few days.

Excursion to Moreland.
A party of about fifteen Houghton people visited the scene of the wreck of the Moreland yesterday afternoon on the tug Valerie, and spent the afternoon looking over the boat and noting the manner in which it had withstood the storm of the winter. The position of the wreck had not apparently changed since work was abandoned last winter, and those who had seen the vessel shortly after she went aground could note but little if any difference in her condition, unless possibly it might be that the breaks in the hull have widened a little. The lake was found to be a little rough, but the trip was made without any discomfort and was much enjoyed by those constituting the party. Next Sunday the Valerie will run a trip to Copper Harbor and return, and if the weather is favorable the excursion should prove a pleasant one and attract a goodly number of pleasure seekers.

WILL CELEBRATE FOURTH.

The members of Baraga House Co. are planning to celebrate the fourth of July in Baraga this year, says the L'Anse du Sentier. At a meeting held recently, a committee was appointed to enlist the support of the business men in this undertaking. The company has had charge of several events of this nature in years past and each one has been a success. If the money question can be satisfactorily arranged, the eagle will scream its loudest this year.

MAKES RAPID HEADWAY

Add This Fact to Your Store of Knowledge.

Kidney disease advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headach, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the urine is dark, foul-smelling, irregular and attended with pain, procure a good kidney remedy at once.

Your townspeople recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement of this Calumet citizen.
Mrs. Henry Peck, 1547, Hecla St., Calumet, Mich., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me so greatly that I strongly recommend them. I had kidney complaint in a severe form. The kidney secretions were unnatural and my back ached all the time. I used remedies of various kinds, but to no avail and I was confined to my bed for three months. Finally I read about Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. As they helped me, I continued taking them until cured."

RESIDENTS OF NEWTOWN IN DUEL ON BICYCLES

One Man Runs Another Down and Is Arrested on the Charge of Assault
With Intent to Do Great Bodily Harm.

Deputy Sheriff Vivian was called to the Newtown location, on the hilltop back of Hancock, about 7 o'clock last evening to arrest a man named Jacob, alias Charles Mattson, charged with committing an assault with intent to do great bodily harm on the person of Francis Leinonen. It is claimed that Mattson had threatened to injure Leinonen so that the latter would be "held up for about a month." Between 5 and 6 o'clock Sunday evening Leinonen was proceeding on a bicycle from Edwinstown to his home at Newtown, when he was chased by Mattson on another "bike," the latter catching up and ramming Leinonen's machine with his wheel. Leinonen was knocked to the ground, receiving a severe injury to his hip, which it is thought possible may have been fractured. A telephone message was sent to the sheriff's office and Under Sheriff Vivian responded, making the arrest shortly after 7 o'clock. An examination of Leinonen's injury will be made today by County Physician Jackson and Mattson may be arraigned this afternoon, most likely before Justice Oliver.

FOREST RANGERS NAMED.

W. B. Seifert and Fred C. Knapp Selected By Association.

Meers, W. B. Seifert and Fred C. Knapp have been appointed rangers for the Northern Protective Association, which was organized some time ago principally for the protection from fires, says the L'Anse du Sentier. Mr. Seifert left last Saturday for Watersmeet, having a large and well timbered territory to look after, and Mr. Knapp has the territory west of L'Anse to the county line, including all of Baraga township. His headquarters will be at Pelkie for the present.

These two gentlemen have had considerable experience in the woods and the association has made no mistake in their selection. Their duties will be similar to those of forestry wardens and they will be invested with power to arrest parties whom they find guilty of starting fires in the woods. They will report as often as possible the conditions of their territory and when ever they feel the need of help to fight fires, they will call for assistance, as it is the aim of the association to stop fires early in order to protect the timber and keep down losses.

RIB IN SKULL.

Surgeons Make Successful Transfer in Man's Frame.

George Williams, a St. Louis city hospital patient, but his hand to the back of his head, stroked his sixth rib with it and said he was feeling fine. He is the only man in St. Louis who has a rib in his head, surgeons at the hospital say. So far as known it is the only one in the world.
Williams, whose home is in New Orleans, was admitted as a patient March 25. A year and a half before this he had been struck on the head with a club, and in order to save his life a portion of the parietal bone at the back of his skull was removed.

The pressure of the scalp on the unprotected membrane beneath it caused an irritation of the brain cells, and Williams became subject to frequent paroxysms.

No one will tell the name of the surgeon who conceived the idea of putting one of Williams' ribs where the back of his skull ought to be. It is said he is a member of the visiting staff and a strong believer in medical progress.

Dr. A. H. Sewing, resident physician at the hospital says there have been many cases of bone grafting, but heretofore these operations have been confined to taking a slice of bone from one part of the skull and putting it on another. In Williams' case this was impossible, so large a portion of the skull had been removed. The visiting surgeon suggested that a rib would do. A piece four inches long and an inch wide was cut from the end of the rib and carefully fitted into the hole in the skull. The scalp was then sewed up over it. Williams has not had a paroxysm since the operation was performed.

TORCHLAKE

LAKES DEFEAT HANCOCKS.

Locals Still Have Perfect Percentage—12-Inning Game.

It required twelve innings for the Lake Linden high school baseball team to defeat the Hancock highs on the Hancock grounds Saturday, the final score being 9 to 7. The victory is the third straight for Lake Linden and the team still has a perfect percentage. The score was a tie at the end of the ninth and neither team registered until the twelfth when Voyer of Lake Linden got on base through an error of Lehto's and scored on Rule's home run drive. The Hancock players disputed the umpire's decision on the home run, claiming the ball had fallen into foul territory, and the finish of the game was marred by a disgraceful exhibition of rowdyism. Umpire Hanner was the victim of an assault in which rocks were thrown at him from the side lines. Several of the Hancock instructors were also hit by rocks.

Following is the score by innings:
R. H.
L. Linden 100030210002-9
Hancock 1100610022000-7
Infield and Dougherty, who were on the mound for Lake Linden fanned nine and six men respectively and Clarke of Hancock struck out eight local batters.

HOW A PAINTING IS MADE.

Some Idea of Creation Helpful in Studying Famous Paintings.

It will be helpful in thinking about famous pictures if we have some idea of how a painting is made. People who have known a great deal about pictures and who had first visited many galleries have said, nevertheless, that what they learned the first time they visited a studio and saw an artist really at work came to them as a revelation.

The materials are simple. Before the artist is his easel, on which, let us say, rests a large blank canvas; that is, a piece of linen cloth stretched and tacked upon wooden frame, and prepared to receive the colors.

Usually the artist stands at his work, so that he can readily walk back and forth and view the picture as it will look from some little distance. For this reason the room should be large. The light should come from above.

Near at hand are his colors, put up in tubes; and on his palette, which he usually holds in his left hand, he has squeezed enough of some fifteen or twenty colors to last him thru the day. In a dish is a small quantity of turpentine or oil, and very likely a little varnish or some other liquid suitable for "thinning" the colors. Now he has but to take one or more of his brushes, and begin to work.

But you must not suppose that he will begin to paint without any previous thought, even if the picture is to be a portrait and the model is seated before him. There is one important thing he has to do, and that is to think.

We can follow the artist at least a little way in his thoughts, for there are two important things he has always to consider.

Whatever the result is to be, he cannot paint everything in sight. So he must select. Some painters occasionally use a card with a small rectangular hole cut in it thru which they look. Whether they are in the studio or out of doors, they look thru this small hole until what they see seems to be about what they wish to paint. They determine in this way how much or how little of the entire scene they will include in their picture. But even from this selected fragment much must be left out. No artist could paint every blade of grass or every leaf on the trees or every hair of a head. He must find a way to suggest the whole without trying to literally put it all in—that is, in every detail.

One of the best qualities of an artist is knowing what to leave out.

Another important thing our artist will decide is the arrangement of his scene. If a model is before him, he will seat himself in different positions until the result will make a satisfactory picture. If it is a landscape, it may be that a tree or other object must be placed in a different position from the one it occupies in the real scene in order to appear best in the picture. If he followed nature exactly he would not have a picture, but by leaving out much and combining what is harmonious, he produces the effect of nature and makes what is called an artistic picture.

These two principles of selection and arrangement make up "composition." Before beginning to paint, the artist has nearly always settled upon the composition. Usually he makes one or more preliminary drawings for this purpose. If the picture is to be a portrait, a careful drawing of the face, in charcoal, perhaps on the canvas itself, perhaps on a separate sheet for reference.—Charles L. Barstow in St. Nicholas.

Jerry South, of Arkansas, who has succeeded William J. Browning, of New Jersey, as chief clerk of the national House of Representatives, has had an interesting and checkered career. One of the most exciting chapters of his early career in the South-west had to do with the famous murder of the Meeks family in Missouri. A few days after the family of five had been slain Mr. South was on his way to a political convention in Little Rock. Stopping at a crossroads town en route his attention was attracted to two strangers and his conversation with them led to his suspicion that they were Taylor brothers, the two bankers who were suspected of the wholesale murders. Mr. South borrowed a shotgun and captured the two men single handed on a lonely road outside the town. He took them to Little Rock with him and delivered them over to the authorities. Later the two bankers were returned to Missouri, tried and convicted of the murders.
