

LABOR ROW IN BUTTE IS NOT YET CLEARED UP

No Settlement Till Moyer and Associates Are Eliminated

Butte, Mont., Aug. 2.—The action of the Western Federation of Miners at their convention at Denver did not tend to clear the mine labor situation in Butte. The perpetuation of Moyer and his crowd in control of the federation, either as a separate or uniting organization, means the continued operation and hostility of a very large majority of the mine workers in Butte. There will never be labor satisfaction in this district as long as Moyer and the old associates remain prominent in the organization. With the elimination of Moyer and the old federation officers there is hope for a solution of the local trouble, and prospects for a settlement without drawing the mining companies into the fight, but with the old gang seeking to retain control of the office and assessment privileges the Butte workers will never give in without a desperate conflict that will involve the whole district and the mining companies.

Hope in Conservative Element.
The only hope for a restoration to peaceful conditions lies in the fact that among the 4,000 seceding miners there is a conservative element that opposes radicalism and is even against making any demands on the mining companies for recognition until the present contracts with the companies expire next spring. On the other hand, however, recent disclosures in the meetings of the new union show unquestionably that the radical J. W. W. element is in control of the organization, and about nine out of ten of the conditions for permanent office are members of that direct action organization. This element is not desirous of dealing with any national or international union—they have an idea that they are strong enough to go it alone and that dynamite is more potent than national union affiliation or influence.

Heads of the big mining companies are uncertain and fearful about the situation; they have always been the most fearful and nervous. The manager of one of the big companies contributed a large sum toward a picnic fund for the new union, and explained his action by saying he considered it "good insurance." The president of the largest mining company, visiting Butte, asked the newspapers to refrain from even mentioning the fact that he was in the city. It is little wonder that the dynamite and the destinies of Butte. A half a dozen officers with a single backbone, or a dozen determined and unafraid citizens would have settled the Butte labor trouble and dynamiting campaign before it started, and a few ex-convicts and anarchists would not be strutting insolently about the streets of Butte.

Commission is Coming.
The United States Commission on Industrial Relations will hold a meeting in Butte on August 4, 5, 6, and 7, and may bring out some interesting facts, but it is more likely that the real thing of interest will not be disclosed. For some time the members of the commission were in doubt about holding ing a meeting in Butte, because it was reemphasized that those most conversant with labor conditions and autonomy, for instance, would not dare testify at a public meeting unless they were ready to leave Butte in company with a deportation committee, and that a business man could not afford to tell what he thinks and knows about labor and the big corporations of Butte. However, the advance agents of the commission have satisfied themselves and the commissioners that a meeting could and should be held in Butte. A week might profitably be spent in this city, but the commission can give only three days of its time, and the number of witnesses to be examined will necessarily be limited to one or two representatives of the various interests and factions.

His opponents on the Democratic side include Sidney Swags of Ardmore, Charles I. Stewart of Elmd, and former Supreme Court Justice Samuel W. Hayes of Chickasha. John Rucker of Guthrie has been endorsed for the senatorial nomination by the Republicans in state conference.

FOUR GREAT POWERS ARE ENGAGED IN ACTUAL WAR

London, Aug. 2.—Events in the European crisis developed with startling rapidity. At 7:23 o'clock Saturday evening the German ambassador at St. Petersburg, Count von Pourtales, delivered a declaration of war in the name of his government to the Russian government and the entire staff of the embassy immediately left St. Petersburg.

Although, after the warlike speeches delivered by the German emperor and the imperial chancellor at Berlin on Friday, no other result could be expected, some hope that the dread event might be averted had been raised by the intervention of King George in St. Petersburg and the fact that the German rebellion was not to be convened until Tuesday. Hence, the actual declaration of war had not been expected for another day or two.

The German emperor and his advisers have maintained to the last that they made supreme efforts for the sake of peace and that the last of the series of earnest appeals by Emperor William to Emperor Nicholas was a telegram repudiating responsibility for the calamity threatening the world on the ground that while Germany was engaged in mediating with Austria-Hungary at Russia's request, Russia, by general mobilization, was threatening Germany's safety.

Kaiser Addresses Great Crowd.
Berlin, Aug. 2.—The emperor, speaking from a window of the castle Saturday night to a great crowd beneath, said:

"I thank you for the love and loyalty shown me. When I enter upon a fight let all party strife cease. We are German brothers and nothing else. All parties have attacked me in times of peace. I forgive them with all my heart. I hope and wish that the good German sword will emerge victorious in the right."

The imperial chancellor also addressed the assembly, saying:
"All stand as one man for our emperor, whatever our opinions or our creeds. I am sure that all young German men are ready to shed their blood for the name and only trust in God, who hitherto has always given us victory."

An imperial decree convokes reichstag on Aug. 4.
Crown Prince Frederick William has been gazetted commander of the first division of the imperial guards.

Russian People Enthusiastic.
St. Petersburg, Russia, Aug. 2.—Germany's declaration of war against Russia provoked in the Russian capital a wonderful demonstration of patriotic enthusiasm.

Saturday night the capital presented a spectacle of extraordinary animation. The Nevsky Prospect and all the leading thoroughfares were filled with war-trodden people marching in processions carrying portraits of the emperor, with flags waving and torches blazing. From time to time there was an outburst of cheering and singing.

Speakers fired with patriotic fervor harangued the crowds. In front of the Kazan cathedral each procession halted and a sudden hush fell over the processions; then the strains of the national anthem, sung in perfect harmony by a section of the procession, rose in the air, the crowds listening silently with bared heads. Then the procession moved forward and the demonstrations continued with renewed ardor.

Demonstrations in Paris.
Paris, Aug. 2.—The wildest enthusiasm was manifested on the boulevards when the news of the ordering of mobilization became known Saturday night. Hordes of men forced in regular companies in ranks ten deep and paraded the street waving the tri-color and other national emblems and cheering and singing.

On the sidewalks were many weeping women and children.
The marching of the soldiers in the streets with the English, Russian and French flags flying, the singing of patriotic songs and the shouting of "On to Berlin!" was much less remarkable than the general demeanor and cold resolution of most of the people.

The response to the order of mobilization was instant and the stations of all the railways, particularly those leading to the eastward, were crowded with departing recruits. The troop trains departed at regular intervals and the Paris streets were quiet and nearly empty.

Italy Prepared For Emergency.
Rome, Aug. 2.—A strict censorship has been established in Italy over dispatches to places abroad. King Victor Emmanuel is keeping in close touch with events and is said to be in frequent direct communication with other European rulers, especially the German emperor.

The queen is greatly affected by the fact that her relatives in Serbia and Montenegro are again involved in a war.
The pope is said to have made great efforts to prevent the war, as since the recent concordat between the Vatican and Serbia, his feelings are very friendly toward that country.

The signature of the concordat is said in some quarters to have been one of the causes of Austrian resentment against Serbia. Speaking on the subject to the Austrian ambassador, the pontiff informed him that he considered the Austrian attitude toward the Serbian concordat unfair, and added that he must "protect his children wherever they are."

The Italian government is preparing to meet any emergency. About 500,000 soldiers are under arms, including those who can be withdrawn from Tripoli and other places as, just before the Austro-Serbian outbreak, 100,000 reservists had been called to the colors.

All the fortifications along the eastern frontier have been hurriedly put into a state of war, while the various squadrons of the fleet have assembled at their naval stations.

Turkey May Fight Serbia.
Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 2.—A Russian boy, the Turkish ambassador, who is spending his vacation here, said that in his opinion Turkey would soon become involved in war with Serbia. He expressed the opinion that a general European war was probable and that, notwithstanding the fact that Turkey had recently signed a treaty with the Serbs, his country would not be arrayed in arms against them.

Germany Has Spent $600,000,000.
Berlin, Aug. 2.—Germany's expenditures for military and naval purposes this year have exceeded $600,000,000, according to Colonel Richard Gaske, a retired officer, in an article in the Socialist newspaper, Vorwarts. The statement was made a short time before the present crisis as a protest against the agitation for another increase in the army.

France is Invaded by Emperor William's Troops.

Germans clashed in the first battle of the war at Saarbrücken, where the Prince Imperial, under the orders of the emperor, received his famous "baptism of fire."

It would appear that Germany is taking the fullest possible advantage of her supposed superiority in rapid mobilization over France.

The plan of the German emperor, according to military observers here, is to vanquish, or attempt to vanquish, France in the interval before Russia will be able to create serious trouble on her northern frontier. It is supposed that Russian mobilization will require about three weeks.

French Regiments Moving.
Brussels, Aug. 2.—All the French regiments at Sedan are reported to have been dispatched toward Nancy, a short distance from the German border. Persons arriving here from Cologne say the Germans have placed rapid fire guns on the terrace of the hotel Hansa in that city. The travelers believe the guns are intended for use against hostile aeroplanes.

Has But One Regret.
Paris, Aug. 2.—President Poincaré, in talking to a friend, said his only regret was that his high office would prevent him from leading his company of Alpine riflemen.

Andre Magino, a member of the chamber of deputies, has taken his place as a private in a regiment stationed at Bar-Le-Duc, which is his constituency. M. Magino was formerly under secretary of state for war and as such, has a seat in the cabinet. He is one of a large number of the chamber who have declined to avail themselves of the right of delay in obeying the order of mobilization.

The organization already has begun in Paris of detachments of foreign volunteers, notably Belgians, Slavs and Syrians. Several hundred persons last night paraded through the downtown section, carrying Italian and French flags, and shouting "Down with Germany!" and "Long Live France!"

Would Fight for France.
Paris, Aug. 2.—Some Americans here have offered to fight for France, and the suggestion is made that a corps of Americans be organized. The pillage of a German jewelry store here, and raids against stores which raised prices, caused the police to placard an appeal to Parisians to maintain order. Vigorous measures will be taken against dealers who are raising prices to exorbitant rates.

NORWAY'S KING IS 42.
Christiania, Aug. 2.—Flags were displayed on all public buildings today in honor of the forty-second birthday anniversary of King Haakon VII. During the day his Majesty received messages of greeting from the rulers of nearly all the countries of Europe.
