Mineral Point Women are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that inflict humanity; they must "keep 450 @ 525 up" must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys, Mrs. J. Mocken of Darlington, Wis., says: "I suffered some from kidney trouble for several years. I often had a dull aching in the small of my back and left side, also experienced headaches and dizzy spells. After doctoring for some time without getting relief, I noticed that the kidney secretions were unnatural in appearance. I then procured a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. In a short time was feeling better and have improved steadily since. The kidneys are much stronger and I do not suffer from headache and feel better in every way. I I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney

DIPLOMATIC RECEPTION

The reception at the house of the ED. ELLINGEN, secretary of state on New Year's day is by all odds the most spectacular function of the year in Washington. All the diplomats are in full uniform, with much gold embroidery and glittering decorations, barring a few from the Latin American republics, who appear in plain evening dress, though it is the noon hour. It is a scene of brilliancy and glitter. One recognizes Under N. T. Martin's hardware store, corner High and Vine streets Mineral Point. the members of the German embassy by their costumes of white broadcloth and silver. The Chinese, a numerous staff, are gaudy in silk gowns. The British ambassador, Mr. Bryce, is easily identified by his coat of blue cloth HERMAN WIESEN, and gold, with white knee breeches, FASHIONABLE BARBER SHOP, white silk stockings, gold shoe buckles, silk shoulder belt, gold mounted sword and cocked hat of black beaver with a white ostrich feather. Nobody is asked to sit down. When all the guests have arrived, Mr. Knox will offer his arm to Mme. des Planches, Mrs. Knox will take the arm of the ambassador and they will lead the way into the dining room, where an elaborate luncheon-or breakfast, if one prefers— is spread. There will be unlimited champagne, with salads, ices and whatever else may gratify the appetite.

When the function is over, at about p. m., the wives of the diplomats will go to their own homes and spend the rest of the day receiving. The ambassadors, ministers and smaller fry of male sex will call on the vice president, the members of the cabinet, the senators, the speaker of the house of representatives, the justices of the supreme court and the members of the committee of foreign relations of the house. They will also call on the wives of one another. It will be a tremendously busy day for them-a continual dashing about from place to place in a multitude of cabs-and the social task, which is to them as a necessary official duty, will not come to an end until nearly midnight, when they will be glad to crawl into bed, exhausted, but delighted that New Year's will not arrive again for another twelvemonth.

British Patents. According to the report of the comptroller general of patents, patent applications in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in 1908 numbered 28,598, a decrease of 420 from 1907; of the total, 572 were from women and 1,459 from abroad, the United States furnishing 572 of that total and Germany coming second with 515.
