

Pears' Soap

"Beauty is but skin-deep" was probably meant to disparage beauty. Instead it tells how easy that beauty is to attain.

"There is no beauty like the beauty of health" was also meant to disparage. Instead it encourages beauty.

Pears' Soap is the means of health to the skin, and so to both these sorts of beauty.

All sorts of stores sell it, especially druggists; all sorts of people use it.

"I am for free commerce with all nations."—Thomas Jefferson.

"But right is right, though it is not always popular, and I stand by it whether it returns me to private life or lifts me to high honors."—Roger G. Mills.

The Chilian Matta will not produce blood, and is a plain case of jigoism.

The Dallas Times-Herald depends almost entirely upon the Republican press for paper wads to shoot at Mills. The Republican press of course delight to furnish ammunition to be used on Mills.

The Senatorial triumvirate has a perfect right if they choose to set the Hill machine to grinding before winter is over but the people of Texas and of other states have a right to regret the grist offered them by New York after seeing it ground before its turn.

Cleveland's withdrawal from the contest for president at this time would insure a solid Hill delegation from New York, and would give him some advantage, but the principle-loving Democrats have learned already that a western man was the only alternative.

It was reported a few days ago that Grover Cleveland would withdraw from the race for president but the report has since been denied. It is hoped the latter report is true, just at this juncture the ex-president's withdrawal would be the unkindest cut of all. Wait until after Feb. 22 anyhow Grover.

THE DICTUM OF NEW YORK.

The Nashville Herald discredits the charge that Hill was responsible for the selection of Chicago for the convention on the ground that, "everything, including the effort of Governor Hill's friends, pointed to the advantage it would be to that gentleman's cause to have the Democratic convention meet in New York." Hill was on record in his organ, The New York Sun, several days before the committee met as opposing New York. Burke Cochran, the Tammany congressman, declared that Chicago was the only western city able to accommodate the large delegation of Tammany braves that would surely attend the convention from New York. He estimated the New York contingent at 10,000. Of course, all this crowd will not expect to vote in the convention. Only 74 of them will be delegates and the remaining 9926 will compose the Hill hurrah crowd. The Democracy of all the other states were insulted only a few days ago by the editor of the New York Sun who said in an interview in the Kansas City Times that Hill would be nominated and nothing could prevent it. When asked where the dead sinch came in he answered that it was in the well known fact that New York was solid for him. To the question as to how the rest of the country stood he replied with a sneer that it was a matter of no consequence, that the rest of the country would have to submit to whatever New York said about it. The rest of the country does not have to submit to the dictum of New York and the rest of the country will meet New York at the convention June 21.

If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any throat, lung or chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. Despicable Villainy.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 29.—A bold robbery was reported at police headquarters this morning as having occurred on the inbound cannon-ball on the Iron Mountain train last Saturday morning. The victim is Miss C. Helton, a young lady music teacher, who resides in Kentucky, who sold all her effects and was on her way to have her eyes treated in this city, she being almost totally blind. At Beebe, the third station above here, while en route on the Iron Mountain, a smooth, gentlemanly appearing young man in neat business attire, who occupied the seat behind her, offered to assist Miss Helton, gaining her confidence by telling her he was a commercial drummer who was en route for Little Rock after his samples, which he had left here before the holidays. Miss Helton's confidence was the more easily obtained because of her having had a brother, now dead, who was once a traveling man. Entrusting herself to his care she fell asleep and did not awake till she came to Jacksonville. She carried her trunk check and her money, $350, in a small hand-satchel. She looked for the satchel and it was gone, as was also her commercial friend. She at once concluded that they had gone together. The case was reported to police headquarters here, but no clew to the robber, the satchel or its contents has been found. The poor penniless girl is in the hands of sympathizing friends, and the physician she came to see will treat her eyes anyhow.

Anti-Chinese Movement.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 29.—The anti-Chinese sentiment is growing every day. Efforts to starve the Chinamen here are being made by some. The labor organizations of Butte impose a fine on any member who patronize Chinese restaurants, laundries or stores or any establishment where Chinese help is employed. The Knights of Labor of the state resolved to support no city for the state capital whose citizens employ Chinese or support Chinese tradesmen. The city council of Helena has passed a preamble and resolution setting forth the evils of Chinese immigration and urging the Montana delegation in congress to support a new restriction act. Governor Toole has been in correspondence with the treasury department at Washington, urging that means be employed to guard the northern boundary. He says there is an enormous organization, with headquarters along the Canadian passage, smuggling Chinamen across the line and visibly swelling the Chinese population within the last year.

Wants a Pension.

OMAHA, Jan. 29.—An Omaha Indian named Wm. Tyndall is about to ask Uncle Sam for a pension. His home is on a farm near Bancroft, but he is now in this city taking the necessary steps to present his claim. He has a discharge showing that he was mustered out of the service at Omaha in 1866 at the age of 20. He was born in Douglass county forty years ago and enlisted in this city during the rebellion. He was sent to Fort Kearney and then further west on frontier duty. He served under Captain Griffin. Tyndall was not wounded, but will claim a pension under the general disability act. He asserts that rheumatism contracted in the service, unfit him for work. He speaks English very well, dresses like the whites and is very unlike the average Indian.

Was He an Imposter?

ATLANTA, Jan. 29.—Frank McConley came to Atlanta and captured the heart of a winsome widow by the name of Mrs. Roberts, relict of a wealthy citizen recently deceased. McConley is the son of a ranchman near Sterling, Tex., who is quoted at a $150,000. The marriage did not suit the wealthy ranchman and hints of a disinheritance disturbed the mind of the groom. Yesterday when Mrs. McConley returned home from a visit she found her husband had returned to his father, leaving a note begging her to get a speedy divorce and marry a better man.

Dynamite Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 29.—A terrific explosion of dynamite occurred at Honey Brook, a small town five miles from Hazleton. Fifteen Hungarian miners were sitting around the stove in the workmen's shanty eating lunch when several sticks of dynamite which had been placed near the stove exploded, blowing the shanty to fragments and scattering the inmates in all directions. Two men were instantly killed, their bodies being shockingly mutilated. Of the other thirteen it is believed a number will die.

Run Over and Killed.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 29.—R. N. Yeakle, a prominent young man of this city, connected with the several insurance companies, while attempting to jump on the Hayes truck which was being driven rapidly through the streets, in response to fire alarm, missed his footing and fell under the wheels and was crushed to death. During Cleveland's administration he was registrar of United States lands in this city.

Hardly True.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Dispatches to the Times report that news received at Santiago from the United States declares the President Harrison has decided to recall Mr. Egan, the American minister.
