The South Texas Cotton Picking Association

Is prepared to consider propositions and make arrangements for the introduction of the

Price-Campbell Cotton Picking Machine

For the season of 1913, in the counties of Nueces, San Patricio, Refugio, Aransas, Victoria and Calhoun. Several of these cotton picking machines are now in commercial operation near Bishop, Texas. For the present they can be seen upon application to Mr. C. C. Wentz at Bishop, Texas, or Mr. W. C. Russsell at Wray's farm, near Driscoll, Texas.

Their efficiency and value to this section is undoubted. That a sufficient number of the machines may be secured to meet the demand for next season, it is important that those contemplating their use should promptly make the neccessary arrangements with the undersigned.

The number of machines that will be manufactured for next year's use, is necessarily limited and it is important that those requiring them should act promptly.

PRE-PANAMA PROSPERITY CONVENTION AT HOUSTON

TEXANS WILL DISCUSS PLANS FOR LARGER PROGRESS.

To Prepare for Great Panama Opening "Golden Gate to Gulf"—Progressive Era for Texas.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 2.—Just about four hundred years ago Ponce de Leon sought for and found a fountain of perpetual youth in the then wilderness of an unexplored country.

Future History.

Future History the historian will find that in Texas the "Golden Gate to the Gulf", there plenty of gold can be made, and the secret of perpetual youth here. Live stock, as Mineral Wells Optimist Martin, the big man of San Antonio, Hubbard and numerous others throughout the state. Future men are on the ground to live and create all with some settlement of the secret and fullness of the eternal youth of found in Texas prosperity and its many ways for health and gold.

Greatest of Conventions.

On October the 21st and 22d all Texans will be in attendance at the Panama Land Exhibition concerning of the Texas Commercial Organization and Business Men's Association at Houston. At this time they will consider the up to date question of the hour which need a solution and primary to welcome the cosmopolitan crowd that most likely offering—the Texas Welfare Commission—and about a year and which at this convention will grace the first time. Reports of various committees will be given on things actually done and plans for more great of economic values to be made for the of the world's industrial shows—the Panama Canal opening. The eyes of the are straining toward Big Panama Problems.

Recent reports have set the opening of the Canal in 1915. If this is the case Texas has no time to lose in seeing the situation and prepared to take the fullest advantage of same.

Texas and other great producers will be discussed at Houston, here and for ways how to be specific things that seem to be driving the doorway in their industrial way after the shutting down, and so there will also be social activity, good fellowship, an all around good time for everyone, in friendly intercourse, discussion and enjoyment of the old Texas secession railroads meet the new which are and southwest most—"Houston" or "Galveston", will often united, splendid city public, to be the London of "America."

Welfare Commission's Work.

The scope of the work of all of the committees of the Texas Welfare Commission for the past year would require much more space than could be given in these columns. The departments of work represented by the committees are as follows: Cotton, Petroleum and Mineral, Cattle, Meat, Dry and wool products, Cotton Fabrication and Utilization, Building and Machinery of Lumber, Manufacture and Sale of Lumber, Distribution and Marketing of Perishable Fruits and Orchard products, Manufacturing and Distributing Products, Milling and Marketing of Rice, Conservation of Storm Waters for Irrigation, Dry or Scientific Farming and Drainage, Good Roads, Railroads and Railroad Rates, Life Insurance, Corporations Foreign and Domestic, Waterways, as to Advantages and Opportunities, Conservation in connection with Reclamation, Securing of Capital for Development and the Promotion and Organization of Private Corporations.

Adopting New Methods.

Having given the names of the various committees and knowing the scope of business and professional men composing the Welfare Commission, the whole state is ready and there is little need of going into details as to the results of the work of the commission for the state's welfare in every department of business and society as well as in fact, already having been established a start in which to work is already well begun.

At a meeting of the Texas Chamber of Commerce and Business Men's Association in attending this there would also be a meeting of the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association, discussing their business problems and organization and organized membership.

The Welfare Commission has given the people that "every knock makes right wrong" and have lined up most of the Commercial Secretaries Association for aid in forming the committees of the state and of each and legislation and ways in preserving and assisting in protecting and improving the development of every industry.

Bright Business Outlook.

Among the officers, committees and members of the organization of the following well known men of the state: H. C. Hoff, Houston; H. B. Dunlap, Waco; Jno. Wesley, Fort Worth; Dennis Flynn, Jr., Dallas; go to a Crosby Wood, H. B. Hill, Wichita Falls; John H. Kirby, Houston; A. A. Glasscock, Tyler; J. M. Lindsey, Houston; Dr. C. O. Smith, Houston; W. T. Lovejoy, Fort Worth; W. P. D. McClendon, Beaumont; J. W. Dyer, Salt Lake City; H. Flato and others.

The various committees report with most gratifying encouragement and activity from the first formation of the Commission and the men of all times planning for better conditions and a broader business. The business outlook is better and brighter than for years with increased demand and better prices, and the agricultural products, mineral, animal, and manufactured industries have all shown gains, and have the best of prospects. Public utilities, conservation, irrigation, drainage, improved waterways, good roads and transportation conditions are among other important problems.

Big Current Production.

To illustrate something of the great work of building up the state, figures are given to show the present immense production of Texas and increased business and growth of public utilities per annum as follows:

Population, 3,896,542, an increase of 113 per cent; 89,000 manufacturing establishments, with capital $118,000,000; 122,000 farms, 87,726, 25 per cent under cultivation, 70 per cent native white, 19 per cent negroes, 10 per cent foreign born; 240,000 tenants, 1,477 banks, capital and surplus $113,655,412, deposits, $366,484,471; 3 new lines every 30 days, 415 new farms, 2,000 miles railroad, cotton 10,000,000, corn $160,000, wheat 1,252,000, hay $15,000, fruit from 52,000,000 trees, 14,000,000 head of livestock, $178,179,000 worth of manufactured products, cotton seed oil, meal, and cake $30,000,000, wool $3,000,000, wheat $4,000,000, corn $3,000,000, rice $1,100,000, hay and forage $15,000,000, cattle, cows and milk cows $3,745,443, sweet potatoes $1,197,719, Irish potatoes $1,625,150, peanuts $1,370,000, fruit and vegetables $22,647,000 milk $1,700,000, livestock $238,779,000, poultry $34,650,000, dairy products $26,130,000, lumber and timber $6,000,000, petroleum $10,702,000, coal and lignite $3,145,343, foundry and machine shop products $4,209,000, structural material factories $24,935,000, leather goods $1,500,000, native sugar cane $9,000, rice 143,000 potatoes 50,000, fruits and vegetables 1,000,000, value cotton and cotton seed $275,235,944, wheat $18,404,000, railroads 350 miles, highways 140,000 miles, of which 23,000 are graded and improved, unusual irrigation and under way 20,000,000 acres, drainage 1,000,000 acres, 10 seaports with from 15 to 35 feet present depth or being dredged, 4 other ports under way with from 4 to 12 feet, including a 6 foot channel to Dallas, Coastal canal will afterward.

Financing Cotton Crop.

To go into any full details, figures and comparisons would take several pages and the short mention of total amounts in a few of the products and industries is all that is possible.

The most important advantage gained this year, perhaps, by the Welfare Commission, was in connection with Peter Radford, president of the Farmers' Union, in discussing the position and financial marketing from warehouse of farmers' cotton at 5 per cent interest of 10 per cent as advocated. The result has given great satisfaction to all leading planters throughout the state. It is thought now that the financing here will be handled by banks and capitalists of the state in handling of cotton until the government system for the same is in other lines will also be furnished at this time.

Working for Convention.

The chairman of the Welfare Commission, H. C. Hoff of Houston, J. A. Arnold, secretary, Fort Worth, and the other officers and members of the Commission are working hard in perfecting arrangements for a most successful meeting to handle many and vital questions which will be brought before it, and everyone interested in these matters is urged to be present.
