BOUNDARY OF ALASKA.

General Anderson Tells How Canadians Got Possession of Skagway.

Chicago, May 30.—Under directions of the war department Brigadier General T. M. Anderson, commanding the department of the lakes, has ordered company E, Seventh United States infantry, to Alaska. The company is stationed at Fort Sheridan. Captain C. S. Farnsworth is in command. The soldiers are to do garrison duty in place of a company of the Fourteenth infantry which has been withdrawn and sent to Manila. Company E will leave for San Francisco from which place it will be transported by water to Skagway or Tai Ya.

General Thomas M. Anderson is interested from a military standpoint in the settlement of the Alaska boundary question. He is the American army officer who about a year ago went to Alaska with a force of soldiers and drove out of the territory the Dominion police that had rendezvoused there for the purpose of taking possession of valuable lands belonging to the United States.

The issues in the controversy were the subject of discussion by the general at his office in the Pullman building. He drew emphatic conclusions of the duties of the United States in the matter. Gen. Anderson, in describing his work last year, said:

"When I reached the disputed territory with United States troops, I found that the Dominion police had taken possession of Skagway, and established a military office there. Maps illustrating the boundary between Alaska and the Yukon districts as fixed by the Dominion government, had been circulated broadcast. Ten days later a full company of uniformed Dominion police came up to strengthen the advantage already gained at Skagway, by taking possession of Tai Ya, but in the meantime I had gotten two garrisons in Skagway, two in Tai Ya and one at Hay's mission, which is the beginning of the Dawson trail.

"This gave me the advantage of possession, and when the Dominion police finally appeared I notified the officer in command that he would have to take his men across the border immediately. The directions were to rid American territory of Canadian police. Well, the police retired, but have held the ground ever since."

Suit to Test Dairy Law.

St. Paul, May 30.—The Minneapolis Dairy and Food commission has brought suit to test the validity of the provision in the new dairy law that prohibits the coloring of oleomargarine or butterine in imitation of butter. The suit is brought against the Armour company, from whom Inspector McConnell says he bought a case of oleomargarine. The department has also sued the Cudahys for selling a lard composed of lard and beef tallow and labeled "compound" lard instead of "adulterated," as the law requires.

Drunken Man Shoots at a Crowd.

Birmingham, Ala., May 30.—At New Castle, Joe Pate, a minor, shot and instantly killed Henry Goldsweathy, one of the most respectable citizens of that place. Pate was drunk and shooting off his pistol promiscuously at a crowd of people. Goldsweathy requested him to desist, when Pate turned on him and shot him in the heart, killing him instantly. He then defied arrest, but was finally overpowered.

Congressman Henry Coming.

Hon. R. L. Henry has written a friend here that he will be in Bryan June 10, and will remain over to attend the commencement exercises of the A and M. College. The Eagle suggests that Mr. Henry be invited, if the time and circumstances are opportune, to remain until after the commencement exercises to deliver an address on the issues of the day, particularly the questions of trusts and expansion, both of which are just now attracting so much attention. Mr. Henry is with the anti on both these questions, and it is well known that he is a fluent and forcible speaker. Mr. Henry cannot better show his regard for the welfare of the people of his district than by the interest he evinces in their affairs in all parts of the territory. His visit to the college and to the Brenham navigation meeting, where we notice he is to be present, are cases in point. He seems to hold himself at the command of his constituents and to serve with impartiality the interest of all to the best advantage which opportunity affords.

W. B. Mosely, Carl Mosely, W. A. Jenkins and wife, Jack Heaton, W. A. Crocker, D. F. Discrey, Joe Foxwell and Nat Chambliss were here from Madison county Tuesday.

THE BRYAN COMPRESS.

Work of Past Season—Influence on Local Cotton Market.

The Eagle believes the manufacturing enterprises of a town to be one of the most potent sources of its growth and to that end stands ready to offer and stimulate among others, as far as lies in our power, encouragement for such enterprises. With this end in view, The Eagle published a statement of the output of the oil mill here, together with the large amount disbursed annually to employees, which finds its way into the pockets of all who have business interests here, and aids to a wonderful extent the general prosperity of the town.

With the same purpose in view, The Eagle will give some facts and figures relating to the work of the Bryan compress. From August 22, 1898, to May 23, 1899, the compress pressed 45,496 bales of cotton, of which number 49,699 were local or wagon receipts. The remainder were brought by rail. The press used 77,900 gallons of oil for fuel, equal to 450 tons of best McAllister coal. The company employed from 40 to 50 men and paid out in wages during the season over $12,000. The capacity of the press for work is shown by the fact that of the total number of bales handled 22,000 were pressed during September and October, when the cotton season was at its height.

The compress has closed for the season and repairs have begun under the direction of Mr. Walter Wiprecht, manager, to whom we are indebted for the above figures. A new boiler will be put in and complete repairs will be made, aggregating fifteen or sixteen hundred dollars in all.

Capt. Geo. W. Smith was seen by an Eagle representative yesterday afternoon and when asked regarding the influence of the compress on the local cotton market, said in reply: "I think the compress benefits the local market and adds to the price of cotton here in more ways than one. In the first place we can put twice as much compressed cotton on a car, which facilitates the movement of the crops, reducing insurance, storage, etc., on account of which buyers can pay more and handle their purchases on closer margins with safety.

We also get a better price for compressed cotton and those to whom the local buyer sells never fail to ask "Is your cotton pressed." I was able to pay fifty cents a bale more for cotton last season owing to the compress here. Bryan handled more cotton last season than ever before since it was the terminus of the railroad, and handled it without any congestion or blockade and consequent losses, which would have been impossible without the compress."

Notice.

As the law directs, I hereby give notice to the taxpayers of Brazos county, Texas, that the Commissioners Court of Brazos county will sit as a board of equalization on the 2nd Monday in June 1899, same being the 12th day of said month, for the purpose of equalizing the taxes of the county.

G. W. McMichael, County Clerk.

The reporter heard a gentleman say yesterday that he was undergoing all the tortures which assail a man when he breaks off smoking. "I don't know how I'm going to get along," he said, "but I've quit. The other day I figured out that I've smoked 160,000 cigars at a cost of about $4,000, and I think it's about time for me to stop."

Mr. W. R. Rhodes was buried with Masonic honors yesterday afternoon, Rev. R. D. Wilson, pastor of the Baptist church of which Mr. Rhodes was a member, conducting the service. There was a large attendance at the funeral, indicating the marked esteem in which the deceased was held and the deep sympathy extended to the family.

J. H. Sanders, Jim Zuber, Joe Edwards and family, Tom Wren and Austin Neely were here from Gilmer county yesterday.
