A LARGE LINE OF VICTOR RECORDS ALWAYS ON HAND

by my public duties, I have never had a client in my life who has attempted to influence my official action, and the men who employ me about their important affairs have too much confidence in my integrity to suppose for one moment that they could control or influence me as a senator. Of course, I know there are men of low character and intellect who would slavishly do the bidding of any man or corporation who might employ their services and pay them a fee; but such men seldom obtain important employment as lawyers, and such men can never secure an election as a senator from the state of Texas.
The upright and high-minded lawyer gives to his clients the best of his legal learning and ability, but no more than that, and he should drive from his presence any client who presumed to think that in retaining him as a lawyer he had secured the right to command him in respect to any matter outside of the legal controversy.
Since the foundation of this republic the greatest senators, whose reputations as lawyers could command clients, have practiced their profession with propriety, and without criticism.
Some great lawyers have not practiced law while in the public service because they have been men of independent means, and did not feel under the necessity of providing for their family and their old age by pursuing still their profession; but the wisest and best of them have not thought it improper or unpatriotic to attend to their private business in their own time.

Houston Good Government Club.

I have carefully read the circular issued by the Good Government club of Houston, and I was impressed when reading it with the striking similarity between it and the Cosmopolitan Magazine article. In fact, it appears to be a special effort to justify that scurri-ous and infamous attack upon me. It would seem that when men set themselves up as exemplars of good government and correct living, they would be scrupulously careful to tell the truth and to do justice in any way; but I have seldom seen a formal document which contained more gross misrepresentations than are in that circular.

In the first place, extracts from it were telegraphed over the country with a false statement as to the membership of the club. In the communication sent from Houston to the St.
Louis Republic, and printed in that paper on Sept. 21, the organization is described as "The Harris County Good Government club, of which H. F. Ring is the president, with 1,000 members.

Of course, it might be that the statement as to the membership of that club was a falsehood of the St. Louis Republic reporter; but as exactly the same misstatement appears in the New York American, those who understand how such articles are circulated have a right to believe that the men who are responsible for the publication are also responsible for that falsehood.
After stating the membership of the club as 1,000 in the St. Louis Republic of Friday, it was stated in the Dallas News of the next day at fifty, and in Sunday's News a very accurate and talented staff correspondent declares that the officers of that organization decline to give either the number or the names of its members. My own judgment is that its membership is very small, because I do not believe that there are many people in Houston who would become parties to the falsehood which it is attempting to disseminate.

The first criticism against my business dealings is with reference to my attorneyship for the Hon. John H.
Kirby and the Kirby Lumber company, which is, in substance, merely a re-statement of the same matter from the Cosmopolitan Magazine. The Cosmopolitan magazine article, however, did not, as I now recall it, include the statement, now made for the first time in this circular, that I helped Mr. Kirby sell an "east Texas railroad to the Santa Fe system." This is an addition, and it seems strange that such an addition should have been made by any men at Houston, because all of the Houston people who know anything about Mr. Kirby's affairs, know that the railroad which he built and sold to the Santa Fe system was built and sold years ago before I had any business relations whatever with Mr. Kirby. So far from having helped Mr. Kirby sell anything to the Santa Fe, no employment of mine has ever brought me in contact with the officers of that railroad. I do not even know the president of it, and I have never discussed a business proposition of any kind with any officer, agent or attorney of it.

The next statement is that Mr. Kirby, instead of going "himself to Harrison or Ryan, or to any other great railroad operator," employed me to do so. That is a falsehood, pure and simple. I never saw Mr. Harrison in my life, and I have never discussed a business proposition with Mr. Ryan.
I did not go to Mr. Harrison and Mr. Ryan to sell Mr. Kirby's property, nor did I go to any other Wall Street financier.

It is, however, unnecessary to occupy space in pointing out the various falsehoods of this circular, because the attack is based entirely upon my speech delivered in the senate on the 27th of June. As that speech was printed in full by some, and in extended synopses by all, of the daily papers in Texas in thirty days before the Democratic primaries, and the voters of this state were fully advised of what I had said and done when they reminded me, it would seem a waste of time to enter into an argument with these creatures on that point. Not only was that speech before the voters when they nominated me at their primaries, but it was before the delegates to the state convention, who repeated the people's endorsement, and to contend that it disqualifies me for a seat in the senate is to insult the patriotism, intelligence and integrity of the voters of Texas.

There is, however, one other part of the circular to which I make reply, and a most conclusive one. They insinuate that when the Waters-Pierce Oil company was granted a permit to transact its business in Texas I knew it was not an "independent concern." I stated on oath before the legislature to me on that subject, and I do not deem it necessary to call any witness to prove the truth of what I have said.
But in order to prove the falsity of what these men now say, I will print this letter from Mr. Pierce which I found in my mail when I reached Galveston Saturday night.

"St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 29, 1906.— Hon. Joseph W. Bailey, Galveston, Tex.— Dear Sir: In view of the attacks being made upon you with reference to the re-issuance of the Waters-Pierce Oil company into Texas I think it due you that I should say that when I sought your assistance in that matter, I represented to you that I permitted to continue its business in your state the new Waters-Pierce Oil company would be an independent enterprise, and absolutely free from the ownership or control of the Standard Oil company. Yours very truly,
"H. C. PIERCE."

This letter will satisfy every fair-minded and reasonable man that I knew nothing of the relations between the Standard Oil company and the Waters-Pierce Oil company when the latter received its permit to transact business in Texas; and I will take this occasion to say that I still knew nothing of that relation when I accepted employment for those Tennessee properties.

Certainly, if I believed at the time of the admission of the Waters-Pierce Oil company into Texas that it was not connected with the Standard Oil company, it could not have been improper for me, while still believing that to accept legitimate professional employment from Mr. Pierce and the other gentlemen interested in the Tennessee properties.

I have given to the service of the people of Texas fifteen of the best years of my life, and in all that long time I have been actuated by the single purpose of promoting their happiness and their welfare. I would like to continue in their confidence and affection; but I will not suffer even them to deny me the right to provide in my own time and in a proper way for myself and my family in our old age. Wholly apart from the question of a competence, I will never admit that I am so weak in character that I dare not pursue an honorable profession out of a fear that I will thus be led to sacrifice the public interest.
God pity my country if it is to be governed by men so selfish and infirm that they cannot trust themselves to pursue their private business without betraying the public interest. With a congress composed of men like that, those who seek to utilize the power of the government to increase their private fortunes, would find an easy way to corrupt our representatives and prey upon the people.

Will Take Stump.

Dallas, Sept. 26.—Senator Bailey Tuesday received numerous telegrams from over the state, all senders expressing their confidence in him. He had many callers at his apartments in the Oriental hotel. The senator says he will take the stump and reply to his critics.

Ring's Challenge.

Houston, Sept. 26.—In a letter to the Chronicle President Ring of the Good Government club invites Senator Balley to discuss on the stump matters involved in pending controversy. The club will furnish a speaker.

NINETEEN FATALITIES.

Eighteen Negroes Were Killed at Atlanta, and One White Man.

Atlanta, Sept. 26.—Number of known dead in connection with riots is eighteen negroes and one white man. To this list might be added Mrs. R. P.
Thompson, who dropped dead after two negroes were shot and beaten in her sight. Saloons will remain closed until further notice. Hundreds of families are without cooks and negro laborers are a rarity. Little ice is being delivered.

DOCTOR'S DEEDS.

Shoots His Wife and Her Mother, the Wounds Being Serious.

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—Dr. Joseph A.
Savignac shot his wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. David Mitchell. Both women are in a serious condition. Dr. Savignac had been arranging a trip to Florida with his wife. He had been drinking, and Mrs. Savignac's parents were averse to having their daughter accompany him. It was when they called to get her that the shooting occurred. Savignac was arrested.

Building Collapses.

Memphis, Sept. 26.—Building at No.
95 South Main street occupied by Louis Gignocchio, a saloonist, collapsed at 1 o'clock Tuesday. Several persons were taken from the ruins.
One badly injured. The collapse attracted a large crowd. Firemen rushed to the scene and in the driving rain removed the debris, rescuing the injured.

Plans Perfected.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 26.—Plans for the transfer of troops from the United States to Cuba in the event of the fall-ure of Secretary Taft's mission to bring about a peaceful solution of the trouble in the island republic have been completed.

Sandbagged and Robbed.

Shawnee, Okla., Sept. 26.—W. G.
Smith, a young farmer, was sandbagged and robbed. He had just sold out, and had a considerable sum. Two men were arrested.

Lasted Twenty-Four Minutes.

Buffalo, Sept. 26.—Democratic state convention elected Lewis Nixon temporary chairman Tuesday and adjourned until 10 o'clock Wednesday.

New Depot.

Sapulpa, I. T., Sept. 26.—Work soon begins on the new Frisco depot and eating house here.

BREVITIES BUNCHED.

Annual fair at Ardmore opened with a good attendance.

The little child of Joseph Shaw was fatally burned near Longdale, Okla.

Frank Jordan, a negro, was crushed to death between cars at Galveston.

At Strawn, Tex., George Bell shot himself in the brain, dying instantly.

New Hampshire Democrats nominated N. C. Jameson of Antrim for governor.

Screams of a Paris, Tex., lady caused prompt assistance. The intruder was a cat.

Most of the soldiers at Fort Sill have served out their terms and are not re-enlisting.

Rufus Farmer, a Memphis saloonist, was shot and seriously wounded by a negroess.

Five vessels cleared at Galveston Tuesday. The aggregate value of their cargoes is $2,692,263.

Thinking himself too old, C. Sousa, a wealthy resident of Saltillo, Mex., shot himself to death.

By a lamp explosion seven miles from Paris, Tex., Watt Featherstone, a negro boy, burned to death.

William White, a negro boy, shot himself in the forehead near Hemp-stead, Tex. Death was instantaneous.

GAYNOR DISGUSTED.

Says He Is Tired of Dickering to Defeat W. R. Hearst.

New York, Sept. 26.—The Mail prints the following telegram from Justice W. J. Gaynor to State Senator Patrick H. McCarren at Buffalo: "I am absolutely disgusted with the dickering to defeat W. R. Hearst and absolutely refuse to permit my name to be placed before the convention."

HUGHES NOMINATED.

By Acclamation He Is Chosen Republican Standard Bearer.

Saratoga, Sept. 26.—By acclamation the New York state Republican convention nominated Hon. Charles E.
Hughes, well known in insurance investigation circles, for governor. The platform endorses the administration of President Roosevelt and Governor Higgins and deplores mob violence.

Lieutenant Governor Bruce was renominated. On motion one ballot was cast for the renomination of John F.
O'Brien for secretary of state, Lewis for comptroller, J. G. Wallenmeir for state treasurer and H. A. Vanslyste for state engineer and surveyor.
