BRYAN, TEXAS, JULY 29, 1908.

The country has been saved all right. Saving the crops is next in order.

How many men in Bryan who didn't vote for a single loser? Stand up and be counted, please.

If the good die young and the average length of human life is increasing, the world must be getting worse.

Hurry up the corn pulling and cotton picking; the country will have to be saved again in November.

If you hear an uncertain sound from up Chicago way, don't be excited. It is only Willyhurst sounding the key-note.

A Pennsylvania evangelist says there is holiness in lung power. This explains why Texas is all consecrated ground.

The doctors say that cracks in tableware are breeding places for disease germs. Beware of the cracked teacup or plate.

After contributing $10,000 to the campaign fund you can deposit what is left or use it for pocket change, just as you like.

After every election many disappointed politicians swear off, but when the next exciting campaign opens they fall from grace.

Let voters prepare for the worst. The ticket to be voted in the November election will be longer than the ballot used in the primary.

Political campaigns may come and political campaigns may go; meanwhile, the merchants of Bryan continue to buy and sell and get gain.

When Dick Wynne announced for attorney general some of his friends said it would be his last race. We shall see—if we live long enough.

Taft knows now that he was nominated at Chicago; at least, he has good reason to believe it, for some reliable gentleman told him so yesterday.

Life is a game. The successful man is the one who early learns the rules of the game and plays according to them. If you violate the rules you lose.

The biggest snake ever brought to this country has just arrived in New York. It is said to be over thirty feet long. But that may be a snake story.

One of the problems of the future is: How will import duties be collected when airships come into use. Are we to have aerial revenue cutters?

Texas newspapers report small attendance at the churches last Sunday morning. Too many people out with the gang reading the mid-night bulletins.

EDGE ITEMS.

Edge, Texas, July 27, 1908.—Dear Editor: As I have not seen any news from our community, I will try and give a few items.

We are having fine weather at present, but a good rain would be needed for crops. Cotton picking will soon be the order of the day.

The health of this community is very good at present.

Mrs. Collier has been on the sick list for the past few days, but we are glad to hear that she is better at present.

Mr. J. G. Hedtke and Mr. Leonard McDonald have been very busy baling hay the past week.

Mrs. J. G. Hedtke of the Macy community is visiting at Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Rubie McDonald of Edge are the happy parents of a little son of a few weeks ago.

Miss Tilda Plagens of Kurten has been visiting Miss Anna Hedtke of Edge for the past week; and also Mr. A. H. Stevener and sister, Miss Mae, of Kurten, were pleasant visitors of Mr. Hedtke Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Olliver Hollis's sister of Madisonville has been a pleasant visitor to her sister and attended the meeting at Edge.

Mr. Lee McDonald of Macy is visiting below Bryan.

Mr. K. W. Hedtke of the Macy community attended a picnic at Kurten last Wednesday and reported an enjoyable time.

The barbecue at Wheelock last Wednesday was well attended and all reported a nice time.

I wonder how some of those candidates are feeling by now. Fine, I suppose—those that got there.

The meeting at Edge closed last Wednesday with several additions to the church.

The Free Will meeting of Edge will soon begin.

Well, will ring off this time, with the hopes of doing better next time. Come along, all of you correspondents, and let us hear from you.

ALL READY AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, O., July 27.—Men who will be prominent in the notification of Judge William H. Taft began to arrive in the city today. Among those already arrived or who are expected to put in an appearance late tonight are the following members of the notification committee: George Ade of Indiana, R. E. Sloan of Arizona, John T. Murphy of Wisconsin, M. L. Steele of Alabama, Frank N. Kennedy of Arkansas, Charles F. Teeter of West Virginia, Charles J. Harris of North Carolina, George N. Ross of California, Thomas F. Walsh of Colorado, C. M. Eaton of Washington, C. M. Gibbons of Virginia, Charles H. Clark of Connecticut, Joseph E. Lee of Florida, Eugene Nolte of Texas, A. W. Ewart of South Dakota, J. R. Garton of Georgia, J. Warren Kiefer of Ohio, C. A. Rook of Pennsylvania, Arthur B. Thompson of Oregon, Roy O. West of Illinois, A. R. Barnham of Kentucky, Grant Hornaday of Kansas, C. J. Lord of North Dakota, J. D. Howe of Missouri, O. T. Bankard of New York, Charles R. Leonard of Montana, W. A. George of Nebraska, Charles J. Harris of North Carolina, and Joseph E. Fletcher of Rhode Island.

Cincinnati, on the strength of what the railroads and local committees say, is preparing to entertain 50,000 visitors. Special trains will be run from all parts of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. Passenger men say they are figuring on the biggest one-day business in the history of the city. Marching clubs will be here from Columbus, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh and a number of other cities. With the exception of a few finishing touches everything is in readiness for the exercises tomorrow.

Castro has been carrying things with a high hand in Venezuela, without regard to the wishes or rights of other people. He has given offense to all the commercial nations and most of all to the Netherlands. The others will now stand by and enjoy it while the Dutch give him a sound spanking.

INDEPENDENCE PARTY CONVENTION.

Chicago, Ill., July 27.—With a substantial representation from nearly all parts of the United States, the Independence Party, the successor of Hearst's Independence League, assembled in national convention in Orchestra Hall today for the purpose of adopting a platform and nominating candidates for president and vice president. The initial session was given over to the opening addresses of the temporary chairman and others, followed by the appointment of the usual committees. The convention probably will complete its work tomorrow.

Present indications are that the convention will neither endorse the candidacy of William J. Bryan, nor force William R. Hearst to accept the presidential nomination of the Independence Party. Thomas L. Higgen of Massachusetts is the man most prominently mentioned for the head of the ticket. Mr. Higgen ran for governor of Massachusetts two years ago on the Independence League ticket and polled a very large vote. He is a man of wealth and for a number of years he has competed successfully against the Standard Oil company for the oil business of New England.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Eugene W. Chaffin, the prohibition candidate for president, plans to speak in every State in the Union before election day.

John W. Crimmins of New York, who bolted Bryan and voted for Palmer and Buckner in the campaign of 1896, has come out strong for the Democratic ticket this year.

John Mitchell, the well known labor leader, has promised to stump Michigan for the Democrats in the coming campaign, if his health permits.

Thomas E. Watson, Populist candidate for president, will make some speeches in the East and some in the West, but will devote his strong effort to carry Georgia.

The Anti-Imperial League has issued a statement recommending that the friends of the league withhold their votes from William H. Taft for president and support Mr. Bryan.

Five candidates are hustling for the Democratic nomination for governor of Illinois, the selection to be made at the first general primary in that State next week.

Present plans do not contemplate that William H. Taft will make any political speeches during the campaign, except those to be delivered in Cincinnati this fall.

Judge Amos W. Davis, who was recently named for congress by the Democrats of the Tenth Kentucky district, won his nomination by the narrow margin of one-third of a vote.

The speeches of William J. Bryan, which may be heard in the slot phonographs, are entitled "The Railroad Question," "Swollen Fortunes," "The Trust Question," "The Tariff Question," and "An Ideal Republic."

John W. Kern, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, has accepted an invitation to be a guest of the Jefferson Club of Chicago at a rally to be held on September 15, and which, it is expected, will mark the opening of the Democratic campaign in the Middle West.
