Died

COCORDOR CONTRACTOR CONTRACTOR MR. W. H. RUSSUM

ĎEPERESASASAS SAFRESASASAS Ó

Died at his residence near Russum, on Monday, October 3rd, in the sixty-third year of his age, W. H. Russum, who has lived at his present residence since boyhood days, satisfied and happy in the association of a loving family whom he has left behind to mourn his loss.

He was a descendant of the Watsons, and a son of W. P. Russum, who emigrated from Maryland in the pioneer settlement of our section and the halcyon days of yore, and has lived within a mile of his birthplace all his life, respected by his neighbors and friends. He entered the army when quite young in Capt. Joe Magruder's company, Col. Stockdale's regiment, and gave four years of his life in defence of the fireside and homes of the Southern people, ever ready to do his duty in military or private life.

The writer has been associated with him from and through boyhood days, and ever found him generous, kind and sympathetic in all his intercourse. Mankind all have their weaknesses, but let us throw the mantle of charity over each one's shortcomings and re- florist, can supply your flower member only the nobleness of their wants.
