first, because it is a necessity—that is the rule in magazine buying of America's intellectual aristocracy. It is indispensable to the busy business man, who must keep abreast of the times, because it gives him the real news of the day in concise, readable form; it is invaluable to the thinking man, who demands only the truth and then draws his own conclusions, because it gives him just plain, straight facts.

It is helpful to the whole family. In it you will find a monthly picture of men and affairs by Dr. Albert Shaw, in his comprehensive editorial, "Progress of the World;" a clever cartoon history of the month; book reviews; the gist of the best which has appeared in the other magazines and newspapers of the world; pithy character sketches; and interesting articles on the all-important topics of the day. Authoritative, non-partisan, timely and very much to the point, it's a liberal education, it's the way subscribers express it.

Public Opinion

Editor Reveille:

It is not my purpose to appear wasteful since the days of stringency are past, but there is in the public mind an error which I think would be better corrected. I verily believe that many of my personal friends voted for me for treasurer because they thought they were giving me an easy job, i. e., a job with but little work—for varied indeed were the expressions used to me to convey this idea both during the canvass and since my election, such as: "There is nothing to do, just like money picked up—the banks perform all the duties," etc., etc.

But, my fellow citizens, the man who can read Chapter 26 of the Code of 1906 and say there is no work for me to do, is simply mistaken in the law and not a line of it has been repealed by any subsequent act since then, and for fear of imposing on our common friend, Reveille, I will make a concise statement for our common benefit. The treasurer is made the "watch dog" of every dollar in sight for the county from every source whatever. He is to have access to the sheriff's books with all his varied departments of collections of the revenues, taxes, licenses, fines, forfeitures, etc.—the same to the circuit clerk's office for the same purpose, and counterbalancing the justices of the peace reports and dockets with their payments, and then at all times he is to know the status of these officers with the county auditor, who is the chancery clerk, or clerk of the board—which requires clerical work of an expert nature at all times, with these departments of revenue. Besides he is to know from the very beginning the county's dues through the state auditor and land commissioner from the state treasury. He is to know the 16th section funds and enforce every payment from every source, as well as reckon with defalcations, frauds, illegalities, by the strong arm of the law, which is his bounden duty under penalty for failure. Is this no work?

It is true the last legislature made it possible for a bank to relieve of directly handling the funds which I honestly believe is of no value to the county. But this is a small part of the treasurer's duties, and if he faithfully performs all the other duties of each year, he will have thrice earned the pitiful amount that is paid, $300.

But, good people, understand me—this is for information—not a complaint. I am capable, have a ready hand and a bright smile—I am coadjutant with my fellow officers, who are honest, diligent and sincere, and dare to hope, in the end, we may reap your plaudits unrestrained and fervent.

Century-Old School Closes.

Natchez, Sept. 20.—J. H. Henson Military Academy, formerly Jefferson Military College, chartered in 1802, closed to-day on account of lack of patronage. There were only twelve boys in attendance. Prof. J. S. Raymond, who had been superintendent many years, retired at the close of last session to make room for a younger man, Major A. V. Anderson. Arrangements to reopen may be effected. —Special to Picayune.

A Common Lie

The commonest lie for paints is: "A gallon covers 300 square feet, two coats." It does and it don't; depends on the paint; the old paint; and the painter; all three.

It is true of Devoe with a margin. Devoe is too thick for some jobs; the painter will add some oil, sometimes not always; especially in cold weather. Mr. Albert Page, Fairfield, Me., computed Devoe for his house (300 ft. a gallon, two coats) at 40 gallons; had 13 left.

Dr. H. G. Hathorn to Resign.

Natchez, Miss., Sept. 22.—Dr. H. Guy Hathorn, in charge of the Federal Department's Farmers' Co-operative Bureau, with Claiborne, Jefferson, Adams and Wilkinson in his district, was in the city yesterday, and announced he had tendered his resignation, to be effective Oct. 1st, and would give his future time and attention to his farm in Wilkinson county.—Special to Picayune.

While engaged in demonstrating the superior advantages of southwest Mississippi for farm diversification, Dr. H. Guy Hathorn—agent for the Agricultural Department in this work—convinced himself that a run down and largely abandoned cotton plantation was a good investment. In consequence the government has lost an efficient and faithful official, and Wilkinson county gained a first class citizen and farmer. The incident, which is a significant one, supplies another exhibit in proof of the blessing side of the boll weevil invasion.—Vicksburg Herald.

The Telephone Girl.

The telephone girl sits in her chair and listens to voices from everywhere. She hears all the gossip, she hears all the news; she knows who is happy and who has the blues; she knows all our sorrows, she knows all our joys; she knows every girl who is chasing the boys; she knows of our troubles, and she knows of our strife; she knows every man who is mean to his wife; she knows every time we are out with the boys; she hears the excuses each fellow employs; she knows every woman who has a dark past; she knows every man who is inclined to be fast; in fact, there's a secret 'neath each curl of that quiet demure looking telephone girl. If the telephone girl would tell all she knows, it would turn half our friends into bitterest foes. She would sow a small wind that would soon become a gale, engulf us in trouble and land us in jail; she would let go a story which (gaining in force) would cause half our wives to sue for divorce; she could get all the churches mixed up in a fight and turn all our days into sorrowing night; in fact she could keep the whole town in a stew; it she'd tell the tenth part of the things that she knew. Now doesn't it make your head simply whirl when you think what you owe to the telephone girl?—Walt Whitman.

Common Drinking Cups Tabooed.

Jackson.—Secretary McLean is sending out the following letter:

"I am enclosing copy of the order passed by the Mississippi state board of health on October 11, 1909, prohibiting the use of the public drinking cup on all trains and in all railway stations. This order has not been heretofore enforced because the board of health desires the co-operation of the railroad commission.

"The said railroad commission has finally passed an order co-operating with the board of health, copy of which has already been sent to you by railroad commission.

"You are hereby requested to observe and strictly enforce said order for the protection of public health, same being effective on and after October 1, 1911."

The resolution of the railroad commission is as follows:

"Whereas, It has been repeatedly demonstrated that the use of what is known as the common drinking cup is dangerous and is an undoubted source of communication of infectious diseases.

"Now, therefore, in the interest of public health, be it ruled by the Mississippi state board of health:

"That the use of the common drinking cup on railroad trains, in railway stations, in public and private schools, and the state educational institutions of Mississippi, is hereby prohibited from and after January 1, 1910.

"No person or corporation in charge of any railroad train or station, or public or private school, or state educational institution, shall furnish any drinking cup for public use. And no such person or corporation shall permit on said railroad train or station, or at said public or private school, or state educational institution, the use of the common drinking cup."

Why should not the churches endorse and heed the above? There is as much danger in the common drinking cup at communion as in the schools and on the railroads. The individual service is reasonable in price and automatically filled.

A Port Gibson citizen tells here a reliable remedy for kidney ills.

Jacob Jalenak, Walnut St., Port Gibson, Miss., says: "About a year ago I was troubled by severe pains through my kidneys and was laid up for several days. A heavy, dull ache seated itself across the small of my back and I became lame and sore. Sharp twinges darted through me when I stooped and often after sitting, it was all I could do to get up. My condition did not improve until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Pope Drug Co. They proved to be just the remedy I needed, helping me after others had failed and as the result of their use, I have since enjoyed good health."
