TELEPHONE NO. 20

THURSDAY, NOV. 9 1916

H. H. CRISLER.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE $2 PER YEAR

Entered at the Postoffice at Port Gibson, Miss. as second-class mail matter.

The election of Hughes was not surprising to the Reveille. In fact, it was expected. The only surprise was that the Republican victory was not a landslide. History shows that warriors and war parties are always victorious when pitted against peace parties. There is an inexpressible desire for war in the average voter, and he irresistibly supports the more warlike side. He may not want to fight, usually does not, but he wants excitement with its attendant evils. This spirit is discernible everywhere in the south as well as north, and many Democrats chafed at supporting so ardent a peace-lover as Wilson.

However, we believe the advocates of war are going to be disappointed in Hughes. Just as Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson preferred peace to war, so will Hughes. He made a strong governor and will, we believe, make a good president.

The defeat of the game law was no surprise, of course, but it is regrettable. With all of its imperfections, the law was a means of some protection to the already depleted ranks of the fur and feather tribe. Man has been the greatest destroyer of his own God-given protectors, and he is absolutely impervious to any lessons that experience tries to teach. It may be that in some saner moments the voters of Mississippi will realize that the boll weevil, the pea moth, the fruit-moth, grasshopper, worms, and thousands of other insects which are increasing yearly their depredations upon growing crops, are only kept in check by birds. At that time, if it be not too late, we may have a game law worth the name.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT

Continuance of Matters Pertaining to the County Fair.

CONFERENCES in County Welfare Department.

Miss Harriette Person, Supt. The Conferences are planned for an exchange of ideas, on work, method, efficiency and outlook for county development.

Each year there is an added zest to the discussions, notwithstanding the difficulty of speaking against the confusion of noises.

Mr. J. M. Taylor and Dr. H. W. Wells acted as chairmen, and the success is largely due to the vigor and enthusiasm of their leadership of the question box.

Miss Bonslage's talk on the Woman in Industry should have been heard by every woman in the county. She is a woman of charming personality, college trained, and very much interested in her work as first assistant to the State Demonstrator of Home Economics.

Dr. Chapman's county health report was given with vigor and optimism as to the results of the health campaign. The decrease in pellagra this year, and also in malaria, notwithstanding the number of mosquitoes, are hopeful signs of the educational results of the work. The report of the county health inspection of the schools shows an intelligent awakening.

The question box was opened by the superintendent with the request to the chairman to let the ideas fly. The fluttering slips of paper, when the question box was opened, looked like a flock of white birds. Only the questions can be given, without answers or discussions.

The Expansion of Rural Life: Essential Needs. J. M. Taylor, chairman.

Mr. Taylor first gave a summary of progress in the county, showing that the county is awakening to a new life and interest in rural problems.

Questions: What is the greatest need in rural life?

Is not the call of many county communities for leaders? What is required for such leadership? Where does the real burden of county leadership rest?

What is the greatest menace to farm life for the woman?

Do people know and use the government bulletins and reports?

What is the value of it?

What products are the most profitable for farmers to grow? Corn, cotton, hay, peas, cattle, or hogs?

What plan would you suggest for town and county development?

Do you think the awakened civic interest has roots deep enough to do constructive work? Is the interest intelligent or spasmodic?

How can we bring the citizens together to work out its problems?

Is there any obligation upon a community to provide recreation facilities for its boys? How does the town provide for its boys?

Do we live in a town of optimism and community idealism?

Who is the good citizen?

What is the determining factor in the life of any community?

What idea would you emphasize for county welfare? Answer: "Education for life."

What is the value of continuous education? Answer: "To keep alive."

The Church and the Community. Dr. H. W. Wells, chairman.

Is the country church growing in size and power, or declining?

Is it doing the work which belongs to it? Is it as influential an agent for the improvement of country life as it should be, and if it is not how can it get back with the position it once held?

These were the questions considered by Dr. Wells in a short talk, with a sane realization of the situation, and a hopeful outlook for the future of the country church (by country church we mean not simply rural church, but churches in small towns).

Dr. Melvin in a talk here several weeks ago said the state was throbbing with a new commercial and industrial life, and asked the question, Is the church keeping up with this progress?

Dr. West said last Sunday that 600,000 white people in Mississippi were not members of any church, and 780,000 white people who do not attend any Sunday school. These questions are presented for your thoughtful and prayerful consideration. They are questions that the superintendent has heard discussed in conferences and talks by ministers of all denominations from all parts of the country, in a spirit of Christian unity, enthusiasm, faith, and the high idealism of the church militant. It is obvious that all of the questions could only be touched on, owing to the limited time. Many of them are answered in some of the books in the Library by such men as Dean Shailer Mathews, Prof. Charles Foster Kent, President Henry Churchill King, President Samuel Plantz, President W. H. P. Faunce, and others abreast of modern scholarship and awake to modern needs.

Question: Is the country church growing in power or declining?

What is the keynote of the country church problem?

Do ministers today need the study of sociology and psychology as well as theology? Is not the "boy problem" one of the problems of the church?

What do you think of the summer camp or Boy Scouts as a means of building the boy with the church?

What is the mission of the church? What is meant by the "awakened church"? What is the "social gospel"? What is a Christian?

Is there any warfare between science and religion? Is not the Christian the one who follows the teaching of the Christ, in touch with that which is best and most significant in modern life and thought?

Has the religious situation today an historical parallel?

Must the church change with the changing order?

Do you not think that the church is passing through a revolution in conception and attitude as fundamental and far reaching as that represented by the Protestant Reformation?

What is the reason for the modern indifference to Bible study? Is there an awakening? Where?

Why has the Old Testament been neglected by this generation?

How can we restore the Bible to modern life?

Does the Sunday School permanently hold the pupil?

What do you think of courses in Sunday School in civic ideals and a preparation for citizenship? Some Sunday Schools use in adult classes such courses as "Social Duties from a Christian Point of View", "The Message of Jesus to Our Modern Life", "Lives Worth Living", "Students' Standards of Conduct."

What has been your experience as to the results of modern Bible study? Does it not keep the church from leaning at the top?

What is the watchword of the awakened church? Answer: Religious education.

C. H. A. BATON ROUGE? Game called 3 p. m.

Saturday, Nov. 11th.

When Referee Kennedy's whistle signals at 3 p. m. for the commencement of the big foot ball game between the Baton Rouge High School and Chamberlain Hunt Saturday afternoon, it will mark the beginning of what will probably be the most important and most interesting athletic event of the entire year on the C. H. A. campus.

Both teams have enviable records; both are out for the championship of their respective states; and each hopes by winning from the other to establish in addition a claim to the championship of both Louisiana and Mississippi.

Baton Rouge, which is coached by Reagan, the old L. S. U. star, has already decisively defeated Alexandria, the team that won the Louisiana high school championship last year.

C. H. A. is conceded to have the best team it has had for many years. Its decisive defeat of the Mississippi Reserves here, its well earned victory over the Normal College at Hattiesburg, and the overwhelming rout of French Camp in Jackson, all show this.

The 13 to 12 defeat by the Lincoln-Copiah High School in Wesson is the only break in the record, but there is little doubt that this will be more than atoned for when Wesson comes here for the return game next week.

Both teams are expecting a hard battle, and the game should be most interesting from the view point of the spectator. Good officials have been secured, so that there will be no tiresome delays due to disputed decisions. The entire west side of the C. H. A. athletic field will be reserved for the townspeople, giving those who come in cars or buggies an opportunity to get a satisfactory view of the game.

Sufferer From Indigestion Relieved.

"Before taking Chamberlain's Tablets my husband suffered for several years from indigestion, causing him to have pains in the stomach and distress after eating. Chamberlain's Tablets relieved him of these spells right away," writes Mrs. Thomas Casey, Geneva, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.

Ravages of Boll Weevil.

New York, Nov. 4.—Approximately 2,000,000 bales of cotton valued at about $200,000,000 have been destroyed by the boll weevil, and about 79 per cent of the cotton belt was infested by the insect this season, reports J. A. Taylor, president of the National Ginners' Association, who has just returned from an extensive trip through the cotton belt.

Do You Have Sour Stomach?

If you are troubled with sour stomach you should eat slowly and masticate your food thoroughly, then take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. Obtainable everywhere.

Says Tanlac Saved Him From the Grave

Father of Sixteen Thought End Near—Told Wife What to Do With Children When He Died.

What is probably the most remarkable indorsement ever given a proprietary medicine was the statement made recently by H. J. Williams, a coal miner at the Tennessee Coal & Iron Co., mine No. 8, near Fairfield, Ala., in the Birmingham district.

The story of his wonderful restoration to health was told in his own words, and is profoundly interesting. His statement follows:

"I am 54 years of age, and am the father of sixteen children, eight living and eight dead. I came to Birmingham from East Tennessee, and have followed mining for a good many years.

"About two years ago I took sick. The doctors at first thought I had Tapeworm, then Hookworm and finally decided it was Pellagra.

I took treatment from a well known Alabama 'Pellagra Cure,' but got no benefit. The doctors finally told me they couldn't do me any good, and I quit going to see them.

"I suffered from a sort of numb feeling all the time in my back, and was dizzy-headed. I couldn't stoop over, or stand on my feet for any length of time, and couldn't hardly eat anything and nothing tasted good. In fact, I was slowly starving to death.

"I lost all of my strength, and fell off 45 pounds in weight. I used to weigh, when I was well, 133 pounds, and got down to where I only weighed 90 pounds, and was almost a walking skeleton.

"I finally decided that there was no more hope for me in this life, and I gave my ring to my wife and told her to put the children in the Odd Fellows' Home when I died.

"This is just the shape I was in when, one day, my little daughter said: 'Papa, why don't you try that new medicine everybody is talking about? It has helped so many people, it might help you.' Of course I had no faith in anything, but just to please the family I made one more trial and got this Tanlac. May the good Lord bless the day I got this medicine, for it was my salvation.

"I got relief from the first bottle, and I began to eat and pick up right from the start. I am now on my fifth bottle, and have actually gained back 25 pounds, and how weigh 115. It just looked like the more I took the better I got, and I keep on picking up every day.

"I went over to the mines yesterday and made arrangements to go back to work. I am strong enough to walk around wherever I want to go, something I have not been able to do for over a year, and that is a fact. Tanlac 'mighty nigh' raised me from the dead, that's what it done for me. If you don't believe what I have told you just ask any of the men around mine No. 8, and they will all tell you the fix I was in, and how much better off I am now.

"Thank God I will soon be able to earn a living for my family, and I will owe it all to this medicine, Tanlac. I have just written to a daughter of mine in LaFollette, Tenn., who needs a medicine like this, and I want her to take it and get well.

"I don't believe now I ever had Pellagra, because I never did have any breaking out of any kind. I don't believe I had Hookworm, either, but whatever it was, this Tanlac has certainly fixed me. I don't reckon there ever was a medicine on earth like Tanlac. I will always bless the day I bought this medicine."

Tanlac is sold by J. G. Joseph.
