Dr. James F. McCaleb, Byrnmere Plantation, and Charles L. Will, Willow Farm, had a discussion at a country postoffice one evening on the question of black color in cattle from red cows by black bulls. The upshot of the whole matter was to submit the points to the Breeders' Gazette by Dr. McCaleb thus, "Please let me know if the offspring of red cows by black bulls would be black, or if brindle or brown in one or two generations, would they be black in the third generation, and so on? Do not the red Angus of Scotland throw off black Angus calves by black Angus bulls, or in how many generations did all black prevail? Can the white tip tail of any breed be eliminated as in the Angus? Associate Editor Dewitt C. Wing of the Breeders' Gazette says: "We have your postcard of the 18th inst., which we have typed, as per enclosure. If we return the transportation it please return the transportation to us, so that we may submit it to an authority for a reply." Both gentlemen await with interest the umpire's decision. Spanish influenza has reached Claiborne county. It spent its influence on the Spanish peninsula, and progressed to the German army. How did it get in America? Maybe by transportation passenger and mail. The type is milder than the Russian influenza that prevailed in the nineties and like its prototype spent its force on the extremes of life, childhood and old age—first and second childhood. To ward off its germs, kissing is now done through a handkerchief. Spanish influenza is summer influenza. Russian influenza winter influenza. The grass worm is still playing havoc with corn and meadows. So much so, that poisoning of young corn has been done with arsenical preparations. W. E. Rains, Cold Springs plantation, sows corn of sixteen acres, one-half has been destroyed by these pests, and he hopes to save the other half from two Paris green applications made last week. The recent primary brought to light many of our citizens that disqualified themselves by non-payment of poll taxes, and were loud in their protest that their names were not on the poll books. One pre-election Democrat threatened to sue the Democrat party or rather a faction of it for not having his name on the poll sheet list of the summer primary. Maybe it will be on at the fall election. We have in Claiborne county a man and wife who voted the Republican and Democratic tickets in the last Presidential election. George Muhler, Night Plantation, voted for Hughes, and Mrs. Mehler for Wilson at York, Illinois, in 1916. A. McC. Byrnmere shipped a carload of McKay Rust Proof oats to Natchez, Miss. They were raised on his West Hermitage plantation. McKay and McGee were the pioneers of oat and lespedeza growing in the lower south. J. F. M. PLANT WHEAT. Every farmer in Claiborne county should plant some wheat. It is a patriotic duty we owe the country. Every bushel raised in the south adds that much to America's ability to feed other nations, as well as itself. One acre of wheat, planted on fairly good land, will yield at least fifteen bushels and some wheat the past season yielded over thirty bushels. The state plan is for every farmer to plant three acres. White Wine and Apple Vinegar. Best Quality. Pickling Spices, Mixed. Best Tea, Green or Black. Ryzon Baking Powder. LUX for Fine Laundering. C. EXPERIENCES OF CLAIBORNE BOY ON GOVERNMENT TRANSPORT. Carnot Davis, son of Mrs. Lillie Davis, spent five days last week, in the home of his grand mother, Mrs. T. J. Lawrence, near Carlisle. Carnot enlisted in the navy June 22nd, 1917, and was sent to Newport, R. I., where he received his training, and then was placed on a transport. He has made seven trips to France, on the transport which carried from six to ten thousand soldiers at each time, generally crossing the sea in from fourteen to twenty-one days. Carnot described France as the most wonderful country, with beautiful scenery. He says the transport is a home for any of Uncle Sam's boys—plenty to eat, and well cared for when sick; all kinds of amusements for the sailors, and good officers. He says he made the trip while coming home, a distance of two thousand miles on land in three days, by way of Hoboken, N. J., New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Lynchburg, Va., Bristol, Tenn., Chattanooga, Birmingham and Meridian. FEDERAL COUNCIL WILL SUPER-VISE HIGHWAYS WORK. Washington, Aug. 24.—Road building and street improvement throughout the country virtually passes under federal control for the year under regulations issued today by the Federal Highways Council, effective September 10. Manufacturers are forbidden to furnish materials for any project not approved by the council. In passing upon proposed projects, including bridge and culvert construction, the council gives notice it will give first consideration to maintenance of highways already completed and that reconstruction will be approved only where it is shown that maintenance no longer is practicable. New construction will be considered for highways and streets of military value, of national economic value, unfulfilled obligations incurred prior to April 5, last, and which may not be disturbed without serious consequences, and for streets and highways of great local importance, the construction of which has progressed to such a point that serious hardship would result from postponement. The council, which is composed of representatives of the War and Agricultural Departments, the Railroad and Food Administrations and the War Industries Boards, also announces that in co-operation with the Department of Agriculture bureau of public roads and state highway commissions it soon will begin preparation of a 1919 street and road construction and maintenance program. BOY WRITES WISELY ON SCHOOL QUESTION. WHY I AM GOING BACK TO SCHOOL. The American Boy is one of the largest papers for boys in America. It recently asked its boy readers to write letters why they were going to school this fall. From 596 letters received the first prize was awarded to one J. Russell Salisbury of Nebraska, a 15 year old boy. It is given herewith. "I am going back to school this fall because it is my patriotic duty. We are at war, a war that is taking all of our young men who have completed or soon would have completed their education. This leaves the business that is to be done by the older and the younger men. Therefore it is my patriotic duty to get all the education I can before my country needs me. When the call comes for me, I will gladly go and with my higher education I will be of more military value than if I had enlisted early. Our President has asked all school boys to get all of the education they can and do their war work after school hours. A request from the President has become a command now, so we have to obey. "It is my duty to civil life. If my country does not need me for war, I will be of more value in civil life as a technical man, if I complete my education. "It is a gain either way the question is taken. If the education is not used to advantage in the service, it still has another chance to express itself profitably in the business or professional world in peace times after the war. "It is my privilege. If some French children can go to school in a cave without modern conveniences, some-times wearing gas masks, masks to avoid being poisoned, I see no reason why a strong healthy boy should stay away from school, where there is no danger and where all the modern conveniences are provided, especially when such neglect would be crippling the country in years to come." Doing Good. Few medicines meet with more favor or accomplished more good than Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. John F. Jantzen, Delmore, Sask., says of it: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy myself and in my family, and can recommend it as being an exceptionally fine preparation." (Adv.) MISSISSIPPI POLITICS WATCHED BY PATRIOTS ELSEWHERE. In a personal letter, written Aug. 20, Mr. J. L. McCauley of Hoopston, Ill., says: "I hope your election today will forever put a quietus on that infinitesimal thing that has been pretending to represent the great patriotic state of Mississippi. In this our congressional district uncle Jo Cannon will be returned to congress without any opposition from the 'Dem.' The Democratic party here feels it deserves their unanimous support for the way he has stood by the president and supported every measure for the prosecution of the war. In every way he has proven himself a true patriot and forgot party for the time being. All honor to him, although I have fought him as hard as ever I could for 40 years." Just received a big lot of China Mattings, Grass Rugs, Matting Rugs, Velvet and Axminster Rugs in sizes from the very smallest to full room size. We are also showing a line of Linoleum and Congoleum Rugs. David Bock's Department Store.
