PALESTINE, TEXAS, JULY 19, 1904.

THERE IS DANGER AHEAD.

This is strictly a political year, and many skilled plays are being made by cliques and rings, usually with a fish to fry. One move in Texas has been watched with especial interest, and that is the attempt of certain corporations to elect members to the legislature that will give said corporations control.

There is for instance the wholesale brewers and whiskey dealers. They have been exceedingly active, and just to what extent they have succeeded it is now hard to tell. In some counties the fight has been open and above board, in others the fight has been clandestine and underhanded.

Legislation is desired by these brewers and wholesalers that will stem the prohibition movement, and render non-effective the prohibition laws of the state.

Too much care cannot be exercised in whom you vote for the legislature. You should first know the man, his views on important questions, and then who is backing him.

And another important matter should not be overlooked: County pride should prompt the intelligent voter to vote for that man who would reflect the greatest credit upon the county, and whose personality and influence would guarantee to the county a fit representative.

Upon our legislature depends the safety and welfare of our state government. There is danger ahead, and it behooves every voter to be careful how he votes.

GOLDEN RULE JONES DEAD.

Mayor Jones of Toledo is dead. How mysterious and wonderful are the ways of Providence, or whatever force it may be, that controls terrestrial affairs!

"Golden Rule" Jones, as he was lovingly and apily called, was one of the grandest men the world has ever produced. He has seemed to live with a constant purpose to do all the good he could accomplish and help his fellowman in every possible way. As an employer he worked always with and for his people. Each of them got a check on Christmas for an extra month's salary, each of them got a two weeks' vacation every year on full pay. He provided outings for them, maintained libraries for them and visited and talked to them. There was never a call of distress he did not answer. His face shone with the splendor of a great soul. "My God, help me to help them!" was the prayer he has lived. And now he is dead! Can we be blamed for crying, "Why, Oh, Why?"—Beaumont Journal.

TEXAS ponies are in good demand at stiff prices. The Japanese are buying them for their army.

THE Terrell election law meets approval all over the state. It is a great blessing to the state and to the honest voter.

A REPORT comes from New York that bets are already being placed on the race for president, and that the odds are on Parker.

THERE is no more important office to the people than that of representative in the state legislature, and it behooves every voter to go to the polls on July 30, and decide who is to be Anderson county's representative. The county needs and should have a man free and untrammelled, and one who is a friend to the people, and with ability to serve them creditably. Let the county send a man who will reflect credit upon his country.

CHOKING CATARRH CURED

Your Money Back if Hyomei Does Not Cure You.

"Use Hyomei and be cured of catarrh," is what all who have tried it for that disease say to their friends.

It is the easiest thing in the world to stop catarrh at its beginning if you use Hyomei. Just breathe the health-giving, balsamic air for a few minutes and your catarrh will be cured. In the worse cases of this disease, chronic or acute, Hyomei used four or five times a day is all that is needed to soon effect a cure.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and comprises a hard rubber pocket inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

In this city and neighboring towns, there are hundreds who can testify to the remarkable powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh. Many of the staunchest friends of this remedy today began its use with little hope that they would be cured, but as the Bratton Drug Co. have offered to refund the money if it did not cure, they decided to try it on that plan, and were soon restored to health.

Facts About Colors.

What color is least easily seen at a distance? One would naturally say, some dull neutral tint, a somber gray or brown. This has been the conclusion of most military men, and our brilliant dress uniforms have given way for practical campaigning to khaki and other dull colors. Is this a mistake? Possibly so, according to the results obtained in recent experiments in England. It has been found there that masses of dull color are very much more conspicuous at a distance than mixtures of bright tints. For instance, a battery of field artillery whose carriages and caissons were decorated with stripes of red, blue and yellow could be made out with difficulty at a thousand yards, while other batteries painted a uniform brown or drab were easily seen at great distances. It would seem as if, on the same principle, a regiment of gayly dressed troops might be less easily visible than one wholly garbed in dull-colored khaki.—From "Success."

H. R. Moore, Druggist.

asks the readers of this paper who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to call on him at once and get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. If you know the value of this remedy as we know it, you would not suffer another day. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a thorough digestant and tissue-building tonic as well. It is endorsed personally by hundreds of people whom it has cured of indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart and stomach troubles generally. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. It is pleasant, palatable and strengthening.

Piles Upon Top of Piles.

Piles upon top of piles of people have the piles, and DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures them. There are many different kinds of piles, but if you get the genuine and original Witch Hazel Salve made by E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago, a cure is certain. H. A. Tisdale of Summerton, S. C., says, "I had piles 20 years and DeWitt's Salve cured me after everything else failed." Sold by H. R. Moore, druggist.

Weak Hearts

Are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, the stomach expands—swells and puffs up against the heart. This crowds the heart and shortens the breath. Rapid heart beats and heart disease is the final result. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat, takes the strain off the heart, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Sold by H. R. Moore, druggist.

RUSSIANS ARE AGAIN DEFEATED

Attacked Japanese at Dawn Under Cover of Dense Fog.

Tokio, July 18.—General Kuroki reports that two divisions of the Russian army made a desperate assault on Mao Tien Pass at dawn July 17, but were repulsed. The casualties are not stated.

Tokio, July 18.—At 3 o'clock Sunday morning, a heavy fog veiling their movements, two divisions of Russians, commanded by Lieutenant General Keller, made an assault on the Japanese positions at Motien Pass.

General Kuroki adds that the Russians assailed all the Japanese positions at Motien Pass and in the vicinity desperately. The Japanese resisted stubbornly, repulsing the Russians, and pursued them for a considerable distance westward.

General Kuroki in his report praises the valor of his men.

London, July 18.—The Japanese legation has received a dispatch from Tokio reporting that an attack was made by the Russians on Motien Pass July 17.

It says the Russians, who numbered about two divisions, commanded by Lieutenant General Keller, fiercely attacked during a thick fog Motien Pass and adjacent position occupied by the Japanese.

The latter, it added, stubbornly resisted, repulsing the Russians on all sides and pursuing them as far as Teun Taputzu.

New York, July 18.—The following cable advice was received from London today:

Dispatches from Tokio tell of heavy fighting at Motien Pass yesterday, two divisions of Russians being repulsed by the Japanese. The casualties were heavy.

GERMANY IS MAD.

Berlin, July 18.—The German government has taken a prompt and stand in regard to the seizure of mails of the North German steamer Prinz Heinrich, which at Aden July 16, from Hamburg Southampton for Yokohama, Russian volunteer fleet steamers, July 15, having made against carrying off of the mail, asking for a disavowal of the action and the captured mail sacks.

The German government's foreign office says, recognizes search mails when on board itself, but claims the Smolensk only to take off the mail, and no right to take off the mail, from the vessel. Further argument is advanced that the right of search can only be exercised by a warship, where the Smolensk traversed the Dardanelles only recently, flying a Russian commercial flag and not assuming the character of a warship.

The German government has not taken a positive stand on this last point, but leaves the question for future discussion and settlement. No answer has yet been received from Russia.

The recent publication by Russ of the St. Petersburg statement that Great Britain was about to transfer Wei Hai Wei to Germany in exchange for a free hand in the Yang Tse valley is accounted at the foreign office, where it classed as a revival of the old story and having no foundation.

MAIL IS RESTORED.

Aden, July 18.—The British steamer Persia was forcibly detained for an hour in the Red Sea by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk, which transferred to the Persia a portion of the Japanese mails seized on the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Heinrich July 15. The Smolensk confiscated two bags of the Prinz Heinrich mail destined for Nagasaki.

JUNK CAPTURED.

Tokio, July 18, 10 a. m.—The Japanese torpedo destroyer Hayatori has captured a junk, conveying mail from Port Arthur to Che Foo. Letters dealing with military and naval conditions at Port Arthur have been seized. Much valuable information was contained in the letters.

Those which did not deal with military topics have been forwarded to St. Petersburg with the request that they be delivered to those whom they were addressed.

RUSSIANS SATISFIED.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—General public satisfaction is manifested over the decision of the admiralty to patrol the Red Sea for the purpose of intercepting contraband of war destined for Japan. As yet, however, the papers do not discuss the subject.

Russia is merciful, and kills the Japs without letting them know it. The Jap does not yet know about that 30,000 dead, and has only heard of it through St. Petersburg.

CLOUD BAROMETERS.

HOW TO FORETELL THE WEATHER BY LOOKING OVERHEAD.

Cirrus is the Highest of All Clouds, and Cumulus is Much the Biggest of Any Form of Cloud—The Wettest Cloud of All is Nimbus.

"It is clouding up. It must be going to rain." This is a remark you may hear constantly, and few people seem to realize that the one thing is by no means a consequence of the other. True, all clouds are composed of water vapor, but it is absurd to imagine that because clouds become visible in the sky they are therefore going to discharge their contents upon our heads.

On the contrary, some clouds are actually prophets of fine weather. Cirrus, for instance, or curl cloud, as it is often picturesquely called, is, as a rule, a fine weather harbinger. Cirrus is the highest of all clouds. You can tell that by the fact that its thin, twisty, fibrous streaks are illuminated by the last rays of the setting sun long after the earth below is wrapped in shadow. Threads and groups of cirrus clouds, the finer the better, appearing after a gale, presage a long continuance of settled weather. On the other hand, if after several fine days cirrus appears in long parallel bands stretching right across the sky in the form popularly known as "mares' tails," there will almost certainly be a change of wind and probably rain to follow.

Unlike other clouds, cirrus is composed not of water vapor, but of tiny crystals of ice. You can tell by its motion what the pace and direction of the highest current of wind. Quietly as it appears to be moving, careful observation has proved that cirrus sometimes travels at the rate of a mile in eighteen seconds.

Another form of cloud which is usually an accompaniment of fine, warm weather are those cottonlike, whitish balls which are scientifically termed cumulus.

Early in the morning of a fine summer day cumulus begins to form as a few soft, scattered specks in the blue above. These specks grow and enlarge without, as a rule, traveling very fast, for they are formed by vapor ascending from the earth in columns. By early afternoon they often cover the whole sky, but toward 4 or 5 o'clock they usually decrease and finally vanish by sunset. If they behave in this way you may be almost certain that the ensuing twenty-four hours will be on the other hand, if the cumulus increase toward sunset, turn toward their centers and shine at the top with an angry light, rain will fall in very hot weather, thunder, especially foretold by the clouds showing rounded tops with silvery white edges, which turns very black, and is accompanied by wind.

Cumulus is much the biggest of any cloud. A single cloud of this description will measure six or seven miles from its flat, dark base to its rounded, glistening summit—that is to say, its bulk and height far exceed those of earth's greatest mountains. The temperature in such a cloud as this has been measured to vary over 150 degrees—that is, from 80 degrees Fahrenheit at the base to 75 degrees below zero at its summit.

Stratus is still another form of cloud which presents no special indication of rain. It is more common at night than in the day and consists of long, horizontal bands of darkish cloud, which lie very low and near the earth's surface. It rises on calm, clear evenings after warm days and may often be seen in mountainous districts slowly creeping up the hillsides. If the sun rises through layers of stratus it is usually a sign of a fine, warm day to come. After sunrise, stratus, as a rule, rises higher into the air and slowly disappears.

In early summer, when the weather is showery, you may perhaps notice, through breaks in the rain clouds, an appearance of dense white cloudlets in small, irregular tufts brightly irradiated by sunshine. The children call it mackerel sky. Its real name is cirro cumulus, and it is a sure sign of heat and probably fine weather. Seen in winter, mackerel sky portends a thaw and wet, mild weather. It is the next highest cloud to the cirrus and is sometimes called sonder cloud.

A sure prophet of wind and rain is cirro stratus or vane cloud. It consists of long, thin clouds with torn edges flying at a great height above the earth. It is dull in color and irregular in shape.

The wettest cloud of all is nimbus, which is seen in its most perfect form during a thunderstorm. It is a mixture of other clouds, a dense black or gray sheet which often appears to come up against the wind. Usually when it first appears driving up over the horizon its edges are fringed and tipped with rolling masses of cumulus. The most ominous sign about a nimbus cloud is when its advancing summit is tipped with a mass of dense, white, smoky cloud, which seems to roll over and over. This is an omen of severe electrical disturbance and a furious squall. —Pearson's Weekly.
