Mad Dog Scare.

This afternoon about 3 o'clock a dog supposed to be mad, was shot and killed in the yard of Col. W. M. Lacy, on South Sycamore street, after it had attacked a negro man working on the place, and chasing every one on the place to cover.

The dog attacked the colored man in a vicious manner and he fought him off, finally knocking him down with a stick of wood. But the dog was up and after him again; the negro escaped to the house, and securing a shot gun, killed him. It is reported the negro was not bitten, though the dog got his teeth in his shoe, and gave him a bad fright.

Col. Lacy was at home at the time, and had the doors barred to protect the other members of the family. It was a strange dog, and was first discovered under a hen house acting in a peculiar manner.

Was Badly Hurt.

Mrs. W. Y. Lacy, mother of Messrs. W. M. and Frank Lacy, fell at the home of Mr. Frank Lacy two days ago in such a way as to seriously injure her thigh. She is rendered helpless by the injuries sustained, and is suffering a great deal of pain. This good lady's many friends will regret to know of her great misfortune.

SOCIETY COLUMN.

IN HONOR OF MISS MALLARD.

Wednesday the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jameson, on South Sycamore street, was thrown open to the friends of Misses Willie and Kathleen Jameson, in honor of their cousin, Miss Kate Mallard, visiting from Rusk.

Promptly at 7:30, as indicated by the invitations, the young people began to gather, and then a merry evening of fun began. They were entertained by "A carnival of nations," questions being passed around, the questions to be answered in sentences, the last word of which ended in "nation." Miss Jewel Dubose won the young lady's prize, which was a pretty silver hat pin. Mr. George Howard was the lucky man, and received a neat stick pin.

During the evening all were highly entertained by recitations rendered by the accomplished Miss Mary Windsor. Miss Marguerite Morris also added to the pleasure of the evening by her charming performances on the piano. Those present were:

Misses Marie Price, Mary Windsor, Ima Windsor, Ethel Reitch, Jewel Dubose, Jettie Word, Annie Bess Watson, Corinne Longhorn of Henderson, Mason Haynes, Catherine Raby, Helen Grant, Willie Hooker, Helen Markle, Mattie Cad Gardner, Willie Pearl Gardner, Carrie Houseman, Luella Cook, Hazel Cook, Alice Wood, Genevieve Duguey, Maud O'Flynn, Adelaide Walker. Messrs. George Howard, Raymond Edwards, John Bowdon, Charlie Price, Luckett Kolstad, Coyt Malloy, Penn Bishop, John McMeans, Charlie Deware, Tom Raby, Clarence Dilley, Eldred Outlaw, Frank Lacy, Lewis Maury.

About 11 o'clock the young people took their departure, each declaring that they had spent a very pleasant evening.

MISS HOUSEMAN ENTERTAINS.

Friday morning Miss Carrie Houseman entertained the "06 Club" with something novel and unique. It was a "composite" party. The tables were arranged with paste and brushes, and each guest was presented with a large card, tied with club colors, red and white. Dissected pictures of men and women were passed around, and each vied with the other to make the best picture. Miss Nina Windsor won the Packing Peaches.

At the packing sheds, the old seed sheds near the Dilley Foundry, they are packing peaches, and it is an inspiring and encouraging sight to see about one hundred and fifty men, women and children engaged in this work. It only emphasizes the possibilities along this line. The peaches are being brought in by the wagon loads from the nearby orchards, and they are packed ready for shipment under the eyes of supervisors, who see that none but the choicest fruit goes into the crates. There is a great future in store for Palestine along this line, and one of the things that is going to engage the serious attention of our Board of Trade is a suitable shed for this work. It is bound to come before next season.

Joint Rehearsal.

A joint rehearsal will be held at the hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock, of all the operas, and the opera by home talent. It insists that the men of the parts choruses be sure and be on hand.
