FOUR THOUSAND REBEL.

Crews of the Black Sea Fleet Still Loyal to Their Government.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 28.—At midnight Sunday night the Associated Press is informed by an official there had been no conflict at Sebastopol Sunday. So far as the official knew, the crews of the Black sea fleet were still loyal, but beyond that no information was vouchsafed. It is not known whether the troops which were ordered to proceed from Sinferopol have arrived at Sebastopol.

The sailors who mutinied number about 4,000. Including the sailors on board the ships there were about 8,000 in Sebastopol when the mutiny occurred.

The Euxine fleet is standing in the offing, and is still obeying the orders of Admiral Chouknin, but the crews are dissatisfied, and there are grave doubts whether they can be restrained from joining the mutineers, and greater doubt that they will fire upon them.

The Seventh army corps and the commander of the corps have been hastily summoned from Sinferopol, eight hours distant.

There is every evidence that the mutiny was deliberately and perfectly planned by the Social Revolutionaries, who have been pushing their propaganda with great energy since the St. Petersburg movement was organized to save the Cronstadt mutineers.

TERRIBLE COMBAT.

Conduct of a Drunken Man Causes Twenty Killed and Wounded.

Vladivostok, Nov. 28.—Russian prisoners are returning here from Japan in a state of mutiny because it is impossible to immediately ship them back to Russia, that it has become necessary to form a camp where they are held under guard. On Saturday a camp was surprised on Cape Chouknin, where 1000 prisoners from Port Arthur are confined. A drunken soldier who refused to salute an officer was sabred on the head. His comrades rushed at the officer, who retreated to the officers' club, where he was joined by four other officers. They all made a hard fight for their lives with revolvers against the infuriated men, but before the arrival of a squadron of Cossacks, which had been hastily summoned by telephone, three officers were killed and one terribly beaten. About twenty men were killed or wounded in the struggle.

NEW HIGH RECORDS.

They Were Made at the Opening of the New York Cotton Market.

New York, Nov. 28.—New high records for the season were made at the opening of the cotton market Monday, with trading sensationally active, and an excited movement, caused by a circular issued by a former bear leader on Saturday to the effect that he covered short contracts, and also by the big advance in Liverpool, where a failure was announced. The first prices here were 26 to 25 points higher, with March selling at 11.58, or 11 points above previous records.
