FOUND!

A Mild, Harmless Laxative That You Hear From in One Hour.

Never fails!
Never gripes!
A permanent cure for headaches, constipation and biliousness.
The name of this wonderful Laxative and Bracer is SAL-TE-NA, an Effervescent Fruit Seltzer.
SAL-TE-NA cures Headache like magic, and clears out the bowels within one hour after taking it.
The very worst cases of Chronic Constipation are quickly relieved and permanently cured by SAL-TE-NA.
Why? Because it is composed of Phosphate of Soda and natural fruit acids, a combination that is not only perfectly harmless, but promptly effective.
SAL-TE-NA doesn't depress the heart's action, as do headache tablets and powders.
That's why conscientious druggists recommend SAL-TE-NA in preference to all other proprietary remedies for Headaches and Constipation.
SAL-TE-NA comes in 25 and 50 cent bottles, and can be found at all first-class drug stores in every city, town and hamlet.
Give SAL-TE-NA a trial today and it will "make good" in one hour.

Joe Elam and A. M. Smith of the general offices are out near Troupe, checking up freight at the wreck of yesterday.

AN IMMESE CROWD GREET'S CAMPBELL

THE PALESTINE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR ENTERTAINED A LARGE CROWD AT ATHENS.

Special to the Herald.
Athens, Texas, April 21.—Immense crowds came to Athens today to hear Hon. T. M. Campbell in his address opening his campaign for governor. Judging from the manifest enthusiasm, and the great interest taken in the day, Campbell is the only candidate this section knows anything about. Campbell badges are as thick as blackbirds in a corn field, and the air is filled with music. It is a great day for Athens, for Tom Campbell and for Texas, and Campbell made one of the greatest speeches ever heard in Texas.

Excursion trains from Palestine, Rusk, Tyler and other points brought hundreds of people.

Wanted.

Young ladies to do folding. Apply at Herald office, early Monday morning.

Conditions are Much Better.

Special to the Herald.
Oakland, Cal., April 21.—Confidence at San Francisco is being restored. Merchants are ordering stocks and renting buildings when possible. Every available man is being hired. It can be stated definitely that the Ferry House has been saved from the flames, and that the fires are subsiding. Lawlessness is also subsiding, as the lawless have been cowed. No epidemic is likely.

Soldiers Burying the Dead.

Special to the Herald.
San Francisco, April 21.—Soldiers are working with picks and spades burying the dead all over the city. There is no waiting for identification. The exigency requires immediate interment to prevent a pestilence.

Ferry House is Saved.

Special to the Herald.
San Francisco, April 21.—The fire which so seriously threatened the ferry house is now under control, and the building will probably be saved.

Forever Distinguished.

When Washington made his tour of New England in 1789 he was the guest of his friend, Oliver Ellsworth, at Windsor, Conn. Ellsworth's biographer, William Garrott Brown, mentions that visit as "the greatest hour in the history of Windsor and of the Ellsworth family."

Washington wrote in his diary on Oct. 21, 1789: "By promise was to have breakfasted at Mr. Ellsworth's at Windsor on the way to Springfield; but the morning proving very wet and the rain not ceasing until 10 o'clock, I did not set out till half after that hour. I called, however, on Mr. E. and stayed there near an hour."

Tradition has generously lengthened out and embellished with incidents of an old fashioned patriotic flavor the single hour of Washington at Ellwood. There is the story of the errand of one of Ellsworth's young sons to the Wadsworth mansion at Hartford to present the invitation, of his trepidation at the thought of facing the greatest man in the world and of his surprise, relief and disappointment to find only a quiet old gentleman dressed very much like his father.

There is also the story of Washington's taking on his knees the youngest twain of the Ellsworth children and singing them the ballad of the Derby ram.

The homes Washington then visited were thenceforth forever distinguished, and many a New England house was richer by the priceless association so valued by the owners of Ellwood.—Youth's Companion.

Dinner For Three.

Two newsboys stopped before a fruit stand, says a writer in the Denver Post, and one of them asked the price of apples. "Five cents each," said the stand man, pointing to one pile. "Two for 5," indicated another. "Gotta have three for 5," said the boy, starting away. "All right," said the stand man, "here's three. Gimme your nickel." The boy took the apples and paid over the nickel. He gave one to the other boy.

"What are you going to do with the extra one?" asked the other. "The first boy did not reply. On the next corner was a blind man seated on a stool. The boy with the extra apple approached him. "Here," he said, giving the fruit to the blind man, "here's an apple for you."

As the two boys moved away the one who had bought the apples said: "That feller didn't have any dinner. I been hanging round that corner, and he didn't have a thing to eat."

One Woman's Way.

Husband—Why are you buying such an expensive present for Mrs. Shoddy? I thought you told me you hated her. Wife—So I do, but I know she can't afford to give me a return one as handsome, and it will make her perfectly 'arions.—Baltimore American.
