HOW MUCH?

Just as a cold, deliberate business proposition, how much would you give for a business institution of considerable magnitude that will pay one hundred cents on the dollar on the money invested? You would want such an enterprise established in our midst, would you not, and you would be willing to subscribe liberally to its capital? This is exactly the kind of business proposition presented to the city now in the proposed Baptist college to be established in Eastern Texas, and which can be secured for Palestine if our people want it. We are talking, too, about dollars and cents profits. This is the smallest of the good to come from such a school. Its value as a builder, an educator, a moral factor, is beyond prophecy or contemplation. But we prefer to discuss it here as a strictly money value investment for the town. Such a school would pay back in business every dollar invested in it, and every legitimate business interest would profit in the revenue derived from the school. The grocer, the butcher, the dry goods man, the public service concerns, the preachers and the newspapers. Get it into your head, good citizen, that it is proposed to establish a college that will rank with any college in the State, and which is expected to draw patronage from all of this great East Texas territory. It will bring people here if located here, not only as pupils, but families will move to the town because of the superior educational advantages.

This being so, it needs no further argument to guarantee the value of such a school in our midst. The point of value then being settled, it is next in order to get busy and secure the school. And in this connection we are going to be frank and fair with our rival towns, by saying that if we get it we will have to pay liberally. Three other towns are after this school, and that means they are after it to get it. If Palestine wants the school she may expect to pay liberally. Let us not underestimate the value of the school and the bids our opponents will make for it.

This weather is causing the plows in Anderson county to work overtime.

The inventor of the split log drag is now in Texas, and is lecturing on the uses and advantages of the instrument he has given the road workers. Would it not be a good idea to have him visit Palestine?

It now begins to look as if Governor Campbell will have to call the legislature into extra session if the platform demands are enacted into laws. Too much time has been frittered away and too little legislating done.

Ridgeway's, the new weekly, which was published simultaneously in a dozen different cities, and which was to revolutionize the world along certain lines, is a thing of the past. The very first issue was a prophecy of its early doom, for it was stale and uninteresting.

The Denison Herald tells this salient truth: About the slowest job a man can undertake is to educate the public to something that is for their own benefit and advancement. People move along in the same old rut until it is almost next to impossible to jar them out of it. This is particularly true of the good roads question, than which there is none of deeper interest to every man, woman and child in the country.

All over the country we hear of wages being raised. And at the same time comes the news that the price of everything else has been proportionately raised. Yes, the laborer gets more pay for his work; the grocer gets more money for his groceries; the butcher gets more money for his meats; the Standard Oil company gets more money for its oil, while Rockefeller gives more money to the churches; the householder gets more rent for his house; the farmer gets more for his cotton and corn, and pays more for dresses for his wife and children. Yes, wages go up, and likewise everything else. So, what's the use?

NEWSPAPERS BUILD THE TOWN.

The newspapers of El Paso are giving the fair all the advertising needed until the association is ready to advertise its first fair. Money invested in a booklet containing pictures of the committee and of public buildings at this stage of the game is money squandered. The press is doing the work and doing it free of charge.—El Paso Evening News.

The newspapers of a town are the town's builders. The worst word on the tongue of many citizens is for the home newspaper. Yet without them, the town would simply be a speck on the map. These same citizens benefit by the town's growth; made possible by these same newspapers. The information contained in the News' paragraph is an instance. El Paso's fair will be a success, and it will be made so, principally, by the city's publications. Without them, the fair might as well be held in a barn on a prairie, for all the outside world would know about it.—San Antonio Express.

GOOD ROADS.

The split log drag is an inexpensive good roads maker, and those who have tried it declare it has proven a road builder of par excellence and of permanency, too. The split log drag is believed by many practical men to be the best road machine on the market at any price, and it costs but little.—Austin Statesman.

With the millions of money that have been taken in in Johnson county within the past three years, Johnson county might have acquired plowed roads in at least four different directions, leading from the court house. As it is Dallas and Fort Worth have captured lots of this money, and still we haven't a mile of road that would withstand a heavy rainfall lasting for a week.—Cleburne Review.

Good roads mean cheaper goods for the farmer and quicker sale for his produce; good roads mean better understanding and closer sympathy between town and country; good roads mean better educational facilities for the boys and girls in the rural districts; good roads mean a doctor within easy reach in time of need; good roads mean neighborly visits and better attendance at the church. You are a bad citizen if you don't pull for good roads.—Paris Advocate.

While we are talking about good roads, would it not be well enough for the officers charged with that duty to see that the road overseers do all their duty? Many of them are only half-hearted in their efforts to have the hands do their best to keep the roads in good condition.—Bonham News.

AMUSEMENTS.

Si Punkard Tonight.

Si Punkard and his big company will be the bill at the Temple this evening. A good show is promised, and the company makes great claims for its superb band and orchestra. If you enjoy comedy of this kind you will be pleased with the bill tonight.

"The Slow Poke."

W. B. Patton in the "Slow Poke" will be the attraction tomorrow evening. Patton is one of the most popular actors that comes to Palestine, and he will play to the capacity of the house. He is appearing this season in his new play, and his Palestine admirers are expecting a genuine treat.

Barlow & Wilson's Minstrels.

Barlow & Wilson's Minstrels hold forth at the opera house Saturday night, February 16. The date is auspicious and the company well known. Since the days of old when four of the best end men in the United States formed a trust on minstrelsy, everything goes in the first rank that has Barlow, Wilson, Primrose or West's name to it. There are real sane-looking people who say they do not like grand opera, but nobody is willing to declare his dislike of a good minstrel show.

Majestic All-Star Vaudeville Company.

The Majestic All-Star Vaudeville company will be at the Temple opera house Friday, February 15, matinee and night. This company should be well patronized, for it comprises the best to be seen in "vaudeville," and they come well recommended, having recently played the Interstate circuit, Orpheum circuit, and the leading variety houses in the East. For high-salaried acts, McWaters, Tyson and company head the bill in a spectacular musical comedy entitled "Vaudeville," with special scenery and electrical effects. The water lily scene produced by them is one of the most elaborate stage settings ever shown, and with a number of pretty girls as living lilies headed by Miss Grace Tyson introducing "Dream On," must be seen to be appreciated.

Morrissey and Rich are billed as rare and rich comedians, a title well suited to them, as they keep the audience on good terms with a brand of humor decidedly their own. They will tell stories, sing and dance.

Odell and Kinley as Pierrot and Pierrette offer something new and striking in acrobatic comedy. Miss Kinley will display some fetching costumes and present her person of the acrobatic girl.

Mr. Stafford has no equal as an imitator and whistler, offering his unique specialty in a high class and novel manner, assisted by Miss Stone. He imitates birds, animals, and his rendition of the "Mocking Bird" is an artistic bit of work.

Al. Coleman with no make-up to deceive you will offer some new and original stories that are extremely ludicrous and timely. His facial expressions add considerably to the merit of his offering, and he is sure to win friends during his short stay in town.

Marie Stone is a sweet Southern singer, besides possessing a charming personality, and will introduce in her repertoire classic selections and popular songs of the present day.

The management is to be congratulated on securing so desirable and capable company of entertainers of high class "Vaudeville."

C. E. Borchgrevink.

C. E. Borchgrevink, the celebrated Norwegian explorer, was born in Christiania, February 13, 1864. He received his education in the leading schools of his native country and later was graduated from the Royal College of Saxony. He emigrated to Australia in 1888, worked for some years as a teacher in Queensland and New South Wales, and also as a surveyor. His first voyage to the Antarctic seas was made on a whaler in 1894. This experience gave him a taste for exploring that little known region, and upon his return to Australia he organized a scientific and exploring expedition which succeeded in penetrating the frozen seas to a point nearer the south pole than had ever been done before. In 1902 Borchgrevink was sent by the National Geographic society of Washington to investigate the volcanic conditions in the West Indies. The United States warship Dixie was placed at the disposal of the explorer for the purposes of the expedition. M. Borchgrevink has lectured throughout American and Europe and has been awarded high honors by the scientific and geographical societies of several countries.

"Sam Houston."

Meyer Cohen, representing the Shuberts, directing the tour of Clay Clement in "Sam Houston," was in Palestine today arranging for the appearance here for Mr. Clement on Tuesday, February 19.

Mr. Clement is playing Texas in opposition to the theatrical trust, and through the bill introduced in the senate by Senator Griggs and the efforts of Governor Campbell, he has been booked in the trust house at Austin. Manager Swift declared himself independent of the syndicate and secured "Sam Houston" for one night here. The company numbers fifty people, and carries two carloads of scenery. The play is founded on incidents in the life of the Texas hero, and is historical in theme and accurately correct in detail. Mr. Clement will be remembered here for his brilliant performance as Baron Hohenstauffer in "The New Dominion." He is a Texan and lives at Paris. Sale of seats will open Thursday.

HOME ENDORSEMENT.

Hundreds of Palestine Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Palestine people, should be evidenced beyond dispute for every Palestine reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far-away places. Read the following:

N. White, retired, of 402 Howard avenue, says: "About six months ago I was seized with an attack of kidney complaint. It first began with slight pains in the back. I paid little attention to it at the time, thinking it would disappear in the course of a few days, but instead of getting better it grew gradually worse until it became so bad that I had to take to my bed. From the nature of my suffering, I came to the conclusion that the trouble was all due to disorders of the kidneys. I used a number of different remedies and tried doctor's prescriptions without getting any marked benefit. Finally my attention was called to Doan's Kidney Pills, and I decided to give them a trial. I procured two boxes at the Bratton Drug Company's store. I never used any remedy so effective. In a few days the pains disappeared from my back entirely, and I could stoop, straighten and move about without inconvenience. I cannot say too much in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills and I take pleasure in recommending a remedy that does just what is claimed for it."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Company, Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and it take no other.
