Shower Party.

No prettier event has occurred in our city this season than the shower given by the Dorcas Society to Miss Dell Selman at the home of Mrs. W. H. Kingsbury on yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Kingsbury, assisted by Mrs. A. D. Sparkman and Miss Ethel Burton, stood at the front hall door, welcoming every one. The color scheme of the afternoon was green and white—the hall, parlor and li-brary being in these colors. Ferns and evergreen vines were gracefully arranged, giving everything an added charm. In the parlor were life pictures, different little scenes arranged, and altogether forming a story of life; there were four different groups arranged at the windows. Paper with little green pencils attached were passed, and all asked to write an original life story, using Miss Selman as the heroine and Mr. Dunnahoe as the They were given a stated time in which to do this. After all were written they were read aloud, and were beautiful, some dating back to the time of infancy with the bride and All of the stories were given to Miss Selman to keep and read to Mr. Dunnahoe when they become old After this, music from the library was heard, and all caught the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march by Miss Burton. The Dorcas Society marched thro' the hall to the library
