THIRTY-THREE ARE DEAD A SENATE COMMITTEE

Two Are Missing and Six or More Are Injured, One Fatally—Total Score of Mine Disaster.

(Herald Special.)
Drakesboro, Ky., Feb. 2.—Thirty-three men are dead, two are missing and half a dozen are injured, one fatally, as a result of the explosion in the White Mine of the Elk Valley Coal company, which occurred late yesterday. The above completes the list of casualties, it is thought. About fifty-five men were in the mine when the explosion occurred. The explosion is believed to have been caused by a miner going into an unused part of the mine with a lantern and where gas had accumulated.

Midnight Report.
Drakesboro, Ky., Feb. 2.—Nineteen corpses removed from the Browder mine, ten bodies in sight in the workings and six others known to be dead, was the count at midnight in the death roll resulting from the explosion of gases in the mine today. Nearly a score of men were mangled by the explosion and many of these will probably die.

The confusion and panic following the disaster were so widespread that the extent of the calamity was apparently underestimated until the work of carrying out the mangled bodies was well under way. Hundreds of women and children were grouped about the shaft snatching at the bodies as they were brought up, endeavoring to obtain some identification of them. Lack of a checking system made it impossible for twelve hours after the explosion to obtain an accurate count of the dead and injured, while identification of either living or dead seemed a well-nigh hopeless task.

Earlier Report.
Drakesboro, Ky., Feb. 1.—Ten men are known to be dead and seventeen others are missing, presumed to be killed, as a result of a gas explosion in the Browder mine, one and a half miles from Drakesboro, at noon today. Eight of the bodies have been recovered, all of them horribly mutilated and some of them past identification. Because of the accumulation of gases in the entry where the explosion occurred, it was impossible to begin active rescue work until six hours after the disaster occurred.

Fifty-Two at Primero.
(Herald Special.)
Primero, Colo., Feb. 2.—It became known today that more than half of the victims of the mine explosion here carried life insurance in favor of their wives or other relatives. Fifty-two bodies have so far been recovered from the mine.

To Make Thorough Investigation as to Prevailing High Prices—President on Gambling.

(Herald Special.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—A resolution providing for the investigation of the increase in the cost of living was introduced in the senate today by Senator Lodge. The resolution provides for the selection of a committee of five senators and follows closely the lines of the Elkins resolution presented some months ago. The measure was referred to the committee on finance. It gives sweeping authority to the committee and directs them to inquire into the prices for the necessities of life, the cost of production at home and abroad, and the possible effect the tariff has on the prices, and all other features of the situation.

A committee from the National Farmers' Union, headed by C. S. Barrett, president of the organization, called on President Taft today in relation to legislation on the question of gambling in futures. The president talked with the committee some time and said he was in favor of a law which would prevent speculation in the necessities of life.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD.

Body Discovered in Poverty Stricken Home at Houston.

Houston, Texas, Feb. 1.—With scarcely a crust in the house, sick and destitute and unable to provide for her family, Mrs. Mary Lutzelburger, widow of Louis Lutzelburger, at one time city dog catcher, died at her poverty stricken home near Chaneyville Junction some time late Monday night. The body was discovered at an early hour Tuesday morning lying on a bed in a bare walled room, by an officer, who reported the matter to headquarters. Five little children were left by the widow and were taken in charge by the United Charities. No inquest was necessary, and the remains were turned over to a local undertaker. Mrs. Love of the United Charities stated that the condition of the family was found to be distressing. Mrs. Lutzelburger was about 40 years of age.
