FATHER TO THE WISH.

Johnson and Poindexter, who are presumed to love the cause they advocate more than self-advancement, are slow about showing their love. As a consequence the prohibitionists are cause those are the best sections of Texas, but is the direct result of persistent boosting on the part of those people. In South Texas many big concerns have organized into colonization companies and are sending literature into the north and other sections inviting people to come, and the results are manifest. There is no section of Southern Texas that can offer better inducements to homeseekers than can East Texas, and yet the demand for East Texas lands is not what it should be. When East Texas people get together and inaugurate an advertising campaign, telling of the wonderful things possible here, we may expect to see a great movement this way. The East Texas Industrial Congress, organized in Nacogdoches recently, is the proper channel to use for this work. And the time to get busy is right now while people are coming to Texas.

THE CASE OF MR. BALLINGER.

President Taft's secretary of the interior has been under fire almost from the beginning of his administration of that department of the government service and there is something almost pathetic in the attitude of this cabinet officer, something almost heroic in the president's faith in and loyalty to him under great stress.

No one seriously believes that President Taft is consciously harboring in his cabinet a man unworthy to be there in defiance of public sentiment. It is inconceivable that even exaggerated stubbornness and recklessness of results would cause him to continue in office a man in whom he had lost confidence.

Perhaps if Mr. Ballinger could have left the cabinet gracefully he would went back to work today and everybody is happy.

As the Herald has remarked for about the four thousandth time, the greatest need of this city, to place it on an assured prosperous and permanent basis, is some five or six hundred up-to-date farmers to till the idle lands of the county. This work should seriously engage the attention of this people for the next year or two or such time until we have the right kind of farming population. We have the people here who are full able to inaugurate a colonization scheme with the view of bringing people into the county.

A few days ago, in publishing the distribution of honors among the High School graduates, Miss Blossom Swift, it was announced, made the highest averages for the four year term, and according to custom, would be valedictorian at the commencement exercises. Afterward it developed that the averages of Miss Swift and Miss Ida Landau were a tie. Now it has been satisfactorily arranged that both are to deliver valedictories. Both are very bright young ladies and made very high averages, and their friends are proud of them.

Answering your inquiry regarding your Mound City "To-Walk-On Floor Stain," would state that it is the best for all purposes I have ever used.

I have used it largely for floors in my hotel and find that it wears well. For retouching any kind of old furniture it is excellent.
