

SURVEY FOR A NEW LINE

PROPOSED TO CONNECT DALLAS WITH EAST TEXAS BY INTER-URBAN — SURVEYORS REACH NAVARRO COUNTY.

The surveyors for the Dallas-Palestine interurban railway have reached Corsicana, and are pushing the work right on to the East Texas metropolis—the heart of the greatest fruit belt in the southwest. From the city of Dallas to Corsicana they have run an air line passing through, it might be said, the most thickly populated and richest part of the state of Texas, directly paralleling no other railroad which, when the interurban road is completed, will open up an entirely new country by furnishing a frequent and convenient service to a class of our citizens that do not now have any transportation facilities at all. The engineers are meeting with unbounded encouragement from everywhere.

From reports of the Corsicana papers the last day or two it is learned that the Trinity Valley Traction company, which is handling this enterprise, is moving up all lines of the work and that prospects are very encouraging for the early beginning of construction.

President J. V. Watkins returned last evening from a trip to Corsicana and the camp, and says he is highly pleased with the progress and class of work his men are doing; and that his reception by the citizens of that city and county is indeed gratifying.

Without any unforeseen hindrances he says this company expects to make such progress within the next few months as will be of considerable interest to the general public all along the route.—Dallas Times Herald.

SOME GOOD TALKS MADE of the Speakers Favored the Tax, Others Did Not—Was Endorsed by Meeting.

The good roads meeting Wednesday at the city hall there had an attendance of about thirty, but few business men. There was none of the members of the city board of commissioners present; no member of the county commissioners' court, save Judge Funderburk, and no business men, excepting one or two. It was a meeting of a few who felt an interest in the election, and only a few. However, some good talks were made by Messrs. B. F. Rogers, Z. Broughton, W. M. Hamilton, R. R. Claridge, Judge Funderburk, T. L. Rogers and J. F. Nash. Some of the speakers favored the election, others did not; some favoring the extra road tax expressed themselves as partial to a bond election, believing that the only practical way to secure permanent roads; others believed the proposed amplified plan would prove worse than the present plan. The talks were entertaining and instructive.

Just before adjournment, and when the crowd had somewhat dwindled, a vote was taken as to whether or not the proposed tax plan would be endorsed by the meeting. A majority voted to endorse the plan.

HELM HOME DESTROYED

Fire Started From Flying Ember From Crawford Home Fire. Was Partially Insured.

The John Helm home, located east of the city, on the I. & G. N. railroad, a pretty and picturesque home, was totally destroyed Wednesday afternoon, having set fire from a flying ember from the Crawford home fire, reported in Wednesday's issue.

The house was totally destroyed, together with most of the contents. Only part of the furnishings from the first floor were taken from the building. When the alarm was turned in from this fire the department was busy with the Crawford fire, and some considerable delay was had in getting to the fire. Then it was necessary to lay a long line of hose to reach the nearest fire plug.

It took hard work to protect other property from the heat and flying sparks. Mr. Helm's loss is partially covered by insurance.

During the progress of the Crawford fire sparks set fire to several bales of cotton in the McInnis cotton yard, directly in the path of the flying sparks, but they were extinguished by those who were keeping close watch.

LOW WATER PRESSURE

It Was Slow Coming at the Crawford Fire, and Elicited Much Unfavorable Comment.

Firemen at the Crawford home fire yesterday afternoon report it was some fifteen or twenty minutes after the hose was laid before they could get water pressure sufficient for active service. In the meantime some of the hose laid for service was scorched and ruined by the heat. A great deal of mud was blown through the hose, almost stopping the flow of water at times.

At the jail corner the fire plug could not be opened, and an automobile was pressed into service to go for a pipe wrench with which to open the hydrant. This hydrant, so it is reported, has been in this condition since the paving contractors used it, getting water from the hydrant for the paving work. The top of the hydrant, connecting with the valve, was worn round so the wrench ordinarily used was of no avail.

Left Baggage at Longview.

Liberati's Band, which is billed at the Temple Theatre tonight, arrived in the city via the early morning train, but found to their consternation that their twelve pieces of baggage had been left at Longview. The railroad officials got busy and got the baggage in via freight train.

This musical organization promises to be a great treat for Palestine people.

BOARD OF TRADE TONIGHT.

Meeting of the Executive Committee Will Be Held.

A regular meeting of the Board of Trade executive committee is announced for this evening, and it is especially desired that a full membership be present, as the matter of a new hotel will come up for discussion, with other topics of live interest. A direct proposition has been put up to the Board on the hotel matter, and it needs immediate attention.

WOUNDED NEGRO DIES

Victim of Pistol Wound Charged to Jodie Wells, Negro, Died in This City Last Night.

The negro man shot at Oakwoods Tuesday night, and for which Jodie Wells and his brother were arrested in this city Wednesday morning, died in this city last night, on the operating table. He was brought in from Oakwoods last evening, and walked from the train to a carriage, so it is said. At the hospital an examination revealed the dangerous nature of the wound. He was shot in the bowels. Death came soon after the operation deemed necessary was performed.

The negro's name was Jefford Woods, and he lived at Oakwoods.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Published by Authority of the Secretary of Agriculture.

For Palestine and vicinity until 7 p. m. Friday: Tonight fair, warmer; Friday partly cloudy weather; warmer.

Temperature: Lowest last night, 46; highest yesterday, 71.

Weather Conditions.

The storm that was over the Great Lakes has moved eastward to the Atlantic coast. It has caused rain in the eastern Lake region, in the St. Lawrence valley and along the Atlantic coast. The disturbance that was over the northwest has moved southeastward with greatly increased energy. It has caused a decided rise in temperature in the northern Rocky mountain region and has been attended by light showers in the North Pacific states. The weather is generally clear and colder in Texas this morning and northerly winds prevail. Barometric conditions indicate fair and warmer weather in this vicinity tonight and partly cloudy and warmer weather Friday.

New Books Ordered.

At the meeting of the Palestine Public Library board yesterday a nice list of new books was ordered, and the books are expected by the holidays.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE ANIMATED DOLL, "ENIGMA"

Is it Human? Is it Mechanical? Will Appear at the Lyric Theater Tonight.

ENIGMA, THE ANIMATED DOLL

Will Be the Vaudeville Offering at the New Lyric Tonight.

The management says: Tonight as the vaudeville attraction at the New Lyric Theater, Prof. A. M. Livermore will present "Enigma," the Animated Doll. This is one of the greatest novelty acts in vaudeville and has been secured at considerable extra expense by the management, notwithstanding there will be no advance in prices.

As a feature film in motion photographs "Dora Thorn," from Bertha M. Clay's famous novel, will be exhibited. The beautiful story of "Dora Thorn" is so well known it hardly need be outlined, but suffice it to say the story is doubly attractive when thrown on the canvas in motion pictures. The other film is a high art Kalem subject, "The Perversity of Fate," a powerful silent drama.

LIBERATI'S BAND

Offered as Attraction at the Temple Theatre Tonight.

Speaking of the attraction at the New Temple Theatre tonight, the Chicago Evening American of August 15, 1910, says: "White City has a very big attraction this week and next. And that big attraction is Liberati's Band, assisted by grand opera singers. Every afternoon and evening Liberati's Band, soloists and chorus, give two concerts. The band selections alternate with scenes from grand opera rendered by excellent soloists and full chorus. The second concert, both afternoons and evenings, ends with opera in costume. This week the program closes with "Cavalleria Rusticana," rendered in its entirety. Just the gate money lets you in to hear Liberati and his company, and everybody goes. Musical enthusiasts are massed thick through the great tree-roofed enclosure in front of the band stand half an hour before the concerts begin. Liberati's singers are men and women with large, full-toned, melodiously voices. They can be heard clearly through the whole enclosure. You have paid a dollar many a time for opera that could not compare with what Liberati gives you for nothing, once you have got by the White City gates. Perhaps the opera attracts you most. But it is not the whole thing in Liberati's concerts. By no means. There is Liberati himself—one of the finest cornetists who ever blew his way to fame through a brass tube. It was an inspiring thing to see Liberati playing his cornet while directing his band of seventy-five men with his left hand. You get the best of Liberati's Band in its military and national selections. Last night Liberati played American patriotics till he lifted the crowd off its feet, yes, literally. That mass of people surged up into the air and shouted when Liberati's band led the way for "The Star Spangled Banner."

He has an interesting history—this same Liberati. He has been a bandmaster on this side of the Atlantic for thirty-six years. He has enough medals to make him a suit of armor if he strung them all together. This year Liberati's Band is better than ever—as the daily and nightly crowds at White City testify.

Failed in Health

"My mother died six years ago," writes Miss Ruth Ward, of Jerseyville, Ill., "and left me to care for six children. I had never been strong; and this, with the shock of her death, was too much for me.

"I failed in health. I was tired all the time and did not want to go anywhere, nor care for company. I had the headache all the time and such bearing-down pains. "A very dear friend advised me to take Cardui, as it had done her so much good, so I commenced to use it and now I am in good health."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Women's pains are relieved or prevented and women's strength is quickly restored, by Cardui, the woman's tonic. You yourself know best if you need it, or not. If you do need it, do not delay, but commence to use it at once. Every day of delay, only lets you slide further down the hill.

Don't wait, then, but begin to take Cardui today, for its use, no matter how prolonged, cannot harm you and will surely do you good.
