NEW WRESTLER IN THE ARENA

Manager Hannah Anxious to Match His Man, Gust Pappas

George J. Hannah of Helper has taken on the management of a new fellow in the wrestling game hereabouts in the person of Gust Pappas, who hails from the Pacific Coast and is in Eastern Utah to take on all comers. Especially does he desire to meet Seedy, the local favorite, and who has many admirers in Carbon county. He wants a finished match at any time—for side purse or otherwise. Pappas claims to be the middleweight champion of America. Here is what the sporting editor of the Los Angeles (Cal.) Times has to say of him:

"Pappas certainly is a good wrestler. Several years ago, in the days when Sam Clapham was dubbing around these parts, Pappas and Sam put on one of the greatest battles ever seen locally, wrestling something over three hours to a terrific draw. Later Pappas defeated Tony Ajax, one of the best near middleweights we have ever seen around here. He has defeated Mike Yokel and several other champs or near champs and Dick Donald, the demon grappling impresario, is now trying to bring Pappas and Montana together."

Manager Hannah may be communicated with at Helper or interviewed personally at Riverside Park, Spring Glen. He is anxious to do business for his man. Pappas takes on Young Plintina from Chicago at Helper next month.
