FOUR BURGLARIES.

The Gay Burglars Had The Town to Themselves.

VERY CLUMSY WORKMEN.

They Must Have Made Great Noise In The Still Hours of Night, But Provo's Alert Policemen and Nightwatchmen Failed to Hear It—The Total Loss Is Over $500.00

Where was Hatton and the night police?

Between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock this morning four of the most clumsy and awkward burglaries ever perpetrated were committed in Provo. Every evidence shows that they took plenty of time in which to do their work, and that they made plenty of noise, struck matches etc. and were not once interrupted.

The losses are R. S. Hines, Henry Harrison, Albert Singleton and Philip Speckart, whose places of business are all on Nightwatchman Hatton's beat. The burglars got away with only about $7.50 in cash, $2.50 in jewelry, two bottles of whisky, and jewelry, handkerchiefs, shoes, etc., to the value of about seventy-five or a hundred dollars. They ruined a cash register for R. S. Hines worth perhaps $200.00; also a nickel-in-the-slot machine worth $50.00 and a race-horse machine worth $35.00 for Henry Harrison. Besides this, window glass, door locks, etc., were destroyed, perhaps to the value of $25.00, so that all in all the burglars cost these four business men in the neighborhood of $525.00.

The burglars entered Hines' saloon by prying open the door opening on 1 street. They found the cash register locked and carried it away. They also carried away two bottles of choice whisky. The cash register was found this morning by Mr. Hines and his bartender, John Homer, lying back of Osterloh's stable in a very dilapidated condition. Mr. Hines reports that there was $5.00 in change in the register.

On the evening mentioned the Hon. J. L. Rawlins was there and the ladies of the democratic club had prepared a banquet to be given after the meeting to which none were admitted only those specially invited by the ladies themselves. After the banquet and while a musical program, etc., was being carried out, the two young men referred to crowded by the door-keeper and entered the hall. They were very much under the influence of liquor and refused to go out when requested to do so. The door-keeper then that no one could put them out except the marshal. He stepped to the door and called one of the policemen who came in and ejected them. After they were out one of them struck the policeman in the face and the consequence was they were locked up.

That is all there was of it, excepting that they ought to be thankful that the policeman was persuaded not to enter a charge of resisting an officer against them, as it was they were arrested for disorderly conduct.

It is very evident from the Enquirer's correspondent's letter that the republicans here are sadly out of an issue when they take up such things as that. I know that "Mr. Brown's" party here is terribly rattled, but I did not know that they are compelled to fall back on such stuff as that. I would judge that "Mr. Brown" has not had much experience in politics. When I saw J. Dan O. over here. Can't they put you, "Mr. Brown" on to a better "racket" than that?

"Mr. Brown" says he was at that banquet. Now it is as was, we want him to please tell us what he was doing there. Were you following out Crane's instructions? You had no invitation and do gentlemen where they are not invited? No, you were not there. Your saying you were, is only an invention of your own, and you only write that piece to try and create sympathy for those to fool in fellows. You will make nothing out of it, for the reason that the people of Spanish Fork are intelligent and not to be caught by such clap-trap.

"Mr. Brown" also says that he saw enough there to case anyone to leave the democratic party. Please tell us what you mean. Don't throw out any insinuations in a sneering, contemptible manner. I don't look well, and besides, it always has a reactionary effect. If you have anything to say come out like a man and say it.

aming the Commercial & Savings bank. When he came back from his errand he found the same two standing in the door of his bank. When he went in they followed asking if he was lawyer King whose sign they saw outside. Being informed that he was not, they went back to his office, and while doing so made a careful examination of the interior of the bank.

Last night a tramp, thought to be one of these men, sold to S. W. Snapp of the Excelsior Livery stables a very valuable pocket knife for a quarter, and later came back and tried to sell another to Mr. Sutherland, of the stables.

Descriptions of these fellows the officers have got. They are also watching a fellow who was found on the streets at day-break this morning and who conducted himself as though he was about to hear what was said of the burglaries.

Some insist that the burglaries were committed by local parties, and many are the theories advanced; but the question that one hears oftenest asked is "Where were the night-watchmen?" and "What was the night-policeman doing?"

DRUNKEN REPUBLICANS.

The Boys at Spanish Fork Who Were Arrested Were Not Arrested for Their Republicanism as The Enquirer Asserts.

SPANISH FORK, Oct. 18.—[Correspondence DISPATCH]—There appeared in the Enquirer of the 17th a short piece from here written by some republican who signs himself "Wm. Brown" wherein he takes exceptions to the arrest of two young republicans on the evening of the 8th inst. and tries to make political capital out of the same.

For the information of DISPATCH readers I will set forth the facts as they occurred.

On the evening mentioned the Hon. J. L. Rawlins was there and the ladies of the democratic club had prepared a banquet to be given after the meeting to which none were admitted only those specially invited by the ladies themselves. After the banquet and while a musical program, etc., was being carried out, the two young men referred to crowded by the door-keeper and entered the hall. They were very much under the influence of liquor and refused to go out when requested to do so. The door-keeper then that no one could put them out except the marshal. He stepped to the door and called one of the policemen who came in and ejected them. After they were out one of them struck the policeman in the face and the consequence was they were locked up.

That is all there was of it, excepting that they ought to be thankful that the policeman was persuaded not to enter a charge of resisting an officer against them, as it was they were arrested for disorderly conduct.

It is very evident from the Enquirer's correspondent's letter that the republicans here are sadly out of an issue when they take up such things as that. I know that "Mr. Brown's" party here is terribly rattled, but I did not know that they are compelled to fall back on such stuff as that. I would judge that "Mr. Brown" has not had much experience in politics.

When I saw J. Dan O. over here. Can't they put you, "Mr. Brown" on to a better "racket" than that?

"Mr. Brown" says he was at that banquet. Now it is as was, we want him to please tell us what he was doing there. Were you following out Crane's instructions? You had no invitation and do gentlemen where they are not invited? No, you were not there. First District Court

The jury in the Moore vs. Jacques case found for Milner yesterday, awarding him a judgment of $1,500.00. Mr. Milner sued on a $1,000.00 promissory note drawing interest at 12 per cent. per annum. His judgment should have been $125.00 or nothing. The jurors did not understand that this class of cases (not legally admit of a compromise judgment until after they had returned their verdict, when they were informed. As the error is on the side of Mr. Milner, and he has his judgment, I all probability a motion for new trial will not be made by him because this mistake.

The case on trial today is one in which F. W. C. Ethenbruck & Co., are suing Thomas Fowler, sheriff, the First National bank of Provo, Goldsmith & Co., Elmer B. Jones and others for $10,000.00 damage. Damage is alleged to have been sustained by the defendants in July 1893 attaching the whole stock of gold for a small debt and selling at a ridiculously low price and long after the amount of the attachment was repaid.

Arthur Brown and Ira W. Kenward represent the plaintiff and Thurman & Westwood represent the defendant. Evidence was taken, when this afternoon John Milner begged the indulgence of the court for lie to explain that although the pleadings in the case named him as one of the parties plaintiff as a matter of fact he was in no way interested in the suit, was neither a party plaintiff nor a party defendant.

The trial of this case was stopped and both sides allowed to amend as they saw fit. The case will be tried next term or court.

NEGROES IN THE DISTRICT.

They Want the Suffrage Restored Because They Charge Discrimination.

At the next session of congress a monster petition will be presented by Representative Murray of South Carolina, the only colored man in either house, praying for the restoration of the rights of political suffrage in the District of Columbia. It will be signed by a majority of the negroes of the District, headed by Frederick Douglass and ex-Senator Bruce. This move grows out of the refusal of the commissioners of the District to appoint a colored man as one of the members of the board of assessors recently created by act of congress. The colored men had an applicant in the person of Daniel A. Murray, an assistant in the congressional library and a member of the board of trade. Frederick Douglass especially interested himself in behalf of Mr. Murray, but the board refused to appoint him. The colored people made a stubborn fight for the assessorship, and now that that has been defeated no offices are left, and they propose to memorialize congress for the restoration of the right of suffrage in the District.

When the suffrage was in vogue in the District, the negroes were an important factor in the government, and a part of the patronage was accorded them. There was a negro assistant district attorney, a tax registrar and a city marshal, and other lucrative offices were filled by them. But with abolition of the right of suffrage they have been out off one by one until the assessorship was the only place filled by a negro. Now even that has been taken away. Frederick Douglass says that the government of the District is an oligarchy, and it is a wonder to him that the people have tolerated it as long as they have. Under its present form of government he thinks it impossible for the 85,000 colored people to get any civil or political recognition. He says the trend is now against the negro, but that a reaction will speedily set in.

The sentiments of Mr. Douglass are endorsed by other prominent colored citizens of the District, who say that if they are not successful in their move they will at least let the world know they feel keenly the discrimination on account of color in the government of the District. The pastors of all the local churches are in favor of the movement, and the petitions will be placed at the several churches from Sunday to Sunday for signatures. — Washington Cor. New York Sun.

Knowledge

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

It is excellent in due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fever, and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all drug stores in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
