DEMOCRATIC stump speakers and Democratic newspapers are making ridiculous assertions about the condition of county finances in order to try to confuse the public mind, a favorite dodge with them in order to try to capture a few votes. If they were honest with the public they could explain that the trouble with our county finances is due to the efforts of the corporations to dodge paying their just share of taxation. There is in round numbers $130,000 of county revenue tied up in litigation. Of this there is absolute certainty that the corporations must pay the regular levy, amounting to $90,000. If this sum were paid in it would relieve whatever stringency might exist. The Republican administration has prosecuted their claim for these back taxes with the utmost vigor. It is said the county is certain to win its cases in the end. Had the county commissioners been less active in their duty they might have compromised the cases, in which event there would have money in the treasury, and the present stringency would not have existed and taxes might have been reduced. This would have been smart politics. The taxpayers would have been looser in the long run, however, and it would have been a surrender to the corporations. There are just two factors fighting the Republican administration—the tax-dodging corporations and the Democratic party. It ought to be an easy matter for the people to figure out where their interests are.

Hon. H. H. Taylor, Republican candidate for State Senator, advanced some very weighty reasons why the Republican legislative ticket should be elected. He points out a conceded fact that the next legislature will be Republican. A Republican Senator or Representative, working with the majority party, will be far more influential than one who is with the minority. In fact in all legislative bodies, a bill introduced by a minority member, is almost certain of doom if it concerns a matter over which there be any contention. Localities in Kootenai desiring legislation would do well to bear this in mind.

DR. T. A. BISHOP is the only representative from Bonners Ferry on the Republican ticket, but he is a representative that does credit to the locality. The Doctor has filled the office of Coroner for the past two years and has discharged his duties faithfully and at the minimum of cost to the county. He is a man of clean character, frank and outspoken in his opinions, and strictly attentive to business. Here at home he will receive a great vote and we cordially recommend his candidacy to voters throughout the county.

EDWIN DOUST, the Republican nominee for Sheriff, is a sure winner in this election, but it would be a deserving tribute to a most deserving and honorable citizen to make the vote as large as possible. We all know Edwin Doust. We all know that he has never occupied a position of trust that he has not filled faithfully and with honesty. The old chestnut that he will appoint this or that man deputy is cowardly and will be resented by all who know Ed Doust. He will go into the office free and untrammelled to a degree never before known in the politics of Kootenai county.

AFTER all has been said about the Mormon question, the fact stands out in bold relief that the only anti-polygamy legislation ever enacted in Idaho was Republican legislation. The Republicans are as much opposed to polygamy as any Democrat dare be. No Republican will be so foolish as to be led off into voting the Democratic ticket on the Mormon dodge.
