He was a very good swimmer, but was caught by the under tow. His body was found by Mrs. Davis at Lucile, on May 2, after being under water twenty-eight days.

He was in partnership with his uncle, John Kimbrough and had been in that community about a year. He had many friends, in and around Riggins.

He leaves a father and mother, who reside in Chicago, a sister, brother and uncle to mourn his death.

The funeral was held in Riggins, Sunday afternoon May 5, Rev. L. E. Taber of Whitebird officiating. Interment was made in the Riggins cemetery. A. J. Maug of Grangeville conducting the funeral. There was a large attendance.

W. C. Hill has practically completed his pipe line and has a small amount of water in the pipe to swell the joints. He expects to fill the pipe soon and test it. PURCHASE LIGHTING PLANT
Rice & Harness have purchased a lighting system for their ranch below Whitebird from W. S. Hunter who has been on the prairie for the past two years. Ralph Russell has purchased an outfit of the same make for his ranch.

The "Hunter" system has proven very successful and entirely satisfactory on the ranches of Camas Prairie, many of which have been equipped with it. It is said to be safer than electricity as there can be no defective wires or short circuits to cause fires. Costs much less to install and a great deal less to maintain than an electric plant and is guaranteed for fifteen years.

A Silo Provides Green Feed the Year Around

A silo is the cheapest and most convenient place to store feed for cattle, sheep or hogs. It preserves all the feeding value of whatever is put into it and provides a green and succulent feed when fall pastures are dried up or in winter time when stock is otherwise on dry feed. Very rank or lodged grain, or wild oats which would have little feeding value when cut for hay, will make good silage. Grain out during a raining period and that otherwise spoil can be put into a silo and thus saved. There are so many advantages in having a silo that we can't tell you all of them. We will be glad to give you any information that you may want regarding silos, so don't hesitate to call on us.
