Postmaster Ellis and wife of Stites, accompanied by Mrs. A. H. Harris and son of Walla Walla and Mrs. F. E. Ellis of Warden, their guests, were Grangeville visitors Sunday.

Dr. Pfister the most successful eye specialist in the Inland Empire, who has over 500 patients on Camas Prairie, will again be at Hotel Grangeville, July 19 to 23. Examination free.

J. G. Earp, who ranches near town, was a caller the first of the week. He says his fall wheat never looked better and the late rains have helped out the spring grain immensely.

A camping party composed of the following young men is enjoying a week's outing on the banks of Moore's Lake: Curtis Crawford, Ralph Williams, Harold Harris, Frank Wood and Carl Van Pool.

Wholesalers have received notice of an advance in the price of sugar of ten cents per hundred pounds. Such are the beauties of a high protective tariff on sugar for the benefit of the beet sugar manufacturer.

Fen Batty left for the Dalles, Oregon last week, and returned home Tuesday. He reports crop prospects in that country pretty well up to the eastern Oregon average, but not a marker on Camas Prairie.

E. McBroom, formerly the editor of this paper, arrived in the city the last of the week and will remain for a short time looking after business matters. He is associated with the firm of Potter & Co., of Portland, in the lumber business.

Col. Allan Miller, Commissioner of immigration, passed through this city early in the week in company with a member of the state food commission who is on a trip in this part of the state to secure samples of the foods being offered for sale by the retail trade.

Harry Wallis returned Sunday from the south fork of the Clearwater where he had gone to serve certain legal papers. He travelled some 228 miles in making the trip and reports crops and vegetation much more advanced in the Clearwater country than it is here.

There was a family gathering at the home of Grandma Swarts in Fairview last Sunday, the occasion being the last gathering of the family prior to the final departure of Grandma from farm home for permanent residence in Grangeville. In addition to the Gelbach and Long families, Mrs. A. F. Parer was present.

A fine rain fell Sunday night and Monday morning which was worth thousands of dollars to our farmers. It was not needed, but was none the less grateful, and will add fully ten bushels per acre to the already promised large yield of fall grain, besides helping along the timothy and spring grain.

Oliver Stewart, who ranches eight miles west of town, was a Saturday visitor. He has thirty-five acres of barley on his ranch he states that it will make an average yield of from eighty-five to one-hundred bushels to the acre. He states crops generally were never better than they are this season.

Len Ramsdell, who ranches west of town, was a caller at this office while in town Saturday. Mr. Ramsdell has some two hundred head of hogs he is feeding this summer and in speaking of the breed best adapted to this country spoke of the Duroc Jersey as his idea of the best mortgage raiser. He says the Duroc is the coming hog of the country.

THE WHOLESOME CRESCENT

Egg-Phosphate

BAKING POWDER
HIGH IN LEAVENING POWER, WHOLESOME, and "money back" guarantee with each can. 25c per pound.

Jerome Crispin was out last Saturday from his cattle ranch on the south fork of Clearwater.

John Wilson, who ranches six miles southwest of the city, made this office a pleasant call this morning.

Elias Kilen of the Grangeville Savings and Trust Co., left Monday for Spokane, where, we are reliably informed, he will be united in marriage to Miss Mary Johnson, of Lakefield, Minn. Our informant states the wedding will be solemnized on Sunday next.

L. Sharp of Lucile was in town the first of the week on business. He says business has been somewhat backward down there of late due to there being no ferry in.

The Whitebird Mercantile Co., is building a ferry there to take the place of the one that went out early in June, and the difficulty will soon be overcome.

Instead of the usual morning services at the Baptist church next Sunday the services will be held in the Nurses Grove south of town. S. S. 10 A. M., preaching at 11 A. M., 2 P. M. service conducted by the young people. In the evening at the church at 8 p. m., preaching. Those attending the grove meeting are requested to bring basket dinners. Every body invited.

Bank Meeting.
The semi-annual meeting of the directors of the Bank of Camas Prairie was held at the parlors of the bank Friday of last week. President F. W. Kettner, Vice-President A. Freidenrich of Portland, and the other members of the board of directors were present. The affairs of the bank were found to be in highly satisfactory condition and a semi-annual dividend of six per cent was declared. A sum amounting to over $3,000 of the earnings was carried over to the undivided profits. The bank was established in 1892 and each year of its existence has shown a substantial increase in business. The stock of the institution is held by a class of men who are continually working to build up the city and whose every effort is for the care and benefit of its customers. All the old officers were elected and the same careful management will look after the welfare of the bank as heretofore.

Returns From Hump.
Packer McDaniels came out Saturday from the Buffalo Hump country where he had been with a load of supplies for the Jumbo and Crackerjack. He left Stites July Fourth and made the trip in pretty good time. He reports much snow in the Hump country still remaining and says it will probably not go off before the first of August. The Jumbo is working thirty-five men and the big 24 stamp mill is being constantly operated. Some trouble with breaking ore chutes has delayed matters some but the stamp mill was to begin operations Monday. On his way out McDaniels repaired the Buffalo Hump telephone line and found the trouble was all between here and a point a quarter of a mile out of town. The Pacific States Co., has agreed to repair the trouble on this end at once and communications into the Hump will soon be possible.

Cherries are Fine.
A. E. Alexander brought to this office this morning a branch about eight inches long from one of his cherry trees that contained by actual count fifty-one cherries equal to anything from the famous Clarkston fruit belt. They were of the Queen Ann variety and Mr. Alexander tells us the trees are loaded down with fruit as good as that brought to the office. This is not an exceptional instance as reports from other points on the prairie are of the same character. When it comes to fruit raising we are strictly in it and can show farm after farm where the fruit cannot be excelled. No irrigation, either.

For Sale.
One Deering push Binder-head, 12 foot cut, as good as new, run only 16 days, in excellent repair. Will be sold at heavy sacrifice. Can be seen at Ford & Co's at Westlake. A snap for some farmer needing a cutting machine.

M. M. Walsh, Westlake, Idaho.

Want New Road.

A petition for the opening of a county road along the north line of school section 16, northeast of town, has been presented to the county board, and will no doubt be allowed. The road starts from the brick yard and runs along the north line of the school section, taking a strip of land from Louis Kaufman, Wick Bros., and the Parker and Batty land, and then connecting with the intersection of other county roads running north, south and east. The opening of the new road will benefit the settlers living northeast by shortening the distance to town nearly three quarters of a mile.

Building Mighty Good Road.

The enterprising settlers residing along the foothills and in the timber south of town are putting in a whole lot of good donation work upon the road south of Meadow street, and promise to have it in such shape pretty soon, that with a trip or two of the steam roller, it will become a nice pleasure drive for townfolks, as well as greatly facilitating the hauling of cordwood and other produce from that section. The work is being done by supervisor Chris Schmadeka. That road has long been in need of work, considering the amount of travel and wood hauled over it.

Tree Fell On Him.

Jessie Heitter, an employe of the Root Mill, met with a very serious accident Saturday last and as a result will be laid up for some time. Some companions were felling a tree and Heitter was walking along the side of it unnoticed, when the tree fell striking him across the shoulders and knocking him senseless. He did not regain consciousness for fully an hour. Dr. Campbell was called and administered relief to the patient, who was severely lacerated but had no bones broken.

Trip in the Mountains.

Messrs. R. Cote and John Jack and Misses Ella Moore and Elsie Snell, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jones, left this week for a mountain trip of a month to six weeks' duration. They will visit Elk City, Buffalo Hump, Florence, Resort, and expect to spend some time at the Payette lakes. The journey as planned will cover a distance of four or five hundred miles and is thought the most beautiful country in the state, being very broken and picturesque.

Breaks Arm.

James Aram had an arm broken and was more or less severely bruised last week by being thrown from a horse while driving cattle to Stites. It seems he was taking quiet a bunch of cattle to the railway at that point and while attempting to drive them across Cottonwood creek experienced some difficulty, whirling his cayuse around to head some of the most stubborn critters off, it stepped in a squirrel hole and threw him, fracturing his arm and shaking him up considerable.

Proctor Ranch Sold.

A. F. Parker reports the sale of the John Proctor meadow of 400 acres back of Mt. Idaho to Reuben Overman, one of the thrifty sons of Cyrus Overman. This sale will put the Overman family at the head of the list as the largest owners of Camas Prairie real estate. This is Mr. Parker's second large sale this season, he having previously made the sale of the Matthiesen farm of 520 acres south of Cottonwood.

Eagan's Hearing July 29.

A complaint has been filed against Thomas Eagan, the man who did the shooting near Cottonwood some weeks ago, by county Attorney Griffith charging him with assault with intent to commit murder. He was up before Judge Vineyard Wednesday of this week and his preliminary examination was continued to Monday, July 29.

LIMBER NECK.

How This Bane of the Poultry Yard May Frequently Be Cured.
Limber neck is the result of ptomaine poisoning of some kind, says the Feather. Decayed meat full of maggots is the usual cause. Some claim that the live maggot moving about in the crop so irritate it as to communicate through the nerves to the brain and cause the peculiar twist of the neck. No matter what the real cause may be, whether it is the meat or the maggot, the ptomaine poison taken into the system paralyzes the brain and causes the trouble. The surest relief from this is by mixing a tablespoonful of turpentine in an equal amount of warm water and pouring the same into the crop. Follow this with warm water until the crop is nearly filled. Take the fowl up by the feet, head down, and gently work the entire contents of the crop into a box partially filled with earth. The reason for using the box of earth is so that the refuse of the crop may be buried deep away from any possibility of other fowls or dogs consuming it. Wash the crop out in this way two or three times if necessary. When thoroughly cleansed, administer a tablespoonful of warm castor oil and leave the fowl in a quiet, cool place by itself to recover. It is always best to scrupulously clean. If it is unsafe to leave houses open at night, cover windows and door frame with poultry netting. While it may not be as harmful as some suppose to crowd grown fowls in cold weather, it is certainly a grave mistake to crowd growing fowls. By disposing of the culls and all hens over two years old there will be more room for the pullets. If there be not enough room then and one is unable to build another house, cull again more closely. It is much better to do this than to have a lot of runty, undeveloped pullets eating food and laying no eggs all winter. No amount of care will ever make a stunted fowl a paying proposition.
