SERIOUS CONDITIONS IN CHICAGO STRIKE

Company Trying to Operate Its Lines With Aid of the Police, While Others Give Aid to the Strikers

(Special Telegram to Evening Teller.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The street car strike is growing hourly more serious. Five trains of fifteen policemen followed by patrol wagons loaded with officers not armed with guns left the Wentworth avenue barns this morning and other policemen are stationed along the tracks to hold the crowds of strikers back.

The strikers are content with jeering the carmen and have as yet attempted no violence.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—At noon the stationery firemen's union called a meeting for this evening and makes no secret of its desire to strike in sympathy with the carmen and it is probable that the car companies will be without power before tomorrow morning. The labor unions are also trying to cripple the company in other directions. Steps are taken today to make a formal protest before the transportation committee of the city council against the renewal of the Chicago city railway's franchise.

The cars ran through the hard section of the city from Thirty-ninth street to Wentworth avenue under extra guards. A hundred and fifty policemen had been on duty there since daylight and an immense mob had gathered but feared the determination and front of the blue coats were kept down. Two teamsters started to blockade and were promptly arrested. The police within the loop formed an almost solid line on each side of the tracks. Business was suspended and the noise was terrific but no violence was offered. Any one attempting to break through the line will promptly be clubbed. In addition to the eight hundred policemen guarding the tracks big squads were held in reserve and the cars successfully made the round trip.

At 12:30 another string of street cars heavily guarded started, the police in the meantime dispersing all the crowds enroute including the down town districts.

WILL CONSIDER BOAT QUESTION

Commercial Club to Meet Tonight and May Take Favorable Action

Much activity was shown today in the matter of the new boat proposition and since the statement by members of the Eureka company and the boat company to the effect that they would contribute $10,000 and possibly more, towards the construction of a new steamboat to ply on the upper Snake river, a spirit of progressiveness has been shown that is sure to warrant the early construction of a boat that will be larger, better and more stable than the lost Imnaha.

A special meeting of the Commercial club has been called for tonight, at their club rooms for the purpose of taking some favorable action in relation to a new boat.

ROOSEVELT GIVES OFFICIAL RECOGNITION

He Receives Varrilla and Accepts His Credentials as Representative of the New Republic of Panama

(Special Telegram to Evening Teller.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The formal recognition of the republic of Panama occurred this morning when President Roosevelt received Minister Varrilla and accepted his credentials. The usual exchange of speeches was made and Varrilla was introduced by Secretary Hay.

The president's response to Varrilla after expressing his gratification at the receipt of his credentials, took up the question of recognition and said that this government had taken cognizance of the act of the ancient territory of Panama in reasserting its right to self control and seeing in the recent events in the isthmus an unopposed expression of the will of the people of Panama and confirmation of their declaration of independence by the establishment of a defacto government republican in form and able to discharge the obligations and to exercise sovereignty. The United States therefore entered into relations with the new republic. It is fitting that we should be first to reach out the hand of fellowship. I feel that I express the wish of my countrymen in assuring you and through you the people of the republic of Panama our earnest desire and hope that stability and prosperity shall attend the new state and that in harmony with the United States you may be the providential instrument of untold benefit to the civilized world through opening the highway of universal commerce across the exceptionally favored territory.

MAY REVOKE STATE DIPLOMAS

Board of Education Rules County Superintendents Have the Right

Miss Bernice McCoy, county school superintendent has returned from Pendleton where she met Miss May Scott, state superintendent, who took in charge the blind girl which Miss McCoy committed to the state school for the blind at Vancouver.

Miss McCoy has received a communication from Miss Scott in reference to the rule regarding the revocation of state certificates and diplomas by county superintendents.

Miss Scott advises that the board of education on November 2 held that the same rule applying to the revocation of county certificates applies to state certificates and diplomas as well. The question has arisen in other counties as to whether a county superintendent had the right to revoke state certificates and diplomas and the decision just rendered confirms the rule in both cases.

An interesting decision of the court of appeals is handed us by Miss Scott in which the appellate court finds that the board of education has a right to make any rule it may see fit.

The point at issue was the forfeiting of the position of a teacher when she became married. The lower court contended that the board of education had a right to make a rule governing the forfeiture of a position. The case was appealed to the supreme court and reversed. The appellate court confirmed the decision of the lower court. Hereafter the fee for issuing state certificates will be $5 and life diplomas will be $10.

Miss McCoy expects to leave the city the week following Thanksgiving and will make her headquarters at Nezperce for two weeks. From that point she will visit the schools in that section of the country.

He arraigned the attitude of the president in the Panama matter, saying that the constitutional prerogative of the house had been violated by the president in declaring war with Colombia.
