WEDDINGS GALORE.

EIGHT HEARTS ARE NOW HAPPY.

Cupid Makes an Extra Effort During the Holidays.

Four weddings took place during the holidays in which the following well known Montpelier people took part:

ANDERSON—SOUTHWORTH.

On Christmas day Charles T. Anderson of this city, and Miss May Southworth of Dingle, were united in marriage by Bishop Clark.

The groom is the right hand man of Manager Raston in Riter Bros. Drug Co., and possesses all the qualifications that are necessary to make a congenial, loving husband.

The bride is the charming daughter of Chet Southworth and has a large circle of friends in this city as well as at Dingle, her former home.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will live in the Holland residence uptown.

PRICE—BOEHME.

On the same day, too, Bishop Clark united Albert T. Price and Miss Frieda Boehme, both of Thomas' Fork, but both well known in Montpelier.

The groom is the son of Alfred Price, and is one of the solid young men of Thomas' Fork.

The bride is highly esteemed by all who know her in this city and at her home.

They will live on Mr. Price's fine ranch on Thomas' Fork.

DANKS—LEMM.

For a third time on Christmas evening Bishop Clark was called into requisition, this time to marry Wm. H. Danks and Miss Beckie Lemm.

Both of the young people have hosts of friends, which attest to their popularity the esteem in which they held.

They will live in Kemmerer where Mr. Danks is at present employed.

UNDERWOOD—PETERSON.

On Christmas day, in Pocatello, Logan Underwood and Miss Annie Peterson were united in wedlock, in the presence of invited friends.

Mr. Underwood has for a long time been a firm man on the Short Line and is one of the company's most trusted employees. He is popular with everyone, and innumerable friends along the road.

The bride will be remembered as the attractive little lady, who for a long time made her home with Mrs. Mike Malone. She is a member of the Rebekah lodge of this city, and numbers her friends by the score.

They will reside in this city, for a while at least.

To all of the above the EXAMINER force extends its congratulations, and trusts that no cause for regret will ever mar their married bliss.

Reading Circle.

The Gem of the Mountain club met at the home of Mrs. Hull Wednesday Dec. 22. First Vice-President Mrs. Layng presiding. Being Christmas week only nine members were present.

Mrs. Robertson one of the readers was the only one on the program present, so the time was spent in reading from "Seven Oaks."

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Hunter Wednesday, Jan. 5.

Death of Mrs. Dalrymple.

Sunday afternoon the many friends of Mrs. H. H. Dalrymple, Sr., were shocked to hear that she had suddenly and without the slightest warning, passed to the great beyond.

She was visiting her daughter, Miss Deborah, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Smith, and after partaking of a hearty meal and remarking how well she felt, went into a bedroom to lie down. Her daughter went once or twice to see how her mother was resting, and found her apparently asleep. Finally after some time she undertook to arouse her, and to the young lady's surprise and great sorrow, found the aged lady dead, having passed away presumably shortly after lying down. Her death was painless and peaceful.

The deceased was born 69 years ago last October. In 1859 she was married to Mr. Dalrymple, and they came to Utah shortly afterward. In 1864 they moved to Paris, Idaho, and subsequently came to Preston, (Wardboro) where she has since lived. Since last spring she has not been as well as her family had wished to see her, but at the time of her death was feeling better than usual.

One brother, Mr. W. Williams, and a sister, Mrs. McFadden, both of Council Bluffs, Iowa, survive her. Mr. Williams, fortunately, is visiting in this city at present. She leaves two sons, Henry and Mark, and six daughters, Mrs. Knutti, Mrs. Perkins, and Misses Addie, Deborah, Laura and Nora. Two grandchildren have resided with her since her oldest daughter died.

The EXAMINER but expresses the feelings of all, in saying that the sympathy of Montpelier and the valley goes out to the afflicted family.

The funeral took place yesterday at 11 o'clock from the L. D. S. meeting house.

Why Not Make Your Own Sugar.

It may be of interest to the farmers to know that a Michigan farmer has demonstrated sugar can be manufactured from beets without any machinery. He simply grated the beets, pressed out the juice with a cider press and boiled it as you would boil the sap out of sugar maple. During the process of boiling, he says the syrup had the flavor of the beet, but when sugared off, it had the appearance and much the same flavor of maple sugar. From seventy pounds of beets he got six pounds of sugar. It has been supposed heretofore that sugar couldn't be profitably made from beets without costly and extensive machinery, but this experiment opens a broad field for experiment and invention. It seems more than probable that the progressive farmer of the coast where sugar beets grow to perfection will soon manufacture, not only the sugar for family use, but a large amount of raw sugar to sell to the refiners. Instead of hauling tons and tons of the beets to the distant factory, he will manufacture the sugar at home, feeding the waste to his stock, enriching his land and adding largely to his profits. This is a matter worth investigating.—Ontario News.

A Change.

The dissolution notice of the firm of Burgoyne & Brennan appears in to-day's EXAMINER. Mr. Burgoyne, whose health has not been good for some time, retires from the partnership. Mr. Brennan, who becomes sole owner, has managed the business from its inception seven years ago. He has built up a trade extending all over Southeastern Idaho and Western Wyoming. Under the new order of things we expect to see this trade held and increased whenever there is an opportunity for expansion. The firm has long been looked upon as one of the strongest in Bear Lake, and Mr. Brennan will carry this strength into the change. Mr. Burgoyne, in retiring, is following the plan mapped out by him some time ago, to place his business in such shape as to enable him to travel during the winter months in California where his health has always been better than in Bear Lake valley. The EXAMINER wishes Mr. Brennan unlimited success in his undertaking. F. L. Cruikshank and Leslie Gee will retain their positions in the store.

Some Boss.

"Superintendent of Indian Schools Dr. W. D. Hollman is of the small number of people who believe in education as an influence for good upon the Indians. He says that whenever there has been marked progress of civilization on a reservation, he has been able to trace it to the efforts of the returned students, in spite of the fact that their work is opposed by innumerable obstacles. Congress need hardly go further for an argument in support of its Indian policy, which should not be allowed to depart from the dictates of humanity."—Lewiston Tribune.

The above concerning the education of Indians is true, except that educating an Indian is time and money spent for nothing, if the aforesaid noble(?) red man goes back to his tribe. The writer has known Indians who as children had learned to read and write quite well, but within a year or so after going back to their tribal relations, would not admit that they could understand printed or written words. They simply refuse to use their learning at all, and in time forget it.

No Silver in Dis'n.

Senator Shoup recently showed the depth of his silver feeling when he made use of the following in an interview:

"I have heard nothing whatever of any determination on the part of any western senators to leave the party. For one I do not believe there is any truth in it. I am still a republican, just as I was at the St. Louis convention, and I expect to remain. I am still a strong bimetalist and continue to have confidence that the republican administration will do much for bimetalism."

"How about Secretary Gage?" the senator was asked.

"Well, there are some of his views with which we of the west are not agreed, but he is not the president."

Another Shoot.

On Saturday next, Jan. 1st, there will be another shooting contest in Montpelier on the same grounds as the last one was held on.

The managers have secured two additional traps for clay pigeons and this will lend interest to the shoot.

A dozen or more turkeys and a large number of chickens will also be put up.

The entrance fee will be the same as before and every one is invited to come and take part.

Church Services.

CATHOLIC CHURCH.

There will be services in the morning at 10:30 New Year's day at the Catholic church. Sunday services as usual by Rev. Hendrickx, pastor.
