Says the Silver City Avalanche: "You can tell the successful man by looking at his wife's fruit jars in the closet; you can tell a dry goods box statesman by the patches on his pants; you can tell a slouchy woman by the shoe buttons and hat; you can tell the poison serpent by the bluntness of his tail; but the easiest of all you can pick out the enterprising merchants of the town by looking at the home paper. This is not divine revelation, but it is business gospel and truth."

A New Potato.

A phenomenal growth of potatoes is being displayed at Spotswood & Veatch's office in Moscow. The growth consists of several large potato vines or bushes, on which there are scores of potatoes ranging in size from a bird's egg to a man's fist. The potatoes grow entirely on the bush above instead of under ground. At nearly every joint there is a potato, and the bushes being large and healthy, some have nearly 100 potatoes. They grew a mile and a half south of town and were brought in by Geo. Hill.—Moscow Times.

Scarlet Fever

Scarlet fever is reported in the homes of Wm. Roberts and Mrs. Clark. Yellow flags have been displayed at these places and a strict quarantine will be enforced, in the hope that the disease will be kept from spreading.

Mr. Roberts lives on 9th street, where he has just moved, and Mrs. Clark resides with her mother Mrs. Hammond, on 11th street.

To insure the prevention of the spread of this disease everyone is cautioned not to disregard the quarantine regulations. Dr. Hoover says any infraction of these rules will be vigorously prosecuted under the law.

The new Game Law

The following is in substance, some of the provisions of the game law in Idaho, as regards the killing of game:

It is unlawful to kill, snare or trap deer, antelope, mountain sheep or goat between January 1st and September 1st of each year.

It is unlawful to kill elk except between September 1st and December 1st of each year.

It is unlawful to buy or sell any of the hides of the above named animals.

It is unlawful to hunt any deer, elk, antelope, etc., with dogs, or have dogs for this purpose.

The penalty for violating any of these provisions is a fine from $50 to $100, and each animal found is a separate offense.

The open season for chickens, grouse, fool hens and similar game closes December 1st. For ducks and geese the season closes March 1st.

One half of all fines go to the school fund of the County.

These are the names of the Bear Lake boys who have helped to make Idaho's name famous in the army of Uncle Sam in the Philippines.

These are some of the boys, whom a general, in watching the Idaho regiment make a charge, said: "Let them go! All hell won't stop them."

After being feted and honored all the way from San Francisco these boys, except Mr. Smith and

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Mr. Callett, who arrived Monday stepped from No. 2 Saturday morning, right into the arms of hundreds of friends from all over the valley, who had been impatiently waiting for the train from the early hours of morning. The blowing of whistles announced their arrival at the depot. As soon as the first greeting was had, an improvised procession headed by the boys brigade of the Presbyterian church and Judge Underwood with a handsome silk flag, started up the street for the Hotel Burgoyne, where Mayors Redman of this city and Shepherd of Paris, had provided breakfast. After breakfast the boys were kept busy shaking hands with hundreds of friends and admirers.

Along in the morning Messrs. Rich and Wixom were taken in hand by their friends and started for home, where they were anxious to be as quickly as possible.

A big celebration was intended at Paris, but owing to the quarantine it had to be curtailed greatly. However, Mr. Rich received a royal welcome there, as did Mr. Wixom at his home in Liberty.

Friday in Pocatello a big reception was given the boys and for 24 hours merry-making was the order. Many people from here went down Friday after learning where the boys were. Judge Rich advanced the railroad fares from Pocatello to this point. A subscription was taken up here to reimburse the judge, at least partly for his generosity.

The fact that Montpelier had arranged for no public reception on the boys arrival is to be regretted, though the boys cannot help but see that their home coming was none the less joyful. Not until Friday morning was it definitely known whether the boys from Bear Lake would come to Pocatello or stop at Boise, and this deterred many from going to Pocatello, who had made all arrangements for the trip.

In giving credit all around the Short Lines should not be overlooked. They made a two-third of one fare rate for all who wished to go to Pocatello from here.

Flags were much in evidence in Montpelier on Saturday morning. Jas. Bryan was principal gunner for the occasion and boomed forth a salute from anvil as the train bearing the soldiers came thundering in. The whistles on the engines in the yard were utilized to their full extent.

Idaho is happy. Nearly all of her soldier boys are again at home.

An incident occurred at Pocatello if reports are true Friday that the Tribune of that city ought to make a note of. When the parade was arranged and all ready to start, the boys of Co., G., Pocatello company called the committee to one side, and told them that if Captain Whittington was to march in the parade they would step out. If the company was to march the captain would half to step out. No amount of argument or coaxing would change the boys' resolution, so the captain had to get out. The Tribune has persistently censured Gov. Steunenberg for not advancing Whittington to a lieutenant-colonelship. It would seem, in the light of the incident at Pocatello, that the governor knew what he was doing, and did not want to run any chances on demoralizing the efficiency of the regiment by making a change that would be so unpopular.

The people of Paris, headed by Mayor Shepherd, and Liberty, were here Saturday in large numbers, to welcome the soldier boys.

"Excuse us boys, we must go out to the old home now," said James Jensen, as he and his brother got into a carriage, shortly after their arrival Saturday morning, and started for the old homestead about a mile from town. The sentiment expressed shows the kind of stuff American boys are made of. Through all their welcoming they never once lost sight of the home they were reared in, and they were anxious to see it and the old folks therein. The other boys were as keenly anxious to get to their old homes and lost no time in making ready for the journey.

If all the soldier boys of Uncle Sam's army have the magnificent bearing shown by the Bear Lake volunteers, they must have made an imposing spectacle. James and Hyrum Jensen, both six-footers, were said to be the finest looking soldiers in the Idaho regiment. Messrs. Rich, Wixom, Smith and Collett were fine looking soldier boys, too. And the beauty about them all is, that they can fight as well.
