"In the Good Old Days."

Here are a few extracts from a new book entitled, "The Good Old Days," by Charles O. Bell, which has just issued:

How would you like to return to "The Good Old Days" before the bill collector was thrned loose upon an innocent unsuspecting and unprotected public?

Before a person knew that he had concealed within his anatomy that dreadful and worthless piece of machinery known as the vermiform appendix?

When every doctor had his saddle bags with him, and, no matter what ailed you, gave you calomel and quinine?

Before we were informed that countless death-dealing microbes lurk in everything, from love's first honeyed kiss to a hunk of Limburger cheese?

When an invitation to a wedding didn't have to be responded to with a $17 cut glass punch bowl or a $23 chafing dish?

When a girl could make up her bed and sweep up her room without having nervous prostration?

When a boy could split a little kindling and carry in an armful of wood without having a pain in his side or the headache?

In the good old days if you had a pinscratch or a sore toe it was not deemed essential to send for three doctors and two trained nurses and sterilize everything on the place from he baby's rattle to the bathroom outfit.

In the good old days girls wore sunbonnets that were as sweet and simple as they were inexpensive. I can explain the mysteries of the aurora borealis; I can compute the return of Halley's comet and explain the gymnastic stunts performed by its evanescent tail, but I cannot tell you why a young woman, married or single, or even a woman whose age is enshrouded in a halo of mystery, will gad about the streets, take a horseback or auto ride in all sorts of weather with nothing on her head but a collection of store hair; while that same maiden or matron will attend church wearing a hat so large that a full-grown man has to stand on the back of the bench to see the preacher. Neither can I explain why she will appear on the streets with her sleeves rolled above the elbows as if she had just been washing dishes and forgot to roll them down, while the same day she will attend a pink tea, nobody present but women, with gloves on as long as a parasol handle.

In the good old days mother made cherry preserves, peach preserves, pear preserves, quince preserves, plum butter, apple butter, peach marmalade, blackberry jam, nine kinds of jelly and seven varieties of sweet pickles, sour pickles and cats-up. Nowadays a loving wire hurries home from the whist club and sets before her hungry husband an attractive layout consisting of baker's bread, canned salmon, a factory-made pie and some sliced bananas or dried brunes.

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has made it a favorite everywhere. It can always be depended upon. For Sale by Modern Drug Co.

Big Wild West Show Next Monday

Something absolutely new, something never before carried with a wild west show is but one of the many features of that most noted of all American amusement enterprises, Kit Carson's Buffalo Ranch Wild West. We refer to the excellent and most complete Menagerie of trained wild animals in existence today. Carried simply as an added feature for your inspection and no extra charge for viewing same. During the course of the performance animal acts of all description are presented for your approval. This with the fancy riding, roping and other traits of expert horsemanship, displayed by cowboys, Cowgirls, Cossacks and Mexican Vanqueros constitutes but part of the two hours of solid amusement. A dozen clowns are continually at play and it will be a hard matter to stop watching the antics long enough to view some of the imported European artists in novelty acts of every description. The performance ends with the superb, spectacular, historical fantasy, "Battle of Wounded Knee" in which over two hundred Indians, Soldiers, Trappers, Cowboys and Scouts take active part. Many of the Indians were actually present at this famous battle and it is reproduced exactly as they describe it.

The two mile parade will pass on the main thoroughfares and a grand free exhibition takes place immediately after on the show grounds. Only two performances in Montpelier on Monday June 5.

Paint your old buggy for $1. Riter Bros. Drug Co. will tell you how to do it.

The Living Present.

"DECORATION DAY" has passed and we are glad to know that its hallowed memories were fittingly observed by the patriotic citizens of Montpelier. From the dead we turn our eyes to the LIVING PRESENT, we are thankful that we live in a country at peace with the world and at peace with itself.

Did you ever stop to think that the better DRESSED you are the better opinion you have of yourself and the better opinion you have of yourself the more PATRIOTIC you are? Coming right down to the point do you know of ANY make of clothing that will give you more that look of independence and respectability than a SOPHOMORE SUIT?

Hats and Shoes

As fit companions to a Sophomore Suit, buy a Stetson or Ensign Hat, a Douglas, a Crawford or a Hanan Shoe, then you will be so immaculately dressed that the finger of derision will not be pointing towards you.

The Roman Emperors with all their luxuries never had any thing equal to the shower bath of today. That one reason you are lucky to live in this age.

If You Haven't a Shower Bath in your house you are missing something Caesar would have given a fortune for. Better have us put one in. It will be worth more than it cost to you.
